

Native American Studies - 80720 - SOCK 485 – 110

Summer 2018

June 4, 2018 – August 10, 2018

Instructor: Dr. Anastacia Schulhoff

Class Location: Online

Virtual Office Hours: By appointment

Email: aschulhoff@tamuct.edu

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This class offers an introduction to the field of Native American and Indigenous Studies (NAIS), and its interdisciplinary approaches to the study of indigenous nations in the United States and around the world. Work in NAIS employs a range of critical perspectives to address histories of settler colonialism; the mistreatment and misrepresentation of indigenous peoples and cultures; and the crucial role of tribal nations in shaping contemporary global cultures. We will explore critical issues facing Native communities, including legal and cultural identities, identity and cultural revitalization, environmental racism, transnationalism, indigenous feminisms, gender and sexuality, and indigenous sovereignty.

In the process we will read scholarship that introduces us to different methods of studying these issues, and provide a solid basis in the history of Native North America and the global indigenous movement. We will draw on work in sociology, race & ethnic studies, cultural studies, history, anthropology, settler colonial studies, folklore studies, and environmental studies to understand how scholars have tried to make sense of the past, present, and future of indigenous communities in the United States and around the world. An introduction to the history, cultures, range of social issues faced by contemporary Native Americans who reside on and off reservation lands will also be explored. A special emphasis is placed on the application of a sociological lens when looking at the subject matter, thus emphasizes looking at the social, economic, and political challenges facing contemporary Native American peoples in developing sustainable economic and cultural systems today.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. Explain the interdisciplinary nature of Native American Studies and identify its major component parts, with a focus upon sociology.
2. Identify historical, economic, political, and social situations influencing Native American life past and present.
3. Identify Native Americans as inheritors of multiple and complex cultures rather than as one homogeneous ethnic or 'racial' group.
4. Evaluate the cultural persistence of Native Americans and their revitalization movements.
5. Summarize the effect of Euro-American colonization on Native Americans including colonization, media representations, stereotypes, and internalized racism and oppression.
6. Identify major economic, political, legal, and social institutions in contemporary Native American life.

Accessing Canvas:

This course is 100% online course and uses TAMUCT Canvaslearn system (<https://tamuct.canvas.com>). Canvas is where you will find 100% of the information related to this course, including discussions, quizzes and exams. Monitor BB for announcements every day, not just on the days things are due/assigned, since due dates may change due to unforeseen circumstances (ex: network outage).

Contacting Your Instructor:

The best way to contact me is through email (aschulhoff@tamuct.edu). I check my email every day between 9am-5pm during the week. Allow 24-48 hours for a response.

Required Reading Materials:

- Native American Voices: A Reader by Susan Lobo, Steve Talbot, and Traci L. Morris (ISBN#978-0-205-63394-4).

- Thomas King's The Truth about Stories: A Native Narrative (ISBN# 978-0816646272).

- Other materials listed on the syllabus will be available on Canvas in the Weekly MODULES Tab for the particular week it is assigned.

Course requirements:

Below is a description of the seven main activities for this online course. They include (1) reading assignments, (2) weekly online quizzes, (3) weekly discussion board postings and participation, (4) a paper applying course concepts to the book “The Truth About Stories,” (5) an annotated bibliography of five sources you will use in your final paper, (6) one final research paper, and (7) one final exam.

1. Reading assignments and other materials: Readings from the textbook are listed in the course schedule below. Students should complete the weekly readings before attempting to take a quiz or replying to a discussion board thread. I may also provide you with links to news articles or video clips in the weekly folders. Quizzes and exams may include questions on any of the readings, supplemental videos, and news articles.
2. Discussion Boards: Each weekly unit contains a discussion board question. You can locate the “discussion board” by clicking on the tab entitled “discussion board” on the main page of our course site or clicking on the link entitled “discussion board.”

Your original post addressing the weekly discussion question should be made no later than 5pm (CST) each Wednesday. Final postings commenting upon your peers’ posts and answering anybody who posted to your initial response should be made no later than 5pm (CST) each Saturday -- late postings will not be given credit.

