Mode of instruction and course access:

This course is a Face-to-Face course; however, we will use the TAMUCT Canvas Learn System extensively – pretty much for all but the lectures. You will use the Canvas username and password communicated to you separately to logon to this system. The course syllabus, schedule, supplemental readings, class announcements, power point slides, learning modules, homework assignments, exams and other course related documents will be posted on Canvas. Each student is responsible for the posted material, and should check the Canvas at least weekly for updates. The course outline in this syllabus shows the basic schedule for the semester.

Student-instructor interaction:

Please send all course related correspondence to me using Canvas Inbox. Please use TAMUCT email only when Canvas is not available. I check messages several times a day during the week and at least once during the weekends. I will try to respond within 24 hours during Monday through Thursday and within 48 hours on Friday through Sunday. Please do not hesitate to stop by my office during the scheduled office hours or contact me via phone / Canvas email or TAMUCT email, if there are any personal problems or challenges that are hindering your regular progress in the course.

911 Cellular:

- Control structures;
- Using standard library functions and templates;
- Creating programmer-defined classes;
- Implementing programmer-defined data types;
- Exception handling;
- Operator overloading;
- Polymorphism and virtual functions; and
- The Linked-List data type as an exercise in class design.
- Apply principles of program design and logic:
- Functional abstraction;
- Modular design using functions;
- Encapsulation techniques;
- Class design incorporating all of the principles listed above.
- Apply principles of program logic to isolate errors:
- Debuggers included with the Integrated Development Environment;
- Setting breakpoints and watch variables;
- Using output to report program progress;
- Using “stubs” and “drivers” to test small, manageable components.
- “Learn-by-doing” problem solving methodologies that can be applied to various programming languages and other life situations.

Required Reading and Textbook(s):

- Book (Required): Introduction to Windows and Graphics Programming with Visual C++, 2nd ed.
Roger Mayne

- Access to a computer with Visual Studio, including C++, and a Web Browser
- Students preferring to use their own computers are required to have products,
 - data encodings, file names, system structure, and products equal to those provided in the computer lab and the server used in class.
- Current publications: The campus library contains numerous books and periodicals relating to Computer Science. The student should take advantage of this resource by visiting the library.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Course Requirements:

- Exams: There will be a term project will act as a final exam. It will utilize GUI, Database, Objects, etc. Exact requirements will be published by the end of Week 2. This project will be worth 400 points (40%).
- Homework/Practice Problems: There will be practice problem sets throughout the semester. The total number has not been set, but the aggregate total will be 400 points (40%).
- Reading Assignments: All assigned chapters will be used as the basis for class and/or Canvas discussions. Study the assigned readings before each class. In addition, there will be some supplemental readings to cover concepts not included in the textbook

- Participation/Discussion Questions:
 - (from TAMU-CT Student Catalog): Student absences are considered by the University to be strictly between the individual student and faculty member. The faculty member has the responsibility and authority to determine whether make-up work can be done because of absences. Students may request make-up consideration for valid and verifiable reasons such as illness, death in the immediate family, legal proceedings, or participation in University-sponsored activities. Students who participate in University-sponsored activities are responsible for obtaining a written explanation for their absence from the faculty/staff member who is responsible for the activity.
 - Class attendance is required. Students are responsible for any material missed during an absence. In all cases, the responsibility remains with the students to meet/obtain all course requirements/changes. If you are not present the class period your presentation is scheduled, the presentation grade is zero. Regular course progress is expected. It is each student's responsibility to review the Canvas and syllabus for the latest information, assignments and examinations. NOTE: Attendance will be taken each class period. Attendance/participation will count as 20% (200 Points) of your total grade. NOTE: Canvas Discussion questions will count toward participation.

- Late Submissions: Homework Assignments will be considered late if submitted after the due date/time. Each CLASS DAY late will be a 10% deduction (20% per week) That means that NO submissions will be accepted if submitted more than 5 weeks after the due date. Any submissions AFTER 5 weeks will be considered lack of participation and will result in a lower participation score. In addition, discussions (if assigned) MUST be completed within the week during which the discussion is assigned (i.e. late discussions will NOT be allowed). Late tests will NOT be accepted! NOTE: NO work (nothing, nada, zilch) will be accepted after the last day of "class" (7/27/2018).

- Other Notes about assignments:
 - All assignments (except .docx) will be zipped prior to submission to Canvas – any unzipped assignments (except .docx) will not be accepted.
 - If there are multiple parts, submit all parts in a SINGLE zip file. I would suggest you create a folder for each assignment, then you can zip that entire folder at once...
 - Make sure all programs are labelled in a logical manner that makes it easy for me to figure out which program is which.
 - All assignments will be posted in Canvas with a value of 100 points, regardless of how many "points" they actually count toward your final grade. Therefore, Canvas is NOT completely accurate as far as total grades go.
 - Grades are not given; the student earns them. Rubrics are employed whenever possible to assure that the grading of an individual assignment is consistent. There are always disagreements about the grade given to a work product and a student's expectation; students are encouraged to make sound well-reasoned arguments as to why they should receive more points. Arguments that are not well-reasoned include:

1. I need a better grade because I am on probation.
2. I come from a good family.
3. I will be deported.
4. I will lose my scholarship.
5. I think it is an A paper.

Grading Criteria Rubric and Conversion

Required Activity	Number	Points	Total
Final Exam Project	1	400	400
Topical Problems	Several	40	400

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS:

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].
