Course Description

Catalog Description: Concepts and principles of accounting, economics, finance, management, marketing, and quantitative methods relevant to developing successful strategy. Examine problem solving and business decision making. Appropriate for senior business majors during their last semester. Prerequisite(s): ACCT 2301, ACCT 2302, ECON 2301, FIN 3301, BUSI 3311, MGMT 3301 and MKTG 3301. A materials fee of $45 is required for needed course materials (Globus).

BUSI 4359 is a highly challenging capstone course that focuses on how firms formulate, implement, evaluate, and present strategies through written case study analysis, presentations and a computer-based business simulation. The course involves the integration of concepts and principles studied in accounting, economics, finance, management, marketing, quantitative methods, and other relevant business disciplines. This is a “big picture” course.

The course centers on the theme that a company achieves sustained success when its managers (1) have an astute, timely strategic game plan for the company, and (2) implement and execute the plan with proficiency. The problems and issues surrounding the tasks of crafting and implementing strategy cover the whole spectrum of business and management. Many variables and situational factors must be dealt with at once. Weighing the pros and cons of one strategic option versus another entails a total enterprise perspective and good judgment about how all of the relevant factors combine to shape what actions need to be taken.

The approach of the class is practical and problem oriented. The major part of the course will involve applying concepts, analytic frameworks, and intuition to the strategic issues that real world companies face. These issues will be presented in case studies. For the class to work well – and for you to benefit from it – consistently keeping up with the class schedule and weekly assignments are essential. This is an extremely intense course, which requires a substantial time commitment. It is designed to be taken by senior business majors during their last semester, but may be taken earlier if the necessary prerequisites have already been completed.

Course Level Objectives (CLO's)

This course allows students to explore in-depth how and why a well-conceived and well-executed strategy nearly always enhances a company's long-term performance. Strategy involves the careful consideration of current and past contextual and organizational factors as well as imaginative and prospective consideration of what future alternatives are possible to realize. As such, this course requires students the use of both logical/analytic and the visual/creative thinking.

By the end of this course, students must be able to do the following:

- 1) To satisfactorily complete (70% of the points available or higher) an external analysis of a firm, including a detailed analysis of the competitive environment of the firm.
- 2) To satisfactorily complete (70% of the points available or higher) an internal analysis of a firm, including the identification of the (sustainable) competitive advantages of the firm and the resources and capabilities that lead to these advantages.
- 3) To satisfactorily complete (70% of the points available or higher) an assessment of the firm's current strategy, including the ability to identify the strategic problems of a firm and to develop solutions to a firm's strategic issues.

- 4) To satisfactorily utilize (70% of the points available or higher) the skills acquired in finance, accounting, marketing, and MIS courses to create and execute a successful generic strategy for a hypothetical firm.

In addition, this is a WRITING INTESTIVE (WI) course. WI courses are intended to foster the development of communication skills needed for effective participation in the (business) world. Effective communication (written, verbal and nonverbal) is a highly valued and marketable skill in any field. Surveys have shown that the ability to communicate well is ranked by business executives as first among the personal factors necessary for promotion. This course will focus on continuous improvement in written language.

Required Textbook

The required text for this course is:

Strategic Management: Text and Cases (9th edition) by Dess, McNamara, and Einer. McGraw-Hill Irwin.

ISBN: 9781259900457 (textbook)

(the 8th edition is acceptable as well but you will be responsible for keeping up with any examples or cases in the text that are different from the 9th edition.)

(A student of this institution is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from a university-affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer.)

Suggested Course Materials

The following resources are helpful for group projects: Newspaper/magazines such as Fortune, The Wall Street Journal, Bloomberg Business Week, The Economist, as well as business journals such as Harvard Business Review and California Management Review. All these resources are freely available to you using the TAMUCT library electronic databases, where additional materials for your projects are also available.

(<http://tamuct.libguides.com/index>) Hardcopies of most of these resources are also available in the library.

General Course Requirements

This course requires extensive readings, active discussions, and diligent attention to the exercises. Each student will be expected to spend at least 8-10 hours a week on this course in addition to class time. This is particularly true during the first weeks of the class.

- If a student cannot commit this amount of time and effort on this course, he or she must realize that it may be very difficult to earn a good grade.
- Failure to fully prepare for class is also a detriment to one's fellow students. It is the student's responsibility to thoroughly read the syllabus, fully understand all the requirements, and keep track of all important dates in order to be successful.

