Course Description: This course examines social inequality and categories of difference from a sociological perspective. Students will interrogate social difference and stratification on the basis of race/ethnicity, class, gender, religion, and sexuality by examining how these categories are constructed, institutionalized, and experienced. This course will also focus on economic and labor-based inequality through the lens of contemporary global processes.

Course objectives:

- Students will gain social, cultural, and global perspectives in thinking about human difference and inequalities.
- Students will develop critical thinking skills by using theory to draw connections between domestic and international social inequalities.
- Students will be able to place contemporary patterns of social inequality in a historical context.
- By the conclusion of the course, students will be able to identify mechanisms and processes in contemporary life that contribute to patterns of inequality both across the U.S. and between the U.S. and other countries.

Mode of instruction and course access: This course is 100% online and uses the A&M-Central Texas Canvas Learning Management System [<https://tamuct.instructure.com>].

CANVAS is where you will find 100% of the information related to this course, including discussions, quizzes, and exams. Monitor CANVAS for announcements every day, not just on the days things are due/assigned, since due dates occasionally may change due to unforeseen circumstances (ex: network outage).

Contacting your professor:

The best way to contact me is through email (roslyn.schoen@tamuct.edu). I check email every day during the week and often on the weekends as well. I do not respond to email after 9 PM; if you email in the middle of the night, please look for my response the following day. I am on campus during my office hours should you need to talk to me in person. Also, the best way to refer to your professor in email or in person is as “Professor Schoen” or “Dr. Schoen,” pronounced SHANE.

Course requirements:

Below is a description of the five main activities for this online course. They include (1) reading assignments, (2) journal reflections, (3) participation on the course discussion board, (4) taking online quizzes, and (5) one final exam.

You will notice that most of your grade is based on weekly work, which means it is imperative that you keep up with readings and weekly assignments. Students who ignore the weekly assignments and attempt to “catch up” later in the semester have a very difficult time passing the course.

1. Reading assignments and other materials: Readings for the course are listed in the schedule below. Students should complete the weekly readings before attempting to complete any assignment, including discussion boards. Additional readings will be available online in the course E-Reserves folder. E-Reserve readings are marked on the course schedule as “eRes” readings and are just as important as the readings from your book. *Our E-Reserve password is: unequal (all lower case)

I may also provide you with links to news articles or video clips in the weekly modules. Please be sure to look at all the supplemental items I post, as they are a part of our learning materials for the course. Quizzes and your final exam may include questions on any of the readings, supplemental videos, and news articles.

2. Journal reflections: In order to reflect on course materials in a space that is separate from peer discussions, students will compose journal entries that reflect on the weekly topic. These journals will be private (i.e. can only be viewed by the student and instructor) and are your chance to analyze and reflect on the readings for the week.

Journals should be approximately 500-900 words and should demonstrate that you have completed the readings and have engaged in thoughtful consideration of the themes contained within. Journals are due on Sunday at 11:59 PM CST. Each journal is worth 20 points, for a total of 80 points or 16% of your grade.

3. Discussion Boards: Students will participate on our course discussion board, with graded discussion taking place during 6 of the 16 weeks this semester. Participation on graded discussion boards is imperative and will constitute 32% of your grade, or a total of 160 points. Your primary/initial postings will address my weekly discussion question(s) and should be made by midnight (11:59 PM CST) each Thursday. Once several initial posts have been made, you will move on by reading and responding to at least two of your peers' primary posts. Response posts commenting and reflecting upon the comments of your peers should be made by midnight (11:59 PM CST) each Sunday. Late posts will not receive credit.

A. Initial, Primary Response (10 pts)—due Thursdays at 11:59 PM CST

Students are expected to read the assigned materials prior to responding to discussion threads. The student should devote the first part of the week to reading and understanding the assigned reading. Note taking and outlining is recommended. You should be ready toward the middle of the week (Wednesday) to post your primary response.

Early in the week (usually on Tuesday), the discussion question(s) will be made available. The student will respond to my question(s) by posting his/her response. This initial, primary response should reflect familiarity with the readings, and should answer the question as completely and thoughtfully as possible. This response should be at least 250 words. A response that is not at least a half page/250 words in length cannot receive full credit. Responses must demonstrate substance beyond the student's agreement with a statement or the mere expression of opinions. The student should support his/her responses in some way with references to the assigned readings or data from another scholarly source.

*A note on outside sources: Bringing in other sources beyond the syllabus is, for the most part, optional. For example, to make a specific discussion point you may find that looking at published US Census data is helpful to illustrate your remark. That is an appropriate use of an outside source, and you should provide a link to help your classmates understand where you found the data. If you are unsure about what constitutes a scholarly source, please see the introduction to scholarly literature on Canvas under "Files."

*A note on quotations: Quotations do not count toward your 250 word minimum; only your own words count. You can assume everyone has done the readings, so there is no need to re-state large portions of the reading material in your posts. Please use quotations sparingly, i.e., only to orient one another to specific passages in the readings (with page #s cited in parentheses). Posts that include mostly quotations or lengthy quotations will not receive credit. This ill-advised practice merely adds clutter to the discussion process and is inappropriate for our purposes.

