I. INSTRUCTOR'S MESSAGE

I am excited to be working with you this semester as we take all of your learning over this program and bring it together in this application class. I'm certain that we are going to have a great experience together as we explore the roles and work of the instructional leader.

II. CATALOG COURSE DESCRIPTION

The capstone study of leadership theory in elementary and secondary schools emphasizes the application of theory to administrative practice at the campus level. Critical issues and problems are examined and analyzed through the use of case studies, problem-based learning projects, and assessment-related activities. Prerequisites: Completion of a minimum of 24 semester credits of EDLD coursework or approval of School of Education Director.

EXPANDED COURSE DESCRIPTION

In EDLD 5388 Educational Leadership Applications, the aspiring campus administrator will participate in capstone learning experiences designed to integrate and link foundational theoretical concepts presented in preceding coursework. Critical issues in school leadership are analyzed through culminating experiences focused on the integration of the roles of the principal. Master's degree comprehensive exam preparation and Principal Practicum planning are included. This course has been modified to reflect the needs of this independent study session.

III. STANDARDS FOR THE PRINCIPAL CERTIFICATE

Principal preparation programs are required by the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) to use the knowledge and skills base developed by SBEC in the development of program curricula and coursework. These standards (19TAC 241.15) also serve as the foundation for the individual assessment, professional growth plan, and continuing professional education activities required to renew the Standard Principal Certificate. This course is designed to address expectations related to integration and application associated with the seven standards for the principal certificate. The six standards are (A) School Culture, (B) Leading Learning, (C) Human Capital, (D) Executive Leadership, (E) Strategic Leadership, and (F) Ethics, Equity, and Diversity. This course is designed to review and integrate all Texas principal standards.

IV. KNOWLEDGE BASE

This course utilizes the literature and research on (1) principles and concepts of administration (administrative theory, organizational structure, organizational culture), (2) administrative processes (motivation; leadership; decision-making; communication, organizational change, organizational management), (3) the structural framework for American education, and (4) resources related to the administrator's role in providing special services. Specific resources used in the course are the required texts, problem-based learning activities, interactions with peers/practitioners in the field, personal experience, and resources supplied by the instructor.

The following required texts for the course may be purchased from a variety of sources:

VI. CLASS SCHEDULE

The student will meet with the professor of record for four sessions on dates to be determined. Any changes in the meeting schedule will be announced by the instructor. The student is expected to check his email regularly to ensure effective communication throughout the duration of this independent study assignment.

VII. COURSE ASSIGNMENTS AND ASSESSMENTS

- On-Line Dialogues (120 points)
 - Roles of the Principalship (60 Points) The student will provide a reflective discussion for each of the chapters in the text The Principalship: New Roles in a Professional Learning Community. The reflection of each chapter should demonstrate the student's learning regarding each chapter and how the student can inculcate these concepts into current practice. The student will find that this text brings together learning from previous courses as well as provides further insight to the complex roles of the principalship. The Writing Rubric (p. 13) will be used in assessing dialogue participation.

- Key Questions for Educational Leaders (60 Points)

The student will read assigned chapters of the Griffiths and Portelli text, Key Questions for Educational Leaders. The student will be responsible for providing a thought provoking discussion about the diversity of topics examined in the text. The student is to synthesize the assigned chapters and provide a synopsis for those chapters.

- Response to Leadership Videos (30 Points)

The student will watch each of the videos on leadership. The student will provide a written response not to exceed 8 pages providing thoughts on 1) the commonality of message found in the videos, 2) how each video builds on the development of transformational leadership, and 3) key learning from each of the videos.

- School Portfolio (120 Points)

Each student will deepen understanding of the use of an integrated management system through completion of a school portfolio for his/her current school campus. The nine questions and seven continuums for the continuous improvement process discussed in the The School Portfolio: A Comprehensive Framework for School Improvement (Bernhardt, 1999, Eye on Education) will be utilized. The school portfolio is a purposeful and dynamic collection of work that tells the story of a school and its systemic continuous improvement efforts to better serve its students. The school portfolio clearly spells out important information about the school—its purpose, mission, and vision; the values and beliefs held by staff; its plans for improvement; the reasons particular approaches have been chosen; and, the results of the school-wide improvement efforts. At a minimum, each student's school portfolio will contain introductory material; updated continuum rating, story, and data/data summary sheet for each of the seven continuums; and at least two detailed action plans related to identified needs on the school campus. The Criteria and Rubric for Assessing the School Portfolio (p. 16) will be used to assess student work.

- Personal Action Plan for 1st Year as Principal (20 Points)

The student will create his personal plan for his first 12 months as a principal. The plan will have three major parts: (1) establishing yourself in your new assignment, (2) achieving an impact on the organization, and (3) managing the impact of the new assignment on your family and personal life. The plan will include activities, timeframes, perceived barriers, available resources, and completion dates. A format will be provided.

