COURSE REQUIREMENTSCourse Requirements:

Students will develop and deliver lessons based on assigned world and United States history TEKS. Lesson types to be used are:

1. Primary document based activity
2. Primary document based essay
3. Lecture (multi-media)
4. Group activity

Five lesson plans (with accompanying materials) will be presented to the class via PowerPoint with a hardcopy submitted for grading. Lesson plans will conform to a specific format that will include the objective, TEK or TEKS covered, a detailed description of the activity, list of resources, and any evaluations to be made of student learning. Grades will be based on product quality (accuracy and depth of historical content), level of critical thinking, and student engagement. Spelling and grammar always impact the grade. The goal of the lesson planning is NOT to just learn lesson planning but to broaden your knowledge of the history itself at the secondary level. The presentation of the lesson to the class will also be part of the evaluation.

Students will have a final exam. The exam will consist of twenty-five United States and twenty-five world history multiple-choice questions. The questions will be based on the TEKS covered by the student assignments.

Students will be evaluated on a point system. Course requirements total 600 points:

Texas A&M University - CT values the integrity of the academic enterprise and strives for the highest standards of academic conduct. A&M-Central Texas expects its students, faculty, and staff to support the adherence to high standards of personal and scholarly conduct to preserve the honor and integrity of the creative community. Academic integrity is defined as a commitment to honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. Any deviation by students from this expectation may result in a failing grade for the assignment and potentially a failing grade for the course. Academic misconduct is any act that improperly affects a true and honest evaluation of a student’s academic performance and includes, but is not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work, plagiarism and improper citation of sources, using another student’s work, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. When in doubt on collaboration, citation, or any issue, please contact your instructor before taking a course of action.

Penalty for Academic Integrity Violations: All academic misconduct will be reported to the university's Office of Student Conduct. Ignorance of the university's standards and expectations is never an excuse to act with a lack of integrity. Additionally, zero points will be given for any assignment or exam for which academic misconduct has occurred (e.g., cheating on an exam).

Academic Accommodations.

At Texas A&M University-Central Texas, we value an inclusive learning environment where every student has an equal chance to succeed and has the right to a barrier free education. The Department of Access and Inclusion is responsible for ensuring that students with a disability receive equal access to the University's programs, services and activities. If you believe you have a disability requiring reasonable accommodations please contact the Department of Access and Inclusion at (254) 501-5831. Any information you provide is private and confidential and will be treated as such.

For more information please visit our Access & Inclusion webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/student-affairs/access-inclusion.html].

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas.

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L). Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php>].

In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu to schedule an online tutoring session. Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the University Writing Center is here to help!

If you have any questions about the University Writing Center, please do not hesitate to contact Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu.

University Library.

The University Library provides many services in support of research across campus and at a distance. We offer over 200 electronic databases containing approximately 250,000 eBooks and 82,000 journals, in addition to the 72,000 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS:

INSTRUCTOR POLICIES

Since the class meets only once a week, attendance is important. The instructor should be notified of any planned absences. In the case of an absence when an assignment is due, the assignment must be presented and turned in the next class meeting. Assignments that are late may be not be accepted or may be assessed a grading penalty depending on the circumstances.

I look forward to our class meetings. Most, if not all, of you are planning or considering teaching history at the secondary level. Hopefully this course is will give you a good feel for what you will be teaching, how you might teach it, and what will be expected of you as a history teacher. The focus of this course is on history not lesson plans so even if you are not planning on teaching you should find your experience to be rewarding