B. Additional Secondary Response (10 pts each)—due Sundays at 11:59 PM CST*

After another student has made his/her own initial response, the student must make a secondary response to what another student wrote. Do not be eager to post your secondary response. Wait to respond to a post that appears inadequate in some way. This secondary response need not be a half page in length, but it should entail at least a couple of sentences or more. This secondary response should be substantive, and you should attempt to support your response in some way from the readings. Your response is primarily concerned with whether the student responded adequately to my original post. Simply stating that you agree or disagree with someone is unacceptable: you must provide some reasons that are grounded in course materials. Remember that your primary task is not to agree or disagree, but to analyze another's post in a thoughtful, critical (and respectful) way.

- After making three discussion posts for the week, you have complied with the requirements of the course. However, some topics are personally very interesting and so you may elect to continue posting responses to other students and keep discussions alive.
- There are no makeups for discussions, because we have moved on after the deadlines. We have a new topic to discuss, and there is no one left to read your posts and discuss anything with you from the previous week.
- Discussion board interactions should foster a critical evaluation and understanding of course concepts. In the absence of classroom discussion, this type of activity will provide a forum for the expression of ideas among a group of students.

C. My Responses: Dr. Schoen will frequently respond to selected posts and threads. It is the student's responsibility to read her responses to these posts. Sometimes inaccurate information is presented by students that should be corrected, and the purpose of instructor replies is to alert the class to such information. I will occasionally post a summary document to help clarify tricky content. These summaries will be essential for when you study for the final exam. You may ask relevant questions regarding my responses within the discussion to clarify information; however, my intent is to make sure the concept has been covered adequately, not to engage in a debate on the topic.

D. Netiquette: All students are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all messages and threaded discussions. Students may refer to the Student Handbook (located under Student Affairs/Student Conduct on the Texas A&M University-Central Texas website) for further information along these lines.

Please also see the note on appropriate communication located in the Course Information module on Canvas. Inappropriate or offensive messages or remarks may result in expulsion from the course and/or separation from the institution.

Grading Criteria for Discussion Boards: The following rubric outlines how discussion boards will be graded. Note that assessments will focus on the quality of your discussion posts and not the quantity (i.e. I am not looking for "good idea" or "Yeah, I agree."). Quality participation pertains to a student's responding in relevant, meaningful ways, based upon the assigned readings for that week.

Grading Criteria for Discussion Posts	Point Value (30)
Meaningful Ideas Grounded in Course Materials: Post explains issues, provide new perspectives, and meaningfully elaborate on the given topic. Post examines the topic from a perspective that contributes to group understanding. Posts demonstrate that you have read and comprehended the sources by engaging with the assigned materials. Posts should be scholarly, exhibit critical thought, and must be grounded in the empirical and theoretical sources assigned by the instructor. Students should strive to move beyond reliance on cliché, platitudes, or sound-bite ideas common in popular opinion or mainstream rhetoric. (Hint: If you saw it on Facebook, then it's likely neither critical nor scholarly.)	6
Message Coherence: In order to meaningfully engage the topic, posts MUST be cited appropriately and written in clear, grammatically-correct, and properly-spelled English. Students must use complete sentences. Stream-of-consciousness posts will lose points.	4
Response Posts (2): Responses elaborate, contradict, modify, or explain the original message and stay on topic, drawing on the readings and other course materials where appropriate. (Note: Response posts are worth 10 points each. If you only write a primary post, and no responses, the maximum points you can earn for the discussion is 10.)	2 response posts @ 10 pts each

- 4. Quizzes: Students will take 6 quizzes at regular intervals throughout the course. Quizzes are each worth 25 points, or 150 points in total (30% of your grade). Quizzes will cover the readings and other material assigned for the same week. On weeks when you have a quiz, you should first complete the readings and take notes. There will be no discussion board or reflection essay during the weeks you take a quiz so that you can focus on and prepare for the quiz. Prepare and manage your time wisely; you will not be able to re-take a quiz, nor can you re-open a quiz once you have started it. Quizzes will be available from Wednesday afternoon until Sunday at 11:59 PM CST. There are no makeup quizzes. The Sunday night deadline is final.

Note: Questions from the quizzes will help you prepare for the final exam because certain questions will reappear on the final.

5. Final Exam: There will be one comprehensive final exam that covers readings, discussion boards, and any other supplemental material we engaged with during the semester. The format will be a combination of multiple choice, matching, and short essay questions. This exam will be available for three full days: December 11th, 12th, and 13th. You will only be able to open and take the final exam one time. If you have technical problems during an exam please email me immediately so I can try to resolve the problem. The comprehensive final exam is worth 110 points, which is 22% of your grade.