SPECIFIC COURSE REQUIREMENTS/ASSESSMENTS

A. Exams (380 Points – 2 @ 190 points each)

There will be two noncumulative exams (midterm and final), each worth 190 points. There will be no make-up or replacement exams. Exams may be a combination of multiple choice, True or False, and short/answer essay. Exams will be primarily based on assigned readings (textbook) and lectures.

Preparing for an exam is an important part of the learning process – it takes weeks of preparations, not days or hours. Keeping up with readings, listening to lectures and working hard on the assignments are the best preparation for the exams. I will be highlighting information from the text as well as explaining some information that may need clarification or elaboration. I will NOT repeat everything in all chapters for reviews. It is important to note that test questions can come from information in the text that we did not cover in class. If you do not understand something in your textbook, please ask questions about it so I can clarify for you.

B. Case Analysis (290 Points – 3 parts at 50 points each, one at 60 points and one at 80 points)

There will be five (5) parts to the case analysis component in this class. Each part will be completed in sequence according to the dates given in the schedule below. The five parts of case analysis are:

1. Company background, strategic profile and general environment analysis – 50 points
2. Competitive environment and internal analyses - 50 points
3. Strategic alternatives and recommendations – 50 points
4. Presentation – 60 points
5. Final, fully-edited complete case document (includes parts 1 through 3 plus an abstract, conclusion, and an integrated bibliography) - 80 points

Each part of the case analysis will build on previous parts. Once a part is submitted I will try to grade and return it to you within 1 week so that your group can incorporate my feedback into your next submission. The only exception to this is the final week of class, when both your final case write-up documents and your presentations will be completed and submitted more or less simultaneously. Note that only part 5 of the case analysis (i.e., the complete, integrated case document) should include any actual written revisions of previous sections. In other words, your part 2 should take into consideration any guidance I gave you from part 1, but you should not re-write part 1 and re-submit it when you submit part 2. Only in part 5 should you re-submit older sections as a part of your complete and final case analysis document.

Please note that there is a maximum page limit of 12 pages (not including tables, charts, or references) for each of parts 1-3 and a maximum of 36 pages (not including tables, charts, or references) for the complete document to be submitted at the end of the semester. Your work does not necessarily need to reach the full maximum length permitted as quality is more important than the quantity of your writing. Your case analyses are not trivial exercises, and should not be treated as such. Do not be tempted by these page totals to think that more information means higher grades. There may be some historical correlation between case length and grade, but this does not mean that simply making a case longer without enhancing its quality will get you a better grade. It won't.

Please also note that the case study is the capstone assignment in your capstone class. As such, it is meant to be integrative of all of the material in this course, as well as concepts and analytic frameworks from your other core business courses—finance, accounting, marketing, etc. In this respect, it functions much like a comprehensive final exam for this course (and for your undergraduate business degree). In addition, the parts are designed to cover what is discussed in the lectures at the time the assignments are due so it is recommended that you thoroughly read the textbook, understand the key concepts and apply as many of the course concepts in your analyses as possible so that you become familiar with using some of the new analytical tools we learn in class.

A detailed outline of what each case analysis should include is given on the course Canvas site. I have also included a detailed case study grade rubric on Canvas (I will use these to evaluate your analyses). As mentioned above, I have also posted several additional help files in the Case Analysis Files folder on Canvas to guide your case study preparation. As they contain information which you are required to incorporate into your analyses, I highly recommend that you use them!

There will be an opportunity for peer evaluation at the end of the semester to rate each member's contribution to group work. You will need to justify your ratings with evidence, especially when giving your peers low scores. Your personal grade for the group case analysis assignment may be adjusted when your participation and contribution are rated as being sub-standard by your group members. Each group should consist of 3-4 people.

C. Relating to the Real World (120 Points – written 60 pts, presentation 60pts)

As much as it is important to understand the fundamental theories and concepts of Business Strategy, this class also focuses on applying the theoretical perspective to understanding real world phenomena. By researching a real world case on one of the topics that are covered during that week's lecture, we will bring textbook material to greater relevance in the business world we are in.

