COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES

To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the coronavirus pandemic, Texas A&M University-Central Texas has adopted policies and practices to minimize virus transmission. All members of the university community are expected to adhere to these measures to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses, course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.) and co-curricular programs:

- Self-monitoring—Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction. Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities.
- Face Coverings— Face coverings must be worn inside of buildings and within 50 feet of building entrances on the A&M-Central Texas Campus. This includes lobbies, restrooms, hallways, elevators, classrooms, laboratories, conference rooms, break rooms, non-private office spaces, and other shared spaces. Face coverings are also required in outdoor spaces where physical distancing is not maintained. The university will evaluate exceptions to this requirement on a case by case basis. Students can request an exception through the Office of Access and Inclusion in Student Affairs.
 - o If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office of Student Conduct. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day’s class remotely for all students.
- Physical Distancing—Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in the course and course-related activities.
- Classroom Ingress/Egress—Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded. Do not congregate in hallways and maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.

- The university will notify students in the event that the COVID-19 situation necessitates changes to the course schedule or modality.

COURSE INFORMATION

Course Overview and description

Social Welfare in America provides a historical perspective of the social welfare system, to include an exploration of the social, racial, political, and economic forces that have and continue to impact the development of service and service delivery in the U.S. The course focus includes an investigation and analysis of values and ethics, and guides students' in the ability to identify the financial, socio-political, cultural, and human diversity factors in providing social welfare services in the US.

Teaching Method: The primary teaching approaches in this course will be lecture, prerecorded video, and class discussion. Some content in class may be presented via Internet based information posted on Canvas. This course uses web assisted technology and additional supportive materials may be posted on Canvas.

Each student is expected to be an active learner and it is the student's responsibility to read the assigned material and to come to class prepared for discussion. Since a portion of the class time will be devoted to addressing student questions or interests, students would be best served to be prepared to make use of this time. Generally missing class is a good way to earn a lower grade.

Student Learning Outcomes

Program Mission

The mission of the BSW Program at Texas A&M University - Central Texas is to prepare high quality graduates for entry-level generalist social work practice and advanced education. This education is delivered in a rigorous and student-centered learning environment that promotes professional behavior, values and ethics, human and community well-being, respect for human diversity, and a global perspective, and is guided by a person-in-environment framework, knowledge based on scientific inquiry, and social work competencies.

The social work program at TAMUCT uses a generalist framework for practice. The program definition of generalist practice as:

Work with individuals, families, groups, communities and organizations in a variety of social work and host settings. Generalist practitioners view clients and client systems from a strength's perspective in order to recognize, support, and build upon the innate capabilities of all human beings. They use a professional problem-solving process to engage, assess, broker services, advocate, counsel, educate, and organize with and on behalf of clients and client systems. In addition, generalist practitioners engage in community and organizational development. Finally, generalist practitioners evaluate service outcomes in order to continually improve the provision and quality of services most appropriate to client needs.

Generalist social work practice is guided by the NASW Code of Ethics and is committed to improving the well-being of individuals, families, groups, communities and organizations and furthering the goals of social justice. (Source: BPD web page)

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Grading

A total of 350 points can be earned throughout the course. Assignments are based on points. A grade of "C" is considered satisfactory progress. Point values for each assignment and relationships to a final grade are as follows:

Course Assignment	Total possible points
Three Examinations	300 (3@100 points ea.)
Poverty Paper	50
Totals	350

- A = 315 to 350 points
- B = 280 to 214 points
- C = 245 to 279 points
- D = 210 to 244 points
- F = 209 points or less

Paper grading will be based on information, organization, spelling, grammar, and conformity with the assignment.

The following activity will be assigned and/or assessed for student evaluation of learning through throughout the course.

Poverty Paper

Over and above the three examinations, students will be required to complete one brief paper (5-7 pages) addressing a low income, welfare life style. Briefly, students will be given realistic monthly budget for a TANF (welfare) parent and will then be asked to develop a detailed household budget for expenditures including food, housing, utilities, laundry, transportation, day care, and other items. Itemized household and food budgets for both TANF and working scenarios presented in tabular form are very important to making the paper readable and should be included. Failure to do so will result in a point penalty. Failure to develop the two budgets required in this assignment for comparison purposes will also result in a major point penalty. When you prepare your budgets so not mingle your Food Stamp (SNAP) and cash incomes. Essentially you will need 4 budgets – two for each lifestyle. There will be a cash & a food budget for each lifestyle. You will also need to make a statement of whether or not you would work and why.

