The course assumes no previous programming experience and does not focus on any one particular language. The course introduces programming concepts such as program structure, variables, decision structures, loops, arrays, methods, and enforces good style and logical thinking.

Course Objective:

Student Learning Outcomes:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of pseudo code by designing applications requiring the use of variables, conditional statements, loops, arrays, and files.
2. Demonstrate an understanding of flow-charting by designing applications requiring the use of variables, conditional statements, loops, arrays, and files.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of structured programming techniques by designing an application using this technique.
4. Demonstrate an understanding of object oriented techniques by designing an application using this technique.
5. Students will develop basic skills using CASE tools by implementing their flow charts in MS Visio.

Required Reading and Textbook(s):

Required Text: Starting Out with Python, 4th ed. Tony Gaddis. Pearson Education. ISBN: 978-0134444321

Supplementary Material: The course textbook will be supplemented with other materials including research papers readings, handouts, oral presentations, industry articles, videos, research paper readings, case studies, power point presentations etc.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Reading Assignments: All assigned chapters will be used as basis for class and/or canvas discussions. Students are expected to study the assigned readings before each class session.

Attendance/Participation Policy: Class attendance is required. The policy as officially stated by the University will be enforced. Students are expected to make arrangements with the instructor before missing a series of classes due to job requirements. Students are responsible for any material missed during an absence. In all cases, the responsibility remains with the students to meet/obtain all course requirements/changes. Regular course progress is expected. It is each student’s responsibility to review the canvas and syllabus for the latest information.

Syllabus Quiz: There will be one syllabus quiz worth 10 points in the first week.

Assignments: There will be 4 assignments. Each assignment is worth 100 points. Therefore, 4 assignments are worth 400 points. All assignment related files will be zipped prior to submission to canvas – any unzipped assignments will not be accepted. If there are multiple parts, submit all parts in a SINGLE zip file. I would suggest you create a folder for each part, and then you can zip that entire folder at once.

Midterms: This course has two midterm examinations. Each is worth 200 points. Exams are held in classroom. Makeup exams will be given ONLY when arrangements have been made PRIOR to the class meeting.

Final Exam: This course also has a final examination. It is worth 300 points. Final exam will be held in classroom.

Team Project: There will be one term project where student teams will work as a team to work on a robot project. Students can self-select into teams of 2. This is worth 300 points. Projects turned in after due date are considered late. 10 points will be deducted for each hour the project is late. Special circumstances need to be discussed with the instructor ahead of time when possible.

Grading: Grades are not given; the student earns them. Rubrics are employed whenever possible to assure that the grading of an individual assignment is consistent. There are always disagreements about the grade given to a work product and a student's expectation; students are encouraged to make sound well-reasoned arguments as to why they should receive more points. Arguments that are not well-reasoned include:

- I need a better grade because I am on probation.
- I come from a good family.
- I will be deported.
- I will lose my scholarship.
- I think it is an A paper

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS:

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at A&M-Central Texas, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Counseling Services (254-501-5956) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall.

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].

foreseeable conflicts with due dates (e.g., interviews, participation in sport activities, religious observances ...) must be brought to Prof. Eruysal's attention before the due date. You can have makeup ONLY when arrangements have been made PRIOR to the expiry date/time of exam.