1. This is an individual assignment. You will pick a chapter of the textbook that you would like to do the assignment on. Please inform the instructor of your chapter choice within the first week of the semester. Then pick an article that covers an event or a case and is a good demonstration of the concepts or theories discussed in that textbook chapter. Be sure to choose an article that covers an event or a case rather than a prescriptive article (eg., The 5 best ways to XXX) as the purpose of this assignment is to be able to find examples of theoretical concepts in real companies of the world. You may want to begin by looking at the chapter's core concepts in bold print letters or some of the key theories introduced in the chapter. Articles in business magazines such as Fortune, Bloomberg Businessweek, Financial Times, Forbes, The Economist or others may be used. Make sure the article you choose is dated January 1, 2016 or later in order to keep yourself and the class more up to date on business affairs. If needed, you may reference several articles that are covering the same event/issue to obtain a more complete picture.

2. Write a 2-page report both summarizing the article and, more importantly, explaining how the article demonstrates core concepts or theories in the textbook. How is the article of your choice relevant to what we are learning in Business Strategy? You must demonstrate that you have a thorough understanding of the relevant concept/theory and explain the connections of the article to the teachings of the textbook. This is particularly important because the article may not use the same vocabulary or the same framework as the ones we learned in class to describe the event. However, having learned the theoretical framework/concept, you should be able to identify the underpinnings of different business events and what the fundamental issues are. More specific grading details can be found in the Assignments area in Canvas. This will account for 40 of the points. A rubric can be found in Canvas with the assignment instructions.
3. You will also be required to make a 4-5 minute presentation on this assignment like you were reporting in a business meeting that will account for 60 points of the grade. It is not acceptable for you to simply read your written report but present it to the class in an engaging manner. . The presentation is to be given on the day you turn in your written assignment. Therefore, your personal deadline for the assignment will vary depending on the chapter you choose. A rubric can be found on Canvas.

D. Glo-bus Strategy Game (110 Points)

In this course each student will individually take part in a competitive, computer-based business simulation. The strategy simulation counts for 100 total points towards your final grade. Your performance in the simulation will be determined in the following manner. Your final Glo-Bus grade will be based on a combination of the quiz covering the information from the user's manual for the simulation (10pts) and the actual performance of your company when the simulation ends (100pts). Firm performance is a function of your ongoing decision making within the simulated industry and competitive environment. There are five factors that determine the performance of your firm within the simulation. Each of these factors is weighted equally. These factors are:

Earnings per share

Return on equity

Credit rating

Image rating

Stock price

You can track your score for the Globus assignment by looking at ‘Company Score’ on the front of your Globus page. The ‘Company Score’ is the cumulative grade with each successive decision round. You can check your quiz grade by clicking on the Assignments tab and Quiz 1. The Globus TAs manage the Globus simulation throughout the semester and I receive your scores only at the end of the semester. So please direct all your Globus related questions during the semester to the TAs. (Brady Miller brady.miller@tamuct.edu; Andy Williams andy.williams@tamuct.edu).

E. Participation (100 Points)

There will be a sign-in sheet for each class period. Punctual class attendance is expected.

The instructor has the sole authority in assigning participation grades. Use of cell phones, texting, emailing, and surfing the internet are forbidden during class hours. Quality of class contributions will be weighted more heavily than quantity. Frequent and valuable participants are those who attend all of the lectures, and participate regularly.

- Excellent class participation is characterized by a student consistently attending class, making an insightful contribution to discussions and exercises, being well-prepared by having notes and demonstrating a superior understanding of the material.
- Good class participation is characterized by students consistently attending class and contributing to discussions and exercises as well as being reasonably prepared with notes from the reading, while only occasionally demonstrating a good understanding of the material.
- Poor class participation is characterized by a student inconsistently attending class, rarely contributing to class discussion and exercise, and having no notes prepared for the readings.

F. Peregrine Undergraduate CPC exam – Bonus opportunity

The purpose of this exam is for us to be able to see what you have learned during the course of your program. Though not every question asked has been specifically taught, we are able to compare the general results to schools across the country. In a recent comparison, we found that on average our students scored slightly better than the national averages, which is great! This data is important to show our accrediting bodies when they come to visit.

The following instructions will help you access the exam and are also found in a folder labeled “Peregrine Exam Access Information” in Canvas under the Modules heading. On average, it probably takes about an hour and a half to complete. Please select the test that corresponds to your major, so we can accurately track the data:

To begin the registration process, please follow the on-screen instructions found at the following URL.

<https://micro.peregrineacademics.com/ct-tamus>

Your password is: TEX-1001

The registration process should take no more than 5 minutes to complete. Upon completion of your registration you will receive a confirmation email with your exam/course link for taking the exam, at the email address you provide to us. If you have any problems with the registration process, please visit our technical support page at: <http://www.peregrineacademics.com/support>

This exam offers up to 20 bonus points to your course grade depending on the score you receive on the exam. It is a difficult exam and you simply might not have been exposed to some of the material needed to answer all questions, thus the results will be normed to calculate the exact points you will receive.

There is no need to study and it will take a couple of hours maximum. Here is the likely conversion

70% or more right = 20 bonus points

65-69.9% = 19

60-64.9% = 18

55-59.9% = 17 – This is usually where our average student scores

50-54.9% = 16

45-49.9% = 15

40-44.9% = 14

39.9% or less (as long as completed) = 13 bonus points

You must complete this exam by Wednesday, Nov 19th, or you will NOT receive any bonus points.

Grading Scale

Note the C, D, and F Ranges Especially

900-1000 = A - Excellent

800-899 = B - Good

700-799 = C – Acceptable

600-699 = D – Needs Improvement

599 or less = F – Unacceptable

Grades may also be adjusted at the end of the semester based on class results. This means that an average may qualify for a higher letter grade than the scale normally provides for, to facilitate an appropriate grade distribution.

Posting of Grades and Late Work

Your GLO-BUS grades will be posted following the completion of the simulation towards the end of the semester. Also, your Peregrine Exam scores and Discussion grades should be posted within 72 hours after they are due. Case analyses components and the “Relating to the real world assignment” should be returned within seven days with feedback. Your grades are always posted and available in Canvas.

Late work penalties – This should not be an issue with it being a Capstone course:

1. Peregrine Exam– NO credit will be given for late completion.
2. All other assignments will lose 20% of the points available after the deadline.
3. If you fail to take an exam without notifying me prior to the exam, you can score no higher than the lowest grade a class member received who took it on time and only if I agree the excuse warrants allowing a make-up.

General Class Policies

Demonstrate PROFESSIONAL INITIATIVE at all times by taking responsibility for one's own performance in the course, as well as for any opportunities one may be able to take to enhance the course for others. This should be demonstrated vis-à-vis course assignment details, course deadlines (and personal time management, generally), contributions to group work, use of required course technology, and the anticipation and competent management of contingencies relating to oneself and to others that may affect one's performance in the course (e.g., job, family, other courses).

Demonstrate PROFESSIONAL COURTESY at all times by maintaining a professional tone in all communication with all persons involved with this course: peers, professor, teaching assistant, etc. This includes any communication that may involve reporting interpersonal conflict, engaging in discussions or disputes, or giving / responding to negative feedback. Professional courtesy also includes a commitment to listening well, and to engaging in meaningful dialogue where other parties are given ample opportunity to contribute to the discussion or assignment at hand without fear of disruption, retribution, or unwarranted criticism. Finally, it also includes common courtesies such as letting group members know in advance if you going to be unavailable for a scheduled meeting, or if you are going to miss an agreed-upon deadline due to an unforeseen disruption.

Demonstrate PROFESSIONAL INTEGRITY at all times by complying with all guidelines and restrictions regarding the completion of student work, the use of external sources, and the general compliance with the TAMUCT academic integrity policy, and the giving of specific, accurate, and timely peer performance evaluation.

Demonstrate a commitment to PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT at all times by reading, comprehending, integrating, and applying all textbook and other reading materials, audio and video supplements to all course assignments and activities (as measured by exams, cases, simulation, reviews etc.), and by successfully completing all assignments and activities to the best of one's abilities at the present time.

Demonstrate PROFESSIONAL MATURITY at all times by accepting the circumstances under which one has chosen to attempt to complete this course, and by accepting the evaluation of one's work by one's peers and/or instructor without complaining or resorting to irrelevant appeals (e.g., "this could hurt my GPA," "I was really busy," etc.). This is notwithstanding any exceptional situations in which a student is able to provide written documentation that a legitimate, objective evaluation error has been made, or in which normal evaluation policy should be set aside because of a documented emergency.

Students may arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by visiting the UWC during normal operating hours (both half-hour and hour sessions are available) or by making an appointment via WOnline at [<https://tamuct.mywconline.com/>].

In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu to schedule an online tutoring session. Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process.

In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the University Writing Center is here to help!

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter.

Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php>].