Students must discuss and reflect on the type of lifestyle that they would have if they really lived in these circumstances. Then you should develop a budget for a minimum working lifestyle and answer the question “Would it be worth your while to take a 25 hour per week job at $7.25 per hour (minimum wage)”? Remember, that once you start earning money from a wage, you begin to lose TANF and Food Stamp benefits. A minimum of 15% needs to be deducted from your gross wage earnings to account for various withholding taxes. You may also expect an additional reduction in your TANF benefits equivalent to 20% of your net earnings because you are working. In other words, you cannot add your 25 hour per week earnings to your benefits to get a total budget. You may still assume that you get Medicaid, but your TANF and Food Stamps should be reduced. Note: there have been some modifications made here to make the budgeting process simpler for you.

Your TANF budget is based on the following: You have a family of four (one adult and three children). At least one of your children must be over 6 (and in school) and none can be over 16. Your cash budget is $343 per month (TANF) in cash and you also have $649 per month in food stamps (food only). You may own a car, but no assets worth more than $2,000. Just saying that you spend the allotment for food will not be sufficient. You must provide some detail and make a reasonable attempt to provide a decent diet. You will have Medicaid coverage for most of your medical expenses. You may make use of any additional government or charitable programs that you can find. But be aware that taking contributions from friends, family or working on a cash basis without reporting is welfare fraud. It is strongly suggested that you provide itemized budgets for the sake of clarity.

The assignment will be graded on content, clarity, organization, completeness of budgets and grammar.

If you are unable to avoid missing a class, you must notify the professor via email before the class period to explain the absence. It is up to the discretion of the professor if the absence will be excused (documented illness, death in the family, and university sponsored activities generally qualify).

Class attendance and participation are critical elements to the full breadth and depth of learning in the course; therefore, students are expected to be present in class during the days we meet and to richly engage in class (i.e. be prepared with readings and assignments, participate in in-class discussions, actively listening to discussions and lectures taking place in class, etc.). The instructor assumes that attendance will yield positive and active engagement as outlined above. Hence, it is important to be aware that absences and failure to adhere to class policies while in class can and will impact your grade.

Please note: If your schedule is such that you find it consistently difficult to arrive to class on time, remain for the full class, or arrive to class at all, it is advised that you find another course that would best meet your scheduling needs.*

Posting of Grades

Grades will only be posted on the Canvas Gradebook.

Grading Policies

See Class Policies.

CLASS POLICIES

The following policies apply to all students enrolled in this course:

1. Students are not permitted to enter class more than ten (10) minutes late. Exceptions will be made with prior discussion and approval by the professor only.
2. Once class has begun, students are expected to remain for the duration of the class. It is expected that all students will take care of personal affairs (i.e., get beverages, take care of phone calls, meeting with students and other professors, use the restroom, etc.) before class begins. Students who have a medical/physical condition for which they need to request an exception to this policy are advised to speak with the Disability Services Coordinator and/or discuss this with the professor to see if an exception can be granted. Students leaving the class outside of these parameters should not attempt to re-enter the class.

3. Students are expected to display professional decorum at all times. This includes, but is not limited to, respecting classmates and the instructor. In this regard, it is expected that students will not speak to/hold conversations with/pass notes to other students, use cell phones, or engage in other types of unprofessional behaviors once class has begun. Talking during lecture, out of turn, or while other students are talking is disruptive to the learning environment, disrespectful to peers, and unprofessional in demeanor. Students are strongly encouraged to engage in discussion in a respectful and appropriate manner; hence, it is expected that students apply classroom etiquette and raise a hand if there is something to share or to answer a question. It is also expected that students will display patience in raising a hand and recognize that the professor will eventually call on the student and/or may attempt to vary responses from peers. Shouting out answers, making loud noises, and/or waving a hand vigorously to capture attention is unprofessional and inappropriate behavior. Consistent display of such behavior will result in consultation by the professor and can potentially impact the attendance/participation grade.
4. To support the academic learning environment, students are asked to refrain from sharing personal information in class that will not support/add significantly to the class discussion. Sharing of personal stories and/or issues that are not related to the topic can distract class learning and limit knowledge sharing by the professor and other students. In this regard, please note that the professor reserves the right to redirect/limit such conversations in class unless students are expressly asked to share such information by the instructor.
5. NO TECHNOLOGY IS PERMITTED DURING IN CLASS EXAMS, QUIZZES, OR OTHER TYPES OF ASSIGNMENTS AS DEFINED BY THE PROFESSOR, UNLESS GIVEN SPECIFIC PERMISSION BY THE PROFESSOR. During such assignments, students may be asked to turn in cell phones to the professor, place bags beneath desk or to the side of class, or other request to minimize use of such technology. Students discovered to be using cell phones, ipads, e-readers, recording devices, etc. during assignments without expressed approval by the professor to do so will receive a zero (0) for the assignment and referred to Student Affairs for academic integrity concerns. Students warned against doing so once and found to do so again in this or any subsequent course will receive an F for the course in which the behavior was identified and referred to Student Affairs.
6. Students are NOT permitted to work collaboratively (together) on any assignment unless given EXPRESSED permission by the instructor to do so. This includes homework, take home quizzes, papers, etc. Failure to adhere to this policy can result in a zero (0) on the assignment and referral to Student Affairs for academic integrity concerns.
7. All assignments must be turned in (submitted) by the due date and time indicated. Late work will not be accepted or graded unless this has been discussed with and approved by the professor BEFORE the due date (not the due time) of the assignment.

