STUDENT-INSTRUCTOR INTERACTION

This is an online class. Most communication between the instructor and students will be via Canvas and email and all students are able to schedule a telephone conference or WebEx meeting.

I will check and reply to student emails on a daily basis – students should expect a response within 24 hours. Any deviations from this will be announced on Canvas. Checking Canvas frequently is important as this is where any class announcements will be posted.

It is HIGHLY recommended that you go into your “settings” in Canvas, select “notifications”, and elect to receive emails when announcements are made. You are responsible for obtaining information in a timely manner.

My preferred method of electronic student interaction is via Canvas. All students should identify the class they are in, use proper salutations and signatures, identify a question, be succinct, and maintain professionalism in any correspondence. Deviations from these guidelines will likely not receive a response. Additionally, students should check the syllabus before asking questions that are likely answered in the syllabus. If the answer is in the syllabus, that is what the response email will reference.

You should generally expect a response within 24 hours. I do make exceptions for exams when I check messages more frequently. If you send a message on weekend, I may reply but please do not expect a reply until the following Monday unless it is during an exam

If the student does NOT have adequate knowledge in these areas, then the purchase and use of the two Recommended Textbooks is highly recommended.

VI. Supplementary Materials
Supplementary material may take the form of handouts, oral presentations, and references from your instructor, presentations by students, and articles we read. Supplementary materials are handed out in class or posted to Canvas.
OTHER INFORMATION REGARDING THE COURSE

I. Late assignments: Late assignments will generally not be accepted. Communication is key in these situations. If you have a legitimate need for an extension you must notify me before the due date to make arrangements.

II. Supplementary Material: Additional information may be given that supplement the topics to be addressed. This supplementary material is designed to broaden the educational experience and create more variety to the usual lecture/discussion format of class presentations. You are responsible for all information in the supplementary material.

III. Extra Credit: Extra credit is not available in this class.

IV. Civility: It is inevitable that some sensitive topics (race, religion, etc…) will be discussed. All students are expected to treat each other with respect. You may disagree but you must do so with civility. Rude and degrading behavior will not be tolerated.

VI. Posting of Grades: All student grades will be posted in the Canvas grade book and students should monitor their grading status through this tool. Students should expect grades to be posted in about one week after the assignment due date. Deviations from this will be announced.

REQUIRED COURSE WORK

I. Discussions (8 at 25 points each=200 points)

These Discussion entries are a modification of a discussion question. Each student will respond to the prompt. Please read the directions for each entry at the beginning of the week. Some require you to watch videos while some require you to find things on your own. Your response will be posted to where the entire class can view the response. HOWEVER, you cannot view ANY responses until you post. This avoids getting answers from another student’s post. I do want all students to benefit from the entries of their classmates. You will be able to respond to each other’s entries. You will not directly be graded on the responses. However, you should note that if your initial response is not adequate, any additional information you give responding to other entries and questions posted to your response can add points to your grade. No posts after the due date will be considered for grading purposes. It is likely that responding to other students will improve your Discussion grade.

A. Discussion Response

Students are expected to read the assigned materials and complete any other work for the week prior to responding to the Discussion prompts.
Your response should reflect your familiarity with the readings and other materials assigned. The student should inspect the Course Calendar and see what readings are assigned for that week. This response should be at least a half page in length (about 300 words). A response that is not at least a half page in length will not be accepted for credit. A half page response is the minimum requirement and will be graded accordingly.

Responses should have substance beyond the student’s agreement with a statement or the mere expression of his opinions. The student should support his responses in some way with references to the reading/materials that were assigned. Under no circumstances should a student quote from the textbooks; instead, they should use their own words. Quotations will not be accepted for credit. It is also unnecessary for the student to cite sources using APA guidelines for the information that he is presenting. So remember: no formal citations and no quotations. This ill-advised practice merely adds clutter to the discussion process and is inappropriate for our purposes.

There are no makeups for Discussions, because we have moved on to the next topic after the deadlines. Each week we will have a new topic to discuss, and there will be no one left to read your post.