Discussion board responses are evaluated on thoroughness, ability to think critically about the subject matter, and your ability to demonstrate mastery of the course material. USE SOCIOLOGICAL and NATIVE AMERICAN STUDIES TERMS and ideas from the textbook when writing your responses. Make sure to cite the page numbers where those terms and ideas can be found.

Make sure not to plagiarize – use quotations and page number citations. Glib and non-critical discussion board responses will not receive credit. Meaning, if you are flippant and shallow in thought or writing of your responses for the week, you will receive a zero-point value for that week’s discussion. Discussion board participation is mandatory. Your weekly postings will be assessed by the following guidelines and, as you can see, this rubric heavily assesses the quality and demonstrating mastery of course material in your posts.

Weekly Discussion Posting Grading Criteria (Rubric)	Weekly Point Value = 10
Meaningful Sociological/Native American Studies Ideas: Ideas examine the topic from a sociological or NAS perspective that contributes to the group understanding of the topic. Make sure to use course terms and definitions in your responses. If terms, definitions, and ideas from the textbook or readings are not used, you will earn a zero for the entire discussion board post for that week.	3
Message Coherence: Messages explain issues or meaningfully elaborates on the topic by using course material from that week and weeks prior. In other words, make sure you show that you	3 understand the “ process ” of the social phenomena or term under discussion. Make sure to edit your posts and write your ideas clearly and concisely. Grammar, coherent sentence structure, and spelling are evaluated.

Relevance of Replies to those who Responded to Initial Post: Responds in a scholarly and meaningful way to the people who you are engaging with. If you use “I agree” or “I like” statements, you will earn a zero for this part of the post. Expand upon your peers’ ideas and the course material. Do not be glib with “I agree” or “good post” responses – this type of non-intellectual response will receive a zero for the week.	2
Relevance of Replies to Other Messages: Responses elaborates, contradicts, modifies, expands, or further explains the original message with information from the course readings, documentaries, and articles.	2

Students will participate on our course discussion board for 10 of the 11 weeks, plus an Introduction and Closing Remarks discussion board posts. There are 100 points in total for the discussion board posts – 10 points each week.

- A. The initial, primary response should reflect familiarity with the readings, and should answer the question as completely and thoughtfully as possible. Responses must demonstrate substance beyond the student’s agreement with a statement or the mere expression of opinions. Personal opinions or “armchair sociology” that is not backed up by the course material or sociological research is not appropriate for the discussion board. We are engaging in an academic discussion about the subject under study. We are not engaging in a coffee shop talk or random discussion about the meaning of the world or society. This means that the student should support his/her responses in some way with references to the assigned readings or data from another reputable source. Students are REQUIRED to use sociological and NAS terms, to define those terms, and to explain the process of that term or social phenomena in the initial response.

*A note on quotations: Discussion posts should be in your own words. You can assume everyone has done the readings, so there is no need to re-state large portions of the reading material in your posts. Please use quotations sparingly, i.e., only to orient one another to specific, brief passages in the readings (with page numbers cited in parentheses). Posts that include mostly quotations or lengthy quotations will not receive any credit.

You MUST CITE THE PAGE number where that information you are quoting from or taking ideas from can be found. Citing the page number in your discussion board posts helps me locate the information in case I need to correct you, I can clarify those passages and/or re-phrase that information for you. It also enables your peers know where they locate a passage in their response posts, or citing the page number enables them to re-read if they misunderstood the information the first time around. EVERY discussion board post should include a page number.

B. Additional information about secondary response

After another student has made his/her own initial response, the student must make a secondary response to what another student wrote. This secondary response should be substantive and you should attempt to support your response in some way from the readings. Simply stating that you agree with someone or you like what they wrote is unacceptable: you must provide some reasons for this agreement. Remember that your primary task is not to agree or disagree, but to analyze another's post in a thoughtful, critical (and respectful) way.

C. My responses: I will frequently respond to selected posts and threads. It is the student's responsibility to read her or his responses to these posts. Sometimes inaccurate information is presented by students that should be corrected, and the purpose of instructor replies is to alert the class to such information. I am not attempting to "not listen to others ideas," but I am trying to steer your thinking back to the course material and main points found in this course. Your ideas must be back up with data and research that is relevant, reputable, and accurate and applies to this course. Your instructor's intent is to make sure the concept has been covered adequately, not to engage in a debate on the topic.