- Attendance/Class Participation (120 Points throughout course)

Students are expected to be in attendance and participate fully during the entire timeframe of each face-to-face session. Participation as a learner is expected including preparedness for class and full adherence to classroom norms - Anchors for Learning in the Community. Students who miss most or all of any class session will be required to complete and submit one or more assignments to make up for the lost learning time and will not be able to earn an A in the course. The Collaborative Participation Rubric (p. 13) will be used to assess each student's participation in class sessions.

- Final Exam (100 points total)

- FIT2LEAD Self Analysis and Improvement Planning (40 of 100 Points)

- Using the self-analysis template (Fit2 Lead) form that you began in EDAK 500 update your ongoing analysis of personal strengths and challenges related to the state-identified school leadership standards and skills (TAC Chapter 241.15) by filling out the reflection sections and attaching the rating scale. Attach as part of this activity the School Leadership Inventory Survey that informs this analysis.

- Professional Leadership Portfolio, Reflexive Evaluation and Artifacts/Reflections (40 of 100 Points)

- Expand your professional portfolio that you started in EDAK 500 by developing the section for the concept Stewardship. Write a one-page reflective anchoring essay about Stewardship (and principal standard #5/management). APA style should be used as appropriate.

- Provide two artifacts/reflections showing evidence of your knowledge, skill, and values related to Stewardship and principal standard #5/management. The professional portfolio artifact reflection format should be used to explain your artifacts.

- Submit the Stewardship anchoring essay and the two completed artifact reflections as attachments to this final assessment document as your answer to this question. There is no need to attach the actual artifacts that you have included in the portfolio.

- Additional Professional Leadership Portfolio Artifacts/Reflections (20 of 100 Points)

- Provide two additional artifacts/reflections showing evidence of your knowledge, skill, and values related to any portfolio sections of your choice. The professional portfolio artifact reflection format should be used to explain your artifacts. Submit the two completed artifact reflections as attachments to this final assessment document as your answer to this question. There is no need to attach the actual artifacts that you have included in the portfolio.

- The artifacts in the portfolio should document knowledge, skills, and values related to each of the standards. A narrative discussion of the artifact AND reflection about its importance must be included with each artifact. The artifacts component is a critical part of the portfolio because it provides the documentation and interpretation for the reviewer of the individual's assessment of his/her abilities, professionalism, and character. The reflection associated with each artifact should clearly define the importance of the artifact and how it represents the knowledge, skill, or value addressed. Students should choose artifacts they believe best represent the theoretical foundations of their conceptions of leadership, that illustrate their skill in converting theory into practice, and that confirm their understanding of the program principles and the Texas Standards for the Principal Certificate. (Assessment Rubric – p. 13)

VIII. EVALUATION AND GRADING:

The instructor will determine grades for the course assignments and assessments through the use of the assignment criteria and assessment rubrics outlined in the syllabus. Rubrics may be found on the next two pages. Instructor, self, and peer evaluation will be utilized as means of assessing growth and learning. Assignments turned in from 1-3 days after the posted due date are subject to a maximum of 45% reduction of points based on the date received by the instructor. Assignments that are more than 3 days late may not be accepted. In no case should materials be those submitted for another course; neither should the materials submitted be a collection of file materials. A course grade of Incomplete (I) will not be given except in extremely unusual cases. You are expected to attend and participate (Collaborative Participation Rubric) in f2f class sessions and complete and submit all assignments to be eligible for an A in the course. You must complete and submit all assignments and attend all classes to be eligible for an A in the course. A grade of C may result in retaking the course. Point system may be revised if necessary to accommodate unexpected changes in course schedule. The instructor reserves the right to amend the syllabus at any time. Note: Points designated in () following items are the maximum number.

To earn the Grade of A:

- 459-510 accrued points for the following activities/items:
 - ⇒ On-Line Dialogues (120 points)
 - ⇒ School Portfolio (120 points)
 - ⇒ Response to Leadership Videos (30 points)
 - ⇒ First Year Plan (20 points)
 - ⇒ Attendance and Class Participation (120 points)
 - ⇒ Final Assessment (100 points)

To earn the Grade of B:

- 408-509 accrued points for the following activities/items:
 - ⇒ On-Line Dialogues (120 points)
 - ⇒ School Portfolio (120 points)
 - ⇒ Response to Leadership Videos (30 points)
 - ⇒ First Year Plan (20 points)
 - ⇒ Attendance and Class Participation (120 points)
 - ⇒ Final Assessment (100 points)

NOTE: Instructor reserves the right to amend the course plan at any time. Point system may be revised if necessary to accommodate unexpected changes in course schedule. Any student not meeting the grading guidelines described above will receive a grade of C or lower and is subject to remediation that may include retaking the course. Students in this situation must see their advisor immediately.