Points are awarded to students, based on the quality of response. Quality pertains to a student’s responding in relevant, meaningful ways, based upon the assigned readings for that week.

Netiquette: All students are expected to follow rules of common courtesy and professionalism in all correspondence and assignments. Students may wish to refer to the Student Handbook (located under Student Affairs/Student Conduct on the Texas A&M University-Central Texas website) for further information along these lines. Inappropriate or offensive messages or remarks will not be tolerated and may result in expulsion from the course.

You earn points for your Discussion entries according to the following:

| ✓  | you completely answer the question. Failing to answer any portion of the question results in zero points. |
| ✓  | you are able to critically think about the issue discussed and support your answers with material from the text. |
| ✓  | your writing is average or above average. |

Note: I encourage you all to reply to your classmate’s posts. Doing so will encourage discussion. Additionally, it will likely enhance your grade. ALL posts are due by 11:59 PM on Sundays. It is highly unlikely that you will obtain the maximum number of points without engaging in discussion with your peers.
Note
Please note that at this level you should be CRITICALLY evaluating everything you read and watch in this course.

Throughout the course I will post “podcasts” where I offer commentary on the weeks assignments.

PLEASE TAKE NOTE OF DUE DATES AND TIMES…EVERY SEMESTER STUDENTS LOSE POINTS FOR NOT POSTING ON TIME***

II. Film Reaction Papers (200 points).

There will be 4 films to watch during the semester. Each student will write a reaction paper on each of the 4 films. Due dates can be found in the course calendar. Students can choose from a list a films. The list of films is under the modules section of Canvas.

All papers are due on the Sunday of the week assigned in the syllabus by 11:59 pm..

Each paper should include 2 parts: Reaction and Critique

Reaction:

A reaction paper is just what its name suggests—a paper explaining your reaction to a film. It may be like a review, because your reaction may involve judgment or evaluation; it may be like an analysis, because your reaction may focus on a particular character, relationship, scene, or film technique. It may also be like a discussion entry, in that it presents a personal reaction rather than an attempt to provide either definitive judgments or detailed analysis. It differs from a discussion entry, though, in that it is a more formal essay, prepared for an audience.

Like any good essay, your reaction paper should develop one primary idea or perception, support it with specific evidence (usually references to individual shots or scenes), and present both ideas and evidence in clear language and a logical order.

The first part of the essay should include a reaction to each film. These essays should reflect a careful consideration about what you think or feel about what you have seen. While you are watching the films, think about the following questions:

- How do you feel about what you are watching?
- What do you agree or disagree with?
- Can you identify with the movie or characters in the movie?
- How do you evaluate the situation in general?
- What did you find striking, illuminating or peculiar about the film?
Does it help you get an historical sense of the period it depicts, and if so how?

Critique:

The second part of your essay should include a critique of the film, in terms of how well the film portrayed policing. While you are watching the films, think about the following questions:

- In what ways does the film accurately portray policing, in your opinion?
- In what ways does the film fall short of recreating the aspect of policing it depicts, in your opinion, and what would you have done differently?
- If you did not know anything about policing, how would this film (good or bad) affect your perceptions policing, the targets, the perpetrators, and all other players?

Papers must meet the following criteria:
- 2-4 pages in length
- Double-spaced, 12-point font, Times New Roman
- Must be produced in Microsoft Word (.doc or .docx format)
- No cover page – header should include course information and your name
- You should identify the film’s title, director, and date of release, as well as principal actors. Throughout the paper, the film’s title should be underlined
- In-text citations and a reference page should be included
- Proofread carefully: grammar, spelling, mechanics, citations, etc. will be part of your grade
- Must be submitted as an attachment in Canvas in the assignment section
- Since a reaction paper describes your own reaction to a film, it is appropriate to use first person (I, me, my, mine) occasionally. But remember that the paper is primarily about the film, not about the writer
- Avoid the frequent problem of too much plot summary! Any viewer can get the plot from viewing the movie, so if your paper devotes too many words to plot summary, there’s not much “value added” in the paper. This reaction paper will offer little to a reader if it mainly retells the story

Grading rubric

Content (0-20 points)
- Is there a clear-cut thesis statement that controls the direction of the paper and limits the scope of the ideas presented in it?
- Are the ideas presented in an orderly sequence that makes sense?
- Does the paper have a lively introduction that invites further reading?
- Does the paper have a definite conclusion that draws the ideas together and leaves the reader satisfied?

Development (0-20 points)
- Are the ideas explored adequately within the limits established by the thesis statement?
- Does the paper avoid excessive plot summary?
- Does the paper offer sufficient detail or enough examples drawn from the film itself to clarify major points and make them convincing?
- Is the paper’s language accurate and effective in making ideas and evidence clear?

Mechanics (0-10 points)
- Does the paper demonstrate control over the essential elements of grammar?
- Are the sentences clear and smooth?
- Has the paper avoided major grammatical errors (such as sentence fragments, comma splices, fused or run-together sentences, subject-verb agreement errors, verb form errors)?
- Does the format of the paper match the instructions for the assignment (proper heading; double spacing; underlining or italicizing of film titles; inclusion of movie’s date, director, and main actors)?

III. Exams (200 points)
The student will complete 2 exams, each valued at 100 points. Check the course calendar to see the exact days in which you may access the exams. All readings assigned are subject to exam questions. The exams will consist of essay questions. The exams will be posted on Canvas for 3 days (a 72-hour period) during the week. Once a student has begun taking the exam, he will have two hours to complete it. The exam may be taken from midnight (12:00 am) on the first day until 11:59 pm CST on the third day. So, the student basically has a 72-hour period in which to take each exam. Each exam is comprehensive, meaning that the student will need knowledge of preceding work in order to answer questions adequately.

OTHER INFORMATION REGARDING THE COURSE

I. Late assignments: Late assignments will not be accepted.

II. Supplementary Material: Additional information may be given that supplement the topics to be addressed. This supplementary material is designed to broaden the educational experience and create more variety to the usual lecture/discussion format of class presentations. You are responsible for all information in the supplementary material.

Note: online lectures, videos, and additional reading material WILL be posted in the modules. You are responsible for all content.

Additional assignment related information will also be posted in the modules

III. Extra Credit: Extra credit is not available in this class.

IV. Note: I will ONLY accept assignments that are submitted properly: through Canvas. Do not email or send me a message with an attachment. You MUST submit the assignment in the appropriate location within the assignments section. Additionally, if you have questions….ASK! Do not delay, if you are receiving low grades on your discussions and do not know why….ASK!

V. Posting of Grades: All student grades will be posted in the Canvas grade book and students should monitor their grading status through this tool.

VI. Grading Criteria Rubric and Conversion:

All students are automatically enrolled in Warrior Shield through their myCT email account.

Connect to Warrior Shield by https://portal.publicsafetycloud.net/Account/Login to change where you receive your alerts or to opt out. By staying enrolled in Warrior Shield, university officials can quickly pass on safety-related information, regardless of your location.

COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES
To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the coronavirus pandemic, Texas A&M University-Central Texas has adopted policies and practices to minimize virus transmission. All members of the university community are expected to adhere to these measures to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses, course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.) and co-curricular programs:

- Self-monitoring—Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction. Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities.

- Face Coverings—Face coverings must be worn inside of buildings and within 50 feet of building entrances on the A&M-Central Texas Campus. This includes lobbies, restrooms, hallways, elevators, classrooms, laboratories, conference rooms, break rooms, non-private office spaces, and other shared spaces. Face coverings are also required in outdoor spaces where physical distancing is not maintained. The university will evaluate exceptions to this requirement on a case by case basis. Students can request an exception through the Office of Access and Inclusion in Student Affairs.
  - If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office of Student Conduct. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day’s class remotely for all students.
- Physical Distancing—Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in the course and course-related activities.
- Classroom Ingress/Egress—Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded. Do not congregate in hallways and maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.
- The university will notify students in the event that the COVID-19 situation necessitates changes to the course schedule or modality.

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone disclose that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don’t agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don’t be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care.