Being absent from class on a day when an assignment is due does NOT grant a student an extension to the due date; as a demonstration of professional practice, the student must still arrange to get that assignment turned in to the professor before class starts. Allowing students to turn in assignments late for a grade is not fair to other students who get their work done on time and disrupts the grading process for the professors. Failure to adhere to this policy will result in a zero (0) for the assignment. This is inclusive of all assignments.

8. Students should be prepared to submit electronic copies of any paper for class at the discretion of the instructor.
9. All papers submitted for grading MUST adhere to APA 7th edition standards unless otherwise stated by the professor. This means that all papers must, minimally, be: 1) typed, 2) double spaced, 3) use Times New Roman font, 4) use 12 point font, 5) include an APA style cover page, and 6) include in-text citations AND a reference page for ANY SOURCED INFORMATION (this includes information learned in current or previous classes, read online, learned during a personal communication, reviewed over email, read in a text-book, etc.). Further, all typed papers submitted in class MUST be stapled or clipped together (if too large for staple). Unless instructed to do so, submitting papers in folders, binders, etc. are not required and should be limited in use.
10. TAMUCT expects all students to maintain high standards of personal and scholarly conduct and avoid any form of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism (intentional or unintentional), copying another person's work, turning in someone else's work as your own, turning in previous work you submitted for a new class, downloading material from the internet and inserting it into a paper as if it was your own work, taking ideas from classes or readings and putting them in a paper without citations/references, cheating on an examination or other academic work, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. Any idea, even paraphrased ideas, used or borrowed must be given credit by showing the source with an appropriate citation and reference. Copying whole phrases or sentences without using quotation marks, even if very minor changes are made in wording is considered academic dishonesty. Any student who violates class and/or university policies regarding Academic Honesty will be sanctioned according to the University and program guidelines. More information on university policies can be found at www.ct.tamus.edu/studentconduct. A copy of the University's policy is also located at the end of this syllabus.
11. Additional & Important Note on Writing Assignments: All written assignments are expected to be the original work of the student. While paraphrasing and some direct quotations are permitted, it is expected this will be done within the context of your own analysis and synthesis of the information read. Paraphrasing is a skill of reading information and, using your own thoughts, summarizing the information in a way that supports the topic discussed. While the paraphrase involves your own thoughts, it originates from a source and that source is cited. Quoting is a matter of taking words, verbatim, from another source and restating them without, or with minimal, manipulation. Quotations are placed in quotation marks (“ ”) or placed in a block format within the text. Quoting does not involve analysis and synthesizing and, therefore, does not require critical thinking except when used appropriately to support (not substitute) an idea. Because of this, students are discouraged from using significant quotations as this limits your learning experience. Students found to excessively quote will be penalized. Students using words as their own without appropriately citing will be penalized – including failing the assignment and up to failing the course. Students found to have plagiarized (using words as your own without giving proper credit, whether paraphrasing or directly quoting) will also be referred to the Student Affairs. Plagiarized assignments will be assigned a grade of 0 and there are no options for rewrites on these assignments. Therefore, it is VERY important that students take academic integrity in writing very seriously. If you are in doubt, it is always best to cite your source and/or speak with your professor for more guidance. The Writing Center, Library, and Owl Purdue are also resources that can help you. A copy of this statement, along with the assignment submission policy statement, is located at the end of this syllabus. You are required to acknowledge receipt and understanding regarding the policy for academic integrity and assignment submission in this course by submitting your acknowledgement to the professor no later than the 2nd class. Failure to do so will result in consultation with the professor, program faculty and/or Student Affairs and could limit your successful continuation in this course.

12. Class discussions, oral presentations, and written materials must adhere to professional standards of expression and conform to the style described by the American Psychological Association (APA, 2009). This includes avoidance of the use of language that degrades women, people of color, gays, lesbians, bisexuals, transgendered, and other diverse and at-risk populations. All students are expected to display the utmost respect for all people, regardless of differences.
13. While assignments may be discussed in class, no individual discussion of the determination of a grade made occur in this context. Discussion of grades is confidential and will not be done in the presence of other students. The proper context for such discussions is in the professor’s office.

The University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University–Central Texas (TAMUCT) is a free service open to all TAMUCT students. For the Fall 2020 semester, all services will be online as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. The hours of operation are from 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday thru Thursday with satellite hours online Monday thru Thursday from 6:00-9:00 p.m. The UWC is also offering hours from 12:00-3:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WCOOnline [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC and/or need any assistance with scheduling.

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage
