Instructor’s Personal Statement

It is important for any of us to understand to some degree various perspectives on human sexuality. Human sexuality is a very complex part of human life that is affected by many facets of our individual lives including our environment, physiology, behaviors, beliefs and thoughts, emotions/motivations/attitudes, relationships, unconscious programming/memory/habits, spirituality, and learning preferences/styles.

Class Members taking this course will be provided with an engaging, personally relevant, and academically sound introduction to human sexuality. This course will provide students with at least a basic understanding of environmental, physiological, behavioral, belief and thought, emotion/motivation/attitude, relationship, unconscious programming/memory/habit, spirituality, and learning preference/style factors that affect sexuality, and at the same time, this course will provide students with a solid basis in the anatomy and physiology of human sexuality.

Note: During this course, class members may find their own ideas and beliefs about sexuality being challenged, or perhaps reinforced. It is pertinent that every class member remember that what is acceptable to one person, may be deplorable to another. Therefore, class members are expected to express their opinions and beliefs in a respectable and mature manner when participating in the discussion forum.

As your instructor, I will provide information and feedback in a sensitive, nonsexist, nonjudgmental manner, and I will assume that every individual class member is best qualified to determine what is most valid and applicable in his or her own life. I expect every class member to be respectful of others, regardless of varying opinions. We can all agree to disagree, to not be disagreeable/uncivil/disrespectful, and to learn to appreciate positive diversity as an opportunity that allows us to gain a better understanding of the world around us.

So please start and continue talking about our course topics, but always be kind and sensitive while presenting your observations, any personal experiences, your researched (SME) information, and your opinions on the discussion board assignments.

The University Writing Center:

Located in 416 Warrior Hall, the University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University-Central Texas is a free workspace open to all TAMUCT students from 10am-5pm Monday-Thursday with satellite hours in the University Library on Mondays from 6:00-9:00pm. Students may arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by visiting the UWC during normal operating hours (both half-hour and hour sessions are available) or by making an appointment via WOnline [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the University Writing Center is here to help!

If you have any questions about the University Writing Center, please do not hesitate to contact Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu.

University Library:

The University Library provides many services in support of research across campus and at a distance. We offer over 200 electronic databases containing approximately 250,000 eBooks and 82,000 journals, in addition to the 72,000 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. Research guides for each subject taught at A&M-Central Texas are available through our website to help students navigate these resources. On-campus, the library offers technology including cameras, laptops, microphones, webcams, and digital sound recorders.

Research assistance from a librarian is also available twenty-four hours a day through our online chat service, and at the reference desk when the library is open. Research sessions can be scheduled for more comprehensive assistance, and may take place on Skype or in-person at the library. Assistance may cover many topics, including how to find articles in peer-reviewed journals, how to cite resources, and how to piece together research for written assignments.

Our 27,000-square-foot facility on the A&M-Central Texas main campus includes student lounges, private study rooms, group work spaces, computer labs, family areas suitable for all ages, and many other features. Services such as interlibrary loan, TexShare, binding, and laminating are available. The library frequently offers workshops, tours, readings, and other events. For more information, please visit our Library website [https://tamuct.libguides.com/].

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].

Critical Thinking Discussion Forum Instructions

To potentially earn full points for this graded critical thinking discussion assignment each week, class members must submit a 450 word original critical thinking discussion posting that answers one of the critical thinking topics for the critical thinking discussion for the week, and must submit two substantive replies to other class members (1 each to 2 different class members). The two replies to other class members' original postings should be lengthy enough to show ample time in considering the other class members' work. Discussion Forum contributions to class members original postings should be made on any two different days of the week. This counts as attendance.

All questions/parts of your chosen posted original critical thinking topic should be addressed in your writing.

There is no requirement for a research paper in this class. However, class members are to utilize TAMUCT Library and other online resources to include peer reviewed reference support in weekly chapter focused critical thinking discussions. Class members must include a reference to one peer-reviewed journal article use for their original discussion posting in order to have potential to earn full points on their weekly original critical thinking topic posting.

Your original critical thinking discussion posting should also contain ample textbook references to fully support any of your assertions. Web information support from scholarly web sites is also encouraged. APA formatting should be used in the in-text citations and in the reference list. The content should demonstrate full and thorough mastery of the topic, and have less than three writing/spelling/typo/grammar or APA formatting errors.

For any information and/or ideas (quoted, paraphrased, discussed) that are not your personal ideas, your personal observations of (other people, situations, things), and/or your personal experiences, you are required to include proper APA citations in your writing and proper APA full references at the end of your writing. This also applies to including in-text citations and full references for the textbook information that you include in your writing. To do otherwise is plagiarism.

When appropriate you can include your personal observations and opinions, supported by data, in your original posting and responses to class members' original postings.

Please include a word count at the bottom of the discussion (do not include the critical thinking topic which you have selected or the reference list in that word count.) Random checks of word counts will be made, especially if the instructor is uncertain of the word count. The student will receive a zero if the word count is incorrect. Most word processing programs have a tool that automatically tallies the word count.

How to find Peer Reviewed Articles

For class members that are seeking an "A" each week on the discussion board assignment, it is a requirement to include at least one peer-reviewed professional journal article as reference support for their original posting about the posted topic each week, as well as ample textbook reference material. Be sure to use the most pertinent information from the peer reviewed article, if you choose to do this. If you choose to include peer-reviewed material, you can use the following guideline to retrieve peer-reviewed articles from the online library at TAMU-CT.

1. University Library Online: Click or use this URL in your browser <http://tamuct.libguides.com/index>
2. Click: A-Z Databases (left side of page, "Contact" box/widget)
3. Choose your database. For example, scroll way down to "P" and choose Psychology and Behavioral Sciences Collection
4. The next step may ask you to login using normal log in credentials, if you are off campus.
5. Type in search topic in top box just under the name of the data base. For example for Module 1, you may type in: Premarital Sex
6. It is VERY IMPORTANT that before you hit search that you check the box that says: Peer Reviewed AND the box that says: Full Text under the section called Limit Results
7. Click Search. This should bring up various peer-reviewed articles for your review.
8. If you don't find any relevant articles, try a different search word.
9. Please keep a copy of the article on your desktop or at least know how to retrieve it again should I ask you to provide the article to me through e-mail when I begin grading.
10. Cite the article in your reference list as you compose your discussion using APA formatting. If you don't already know APA formatting, view the information found to the left in this link about in-text citations (within the body of your discussion) and Reference List: Articles in Periodicals:
<https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/01/>

Rubric for your Critical Thinking Original Discussion Posting Assignments

The following criteria will be considered in evaluating your Critical Thinking Original Posting Assignments.

1. Accuracy: Are your statements, facts, or ideas correct?
2. Clarity: Is your writing clear and easy to follow? It helps to read your written assignment out loud to yourself. Using this method, you can catch incomplete sentences, grammar errors, typos, and/or lapses in your thought.
3. Depth: Are each of the issues and implications of your topic thought out and explored in your writing?
4. Originality: What is your thesis (the main point or points of your writing)? Are your own views present and well articulated? Use your own words. Do not copy material directly from any readings or other sources without giving the author(s) proper credit by citation in the paragraph and full reference at the end of the paper. If you want to use any author's/persons exact words, put them in quotations and cite the page number or paragraph number from your source material. Remember that you need to express your own opinion(s). Quoted material must not exceed 10% of the written assignment.
5. Supporting Evidence: Support your ideas/opinions/observations with empirical evidence if at all possible. This is a crucial part of any well written APA writing assignment. You may support your ideas with theories, previously conducted research, or other information that you encounter from books, and other sources (journal articles, online psychological SME articles, interviews with someone you know or meet, etc.). You may also use your personal experiences and observations as supporting evidence when appropriate.
6. References: Did you use appropriate references to support the main points of your writing? You may look in the course readings or a textbook and find references listed in the bibliography that might support your writing, then find and read those referenced journal or book articles. Be sure that you have these referenced articles if you use them. That means that you have the articles on hand and that you read them if you use them. Make sure that your references strongly relate to the point that you are making, or support your inferences.
7. Form, composition, spelling, etc: Try to make your writing neat and error free. It helps to run your spell checker and grammar checker before submitting your work and/or have a grammar/spelling competent peer or friend read over your work before submitting it.
8. When you paraphrase, use proper paraphrasing (see the handout on Proper Paraphrasing that I have provided). Please be sure that any paraphrased material that you include in your writing is also cited and referenced correctly.
9. APA Style: Follow the formatting rules of the American Psychological Association for your writing, citations, and full references. Use your APA publication manual. You may also want to visit the APA or any other appropriate website for additional formatting information.
10. I have also posted two additional potentially useful handouts in our course Handouts folder. (Whole Person Diagram, Seven Whole-Person Attributes) These are optional to use for your writing.

This document is subject to change at the instructor's discretion. Students will be notified of any grade affecting, critical changes prior to implementation of the changes.