D. Netiquette: All students are expected to follow rules of common courtesy in all messages and threaded discussions. Students may refer to the Student Handbook (located under Student Affairs/Student Conduct on the Texas A&M University-Central Texas website) for further information along these lines. Please also see the note on appropriate communication located in the "Syllabus & Course Requirements" folder on Canvas. Inappropriate or offensive messages or remarks may result in a zero for that assignment or expulsion from the course.

- 3. Quizzes: You will have online weekly quizzes covering lectures and readings for the week. You will need to complete the quizzes using the course website on Canvas and you can locate the quizzes in the "Weekly Unit" tab under the section entitled "Quiz #." Each Saturday, by 5pm Central Standard Time (CST), quizzes will become available to you. You must complete the quiz by 5pm CST the following Saturday. If you fail to complete your quiz by that time, you will receive a "0". There are no makeup quizzes unless you have university approved absence documentation such as medical doctor's notes or police reports. Quizzes are worth 10 points each for a total of 100 points and will cover the readings and other material assigned for the same week.
- 4. The Truth about Stories: A Native Narrative essay paper: The paper will be an academic APA or MLA formatted 4 page, double spaced, 12-point font paper about the book "The Truth About Stories: A Native Narrative." Detailed instructions for this assignment and a grading rubric will be posted to Canvas. Your essay paper about this book is worth 100 points.

5. Research Paper: Your final paper will require that you a. choose a tribe of your choice to research in-depth b. then, write an academic paper about the tribe by applying course material to what you out about your tribe. This will be a six page, double-spaced 12 point Times New Roman academic APA or MLA formatted paper. You will need to construct a title and reference page and these are not to be included in the six written page length requirement. You must apply four course terms/ideas from the textbook to the research that you analyze and write about. More detailed instructions will be forthcoming in the rubric I will posting in canvas. Make sure to score your own paper with the rubric before turning it in to me because this will tell you if you are missing any major requirements.

6. Annotated Bibliography: In preparation for the final paper, you will be required to write an annotated bibliography for the five sources you will use in your final paper. An annotated bibliography is a list of citations to books, articles, and documents. Each citation is followed by a brief (usually about 150 words) descriptive and evaluative paragraph, the annotation. The purpose of the annotation is to inform the reader of the relevance, accuracy, and quality of the sources cited. You can locate further information about how to construct an annotated bibliography here <http://guides.library.cornell.edu/annotatedbibliography>

7. Final Exam: There will be one final exam that covers readings, discussion boards, and any other supplemental material we engaged with during the semester. You can expect the format to be a combination of multiple choice, matching, and short essay questions. Once you open the exam you cannot close it or return to it later. You will need to complete the exam once it is opened, so be prepared to take the 1 hour 15 minute exam at one time. The final exam is worth 100 points.

EVALUATION OF LEARNING:

Students will be evaluated through their participation in weekly discussion boards, weekly quizzes, a book reflection paper, a research paper, and a final exam. Points are earned in the following ways and will be totaled at the end of the class based on the following scale.

Coursework
Grade

	Points
Weekly Quizzes (10 @ 10 points)	100
Weekly Discussion Board Posts (10 @ 10 points)	100
Thomas King Paper	100
Annotated Bibliography	100

Posting of Grades:

- All student grades will be posted using the Canvas Grade book and students should monitor their grade status and my corresponding comments about your work through this tool.
- I will post grades within 7-14 days after the due date. Some assignments, like papers or reflection essays and writing intensive discussion boards posts require much more personalized instructor feedback, which could take longer to grade.

Makeup policy

This is a 100% online course. You are responsible for managing your time to make sure you complete all assignments on time. There are no make-ups for discussion posts or quizzes. A student may only make up an exam if there is illness, injury, or another documented excuse. If a student misses an exam due to illness, injury, something out of their control they must 1. Provide documentation (doctor’s note, police report, etc etc.), 2. Must notify me as soon as possible of intent to take a make-up exam, and 3. Prepare to take the make-up exam within 1 week of the excused absence, if possible. Students who miss an exam with no excused absence will receive a zero on the exam. If the student foresees that s/he will be unable to complete the course, then s/he should drop the course or accept the posted grade.

