Textbook companion website: <http://www.pearsonhighered.com/laudon>

Note: A student of this institution is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from a university-affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer.

Supplementary Material: The course textbook will be supplemented with other materials including research papers readings, handouts, oral presentations, industry articles, videos, research paper readings, case studies, power point presentations etc.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Reading Assignments: All assigned chapters will be used as basis for class and/or canvas discussions. Students are expected to study the assigned readings before each class session.

Examinations: There will be two exams, one midterm and one final exam. Each will be worth 250 points. Exams will have a short window of availability via canvas, must be completed in one session, and will be timed. Makeup exams will be given ONLY when arrangements have been made PRIOR to the class meeting

Case Study Presentations: We will discuss case studies in a debate format. For each case study, 2 students will team up and make a 30-45 minute presentation outlining case study, followed by a brief period in which other students can ask questions bringing up other issues. Case studies will be assigned randomly to teams. You are expected to form your team by the end of first week. If you can't find a team partner, you will be randomly assigned to a team. Case Study presentations will count as 100 Points. You are not graded as a team. Depending on the way team members make presentation and handle questions, they might get different score. If one teammate can't make it to class session, the other team members are expected to make the presentation.

Case Study Analysis: The case study analysis should not be a summary of your reading. It must identify key issues and problems, evaluate alternative course of actions and draw appropriate conclusions. You must also discuss how IS system affects the case study. Chapter case study has several questions that must also be addressed in the narrative. The narrative and analysis should be between 4 and 5 pages in length. A grading rubric for case study analysis is available in canvas and should be used as a guide. These assignments must be submitted via canvas on or before the date they are due. Assignments turned in after due dates are considered late. 20 points will be deducted for each day the assignment is late. Special circumstances need to be discussed with the instructor ahead of time when possible.

Team Project: There will be one term project where student teams will work as a team to create a case study involving a real organization with information-technology related problem. The case will follow problem-oriented method. In other words, you should identify the major problems that exist and to suggest solutions to these problems. In your case study report, you should identify the problems, suggest solutions to these major problems, recommend the best solution and explain how this solution should be implemented. For this project, you can choose a company where you work or familiar with or a Fortune 500 company. Students can self-select into teams of 2. This is worth 300 points. Projects turned in after due date are considered late. 10 points will be deducted for each hour the project is late. Special circumstances need to be discussed with the instructor ahead of time when possible.

Posting of Grades

- All student grades should be posted to canvas and students should monitor their grade status through this tool.
- Assignment and midterm scores will be posted no later than one week after it is due.

Grading: Grades are not given; the student earns them. Rubrics are employed whenever possible to assure that the grading of an individual assignment is consistent. There are always disagreements about the grade given to a work product and a student's expectation; students are encouraged to make sound well-reasoned arguments as to why they should receive more points. Arguments that are not well-reasoned include:

- I need a better grade because I am on probation.
- I come from a good family.
- I will be deported.
- I will lose my scholarship.
- I think it is an A paper

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS:

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].
