COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES

To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the coronavirus pandemic, Texas A&M University-Central Texas has adopted policies and practices to minimize virus transmission. All members of the university community are expected to adhere to these measures to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses, course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.) and co-curricular programs:

- Self-monitoring—Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction. Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities.
- Face Coverings—Face coverings must be worn inside of buildings and within 50 feet of building entrances on the A&M-Central Texas Campus. This includes lobbies, restrooms, hallways, elevators, classrooms, laboratories, conference rooms, break rooms, non-private office spaces, and other shared spaces. Face coverings are also required in outdoor spaces where physical distancing is not maintained. The university will evaluate exceptions to this requirement on a case by case basis. Students can request an exception through the Office of Access and Inclusion in Student Affairs.
 - o If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office of Student Conduct. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day's class remotely for all students.
- Physical Distancing—Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in the course and course-related activities.
- Classroom Ingress/Egress—Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded. Do not congregate in hallways and maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.
- The university will notify students in the event that the COVID-19 situation necessitates changes to the course schedule or modality.

COURSE INFORMATION

Course Overview and description: Analyze value-based management techniques with emphasis on the factors affecting the corporation's intent to maximize shareholder wealth. Explore financial statement analysis, cash flow analysis, economic and market value added securities valuation, the cost of capital, capital budgeting, capital structure, dividend policy, the use of leverage, working capital management, and corporate governance.

An advanced analysis of value-based management techniques with the emphasis on the factor affecting the corporation's quest to maximize shareholder wealth. Topics covered include financial statement analysis, cash flow analysis, economic and market value added, securities valuation, the cost of capital, capital budgeting, capital structure, dividend policy, the use of leverage, working capital management, and corporate governance.

Course Objective: This is intended as a second course in corporate finance, following a course in basic corporate finance. It provides greater depth of the issues of firm valuation, capital structure, cost of capital, capital budgeting. These issues are central to the investment, financing, and dividend policy decisions facing financial managers. The course also provides a link between theory and practice.

Upon completion of this course, students should be able to discuss, explain, or calculate the following:

1. The techniques used to solve different types of time value of money (TVM) problems.
2. The flow of information into a firm's financial statements, their measurement issues and the potential pitfalls in their information.
3. The factors that influence economic value added (EVA) and market value added (MVA).
4. The different methods used to assess a firm's strengths and weaknesses, including a deep look at financial statements.
5. The techniques used to value financial assets and the value of a firm.
6. How to measure stand-alone risk and market risk.
7. The relationship between risk and rates of return: the risk/return tradeoff.
8. The elements and peculiarities of the weighted average cost of capital (WACC) and its relationship with the optimal capital structure.
9. The basics of capital budgeting.

Competency Goals:

Upon completion of this course students are expected to be able to do the following:

1. Explain the relationship between compounding and discounting, between future and present value. Calculate the future value of some beginning amount, the present value of a single payment to be received in the future, the interest rate or time, given the other three variables in the TVM equation, the future and present value of a series of equal, periodic payments (annuity), the present and future values of an uneven series of cash flows, and construct loan amortization schedules for fully-amortized loans.
2. List the types of information found in a corporation's annual report, explain what a balance sheet is, the information it provides, and how assets and claims on assets are arranged on a balance sheet. Explain what an income statement is and the information it provides. Differentiate between net cash flow and accounting profit. Identify the purpose of the statement of cash flows, list the factors affecting a firm's cash position that are reflected in this statement, and identify the three categories of activities that are separated out in this statement.

3. Discuss how certain modifications to the accounting data are needed and used for corporate decision making and stock valuation purposes. Explain the terms: net operating working capital, total operating capital, NOPAT, operating cash flow, and free cash flow; and explain how each is calculated. Define the terms Market Value Added (MVA) and Economic Value Added (EVA), explain how each is calculated, and differentiate between them.
4. Identify the five groups of ratios, specify which ratios belong in each group and demonstrate how each is calculated. Explain what information each group gives us about the firm's financial position. Explain what trend analysis is, and why it is important. Describe how the basic Du Pont equation is used, and how it may be modified to form the extended Du Pont equation, which includes the effect of financial leverage. Explain "benchmarking" and its purpose.
5. Calculate the value of a bond with annual or semiannual interest payments. Calculate the yield to maturity, the yield to call, and the current yield on a bond. Differentiate between interest rate risk, reinvestment rate risk, and default risk. Explain the importance of bond ratings and list some of the criteria used to rate bonds. Determine the value of a share of common stock when: (1) dividends are expected to grow at some constant rate, (2) dividends are expected to remain constant (zero growth), and (3) dividends are expected to grow at some supernormal, or nonconstant, growth rate.
6. Determine the value of a share of preferred stock, or given its value, calculate its expected return. Apply the total company (corporate valuation) model to value a firm in situations where future dividends are not easily predictable. Define risk and calculate the expected rate of return, standard deviation, and coefficient of variation for a probability distribution and historical observations. Explain the significance of a stock's beta coefficient and use the market model to calculate it.
7. Specify how risk aversion influences required rates of return. State the basic proposition of the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM) and use the Security Market Line to calculate a stock's required rate of return. h. Define and calculate the component costs of debt and preferred stock.
8. Use several approaches to estimate the component cost of retained earnings. Calculate the cost of new common equity and calculate the retained earnings breakpoint. Calculate the firm's composite, or weighted average, cost of capital and explain how WACC moderates the optimal capital structure.
9. Calculate net present value (NPV) and internal rate of return (IRR) for a given project and evaluate each method. Calculate the modified internal rate of return (MIRR) for a given project and evaluate this method. Calculate both the payback and discounted payback periods for a given project and evaluate each method.

You will need a financial calculator. I prefer that you have the TI BAII Plus Professional financial calculator. This is because I can show you examples in class using this calculator. If you prefer to use a different business calculator or a graphics calculator that has financial functions that is fine but do not expect me to tutor you on how to use your calculator.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Assignments (100 points) – There will be homework assignments throughout the semester and their due dates are posted on the Course Homepage in Canvas. Instructions for each assignment are posted in Canvas, failure to follow instructions will result in a failing grade. All assignments combined will be worth 100 points. I will not accept late assignments. Let me repeat. I WILL NOT ACCEPT LATE ASSIGNMENTS!

Exams (300 points) - You will have 3 exams. Each exam is worth 100 points. All exams will cover material from the chapters that were covered after the previous exam. This means that the exams are not comprehensive...technically. However, since much of the material builds on itself you must understand earlier chapters to be able to show your understanding of later chapters. The optional final exam is comprehensive and if you elect to take the final it will replace your lowest exam grade. There is a risk to taking the final, your grade can improve or decline depending on your test score. Also, if you elect to take the final and do not complete the exam, you will receive a grade of 0.

All exams will be administered online using Proctorio!

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].