Grade Discrepancy: Procedure to follow when challenging grades in this class.

If you think that one of your assignments has been graded incorrectly, you have the right to challenge that grade. The procedure is as follows:

Carefully review the grade that you received and the reason for that grade. If you continue to think that your grade may have been reached in error:

- a. Title your word document or email with “Assignment (# or title) Grade Discrepancy.”
- b. The paper or email should include the reasons that you think the assignment grade is not accurate. Be specific in your reasons about why this issue should be addressed and the reasons you think there is not a correct grade reflected. You must have specific, logical, and well thought out proof that addresses your specific concerns for it to be valid.
 - a. An example of “proof” would be showing me a copy of your submitted work and marking where you think you have met the course requirement or grading rubric standard.
 - b. You must demonstrate to me that you have met the grading rubric requirement which measures your mastery of the course material for a claim to be valid.
- c. After you have written your claim, I would be more than happy to discuss and review any grade concerns. Please email it to aschulhoff@tamuct.edu

No grade will be changed until you have demonstrated a valid, logical, well substantiated claim and have gone through this procedure.

Drop Policy

If the student wishes to drop this class, s/he must go to the Records Office and ask for the necessary paperwork. Professors cannot drop a student from a class roll; this is always the responsibility of the student. The Records Office will provide a deadline date for which the form must be returned, completely signed by the student. Once you return the signed form to the Registrar's Office, you must go into Warrior Web and confirm that you are no longer enrolled. If you still show as enrolled, FOLLOW-UP with the Registrar's Office immediately. You are to attend class until the procedure is complete to avoid penalty for absence. Should you miss the drop deadline or fail to follow the procedure, you will receive an F in the course, which may affect your financial aid and/or VA educational benefits.

Academic Honesty

Texas A&M University - Central Texas expects all students to maintain high standards of personal and scholarly conduct. Students guilty of academic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary action. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work, plagiarism, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. The faculty member is responsible for initiating action for each case of academic dishonesty. More information can be found at www.ct.tamus.edu/StudentConduct.

Disability Support

Texas A&M University – Central Texas complies with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. TAMUCT promotes the use of the Principles of Universal Design to ensure that course design and activities are accessible to the greatest extent possible. Students who require reasonable accommodations based on the impact of a disability should contact Gail Johnson, Disability Support Coordinator at (254) 501-5831 in Student Affairs, Office 114E. The Disability Support Coordinator is responsible for reviewing documentation provided by students requesting accommodations, determining eligibility for accommodations, helping students request and use accommodations, and coordinating accommodations.

Tutoring

TAMUCT offers its students tutoring, both on-campus and online. Subjects tutored include Accounting, Finance, Statistics, Mathematics, and Writing (MLA and APA). For hours, or if you're interested in becoming a tutor, contact Academic Support Programs at 254-519-5496 or by emailing gnichols@ct.tamus.edu. Tutor.com is an online tutoring platform that enables TAMU-CT students to log-in and receive FREE online tutoring and writing support. This tool provides tutoring in Mathematics, Writing, Career Writing, Chemistry, Physics, Biology, Spanish, Calculus, and Statistics. Chat live with a tutor 24/7 for any subject on your computer To access Tutor.com, click on www.tutor.com/tamuct.

The University Writing Center

The University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University-Central Texas is a free workspace open to all TAMUCT students. The UWC is located in 416 Warrior Hall. The Center is open 11am-6pm Monday-Thursday during the spring semester. Students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Students may also arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor. Tutorials can be arranged by visiting the UWC. Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. Sessions typically last between 20-30 minutes. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will help students develop more effective invention and revision strategies.

911 Cellular:

Emergency Warning System for Texas A&M University-Central Texas

911Cellular is an emergency notification service that gives Texas A&M University-Central Texas the ability to communicate health and safety emergency information quickly via email, text message, and social media. All students are automatically enrolled in 911Cellular through their myCT email account.