Coursework	Points
Discussion board participation (1 @ 10 points, 5 @ 30 points)	160
Journal reflections (4 @ 20 points)	80
Quizzes (6 @ 25 pts)	150
Final exam	110
Total:	500

Points	Percent	Grade
446 - 500	90 – 100%	A
396 - 445	80 - 89%	B

Posting of Grades:

- All student grades will be posted using the Canvas grade book and students should monitor their grade status through this tool.
- Students should always refer to the syllabus for total points and points possible. The Canvas gradebook tool may misinform students from time to time.
- Grades will usually be posted within 7-10 days of due dates. Some assignments, like our discussion boards, could require more time to read through and give individualized feedback. For such assessments, you may need to be patient.

COURSE AND UNIVERSITY PROCEDURES AND POLICIES

Make-up and late policies. This is a 100% online course. You are responsible for managing your time to make sure you complete all assignments on time. There are no make-ups for discussion posts, journals, or quizzes. In the event that a student experiences an illness, injury, or other emergency that causes them to miss a discussion board or quiz, the student has the right to an alternative assignment to make up missed points. The instructor will choose the alternative assignment. In this case, the student must provide official documentation that includes their name and the dates of the illness or emergency (e.g. doctor's note, police report).

A student may only make up the final exam if there is illness, injury, or another documented excuse. If a student misses an exam due to illness, injury, something out of their control they must 1. Provide documentation (doctor's note, police report, etc), 2. Notify Dr. Schoen as soon as possible of intent to take a make-up exam, and 3. Prepare to take the make-up exam within 1 week of the excused absence. Students who miss an exam with no excused absence will receive a zero for that exam. If the student foresees that s/he will be unable to complete the course, then s/he should drop the course or accept the posted grade.

Drop Policy. If you discover that you need to drop this class, you must go to the Registrar's Office and complete a Drop Request Form. Professors cannot drop students; this is always the responsibility of the student. The Registrar's Office will provide a deadline on the University Calendar for which the form must be returned, completed and signed. Once you return the signed form to the Registrar's Office and wait 24 hours, you must go into Warrior Web and confirm that you are no longer enrolled. If you still show as enrolled, FOLLOW-UP with the Registrar's Office immediately. You are to attend class until the procedure is complete to avoid penalty for absence. Should you miss the deadline or fail to follow the procedure, you will receive an F in the course, which may affect your financial aid.

Academic Integrity. Texas A&M University -Central Texas values the integrity of the academic enterprise and strives for the highest standards of academic conduct. A&M-Central Texas expects its students, faculty, and staff to support the adherence to high standards of personal and scholarly conduct to preserve the honor and integrity of the creative community. Academic integrity is defined as a commitment to honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. Any deviation by students from this expectation may result in a failing grade for the assignment and potentially a failing grade for the course. Academic misconduct is any act that improperly affects a true and honest evaluation of a student's academic performance and includes, but is not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work, plagiarism and improper citation of sources, using another student's work, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. All academic misconduct concerns will be reported to the university's Office of Student Conduct. Ignorance of the university's standards and expectations is never an excuse to act with a lack of integrity. When in doubt on collaboration, citation, or any issue, please contact your instructor before taking a course of action.

Academic Accommodations. At Texas A&M University-Central Texas, we value an inclusive learning environment where every student has an equal chance to succeed and has the right to a barrier free education. The Department of Access and Inclusion is responsible for ensuring that students with a disability receive equal access to the University's programs, services and activities. If you believe you have a disability requiring reasonable accommodations please contact the Department of Access and Inclusion at (254) 501-5831. Any information you provide is private and confidential and will be treated as such.

University Writing Center. Located in 416 Warrior Hall, the University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University-Central Texas is a free workspace open to all TAMUCT students from 11am-6pm Monday-Thursday. Students may arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by visiting the UWC during normal operating hours (both half-hour and hour sessions are available). Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process.

While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the University Writing Center is here to help!

If you have any questions about the University Writing Center, please do not hesitate to contact Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu.

University Library. The University Library provides many services in support of research across campus and at a distance. We offer over 200 electronic databases containing approximately 250,000 eBooks and 82,000 journals, in addition to the 72,000 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. Research guides for each subject taught at TAMUCT are available through our website to help students navigate these resources. On-campus, the library offers technology including cameras, laptops, microphones, webcams, and digital sound recorders.

Research assistance from a librarian is also available twenty-four hours a day through our online chat service, and at the reference desk when the library is open. Research sessions can be scheduled for more comprehensive assistance, and may take place on Skype or in-person at the library. Assistance may cover many topics, including how to find articles in peer-reviewed journals, how to cite resources, and how to piece together research for written assignments.

Our 27,000-square-foot facility on the TAMUCT main campus includes student lounges, private study rooms, group work spaces, computer labs, family areas suitable for all ages, and many other features. Services such as interlibrary loan, TexShare, binding, and laminating are available. The library frequently offers workshops, tours, readings, and other events. For more information, please visit our homepage: <https://tamuct.libguides.com/>

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas. Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].
