Once the application is opened, the user hits the "911" button and if they take no further action within three seconds the application summons help. The dispatcher can then forward the information including the user's location to first responders. In addition to connecting the user to 911, the app has several other features: iReports Safe Walk Friend Watch Personal Profile <https://apps.apple.com/us/developer/texas-a-m-university-central-texas-police-department/id1465791523>
- Connect at 911Cellular [https://portal.publicsafetycloud.net/Texas-AM-Central/alert-management] to change where you receive your alerts or to opt out. Instructor's Personal Statement

It is very important for all psychology majors to learn and refine their APA writing knowledge and skills. That will enable them to better understand their textbook and other readings in their psychology courses, to increase in their critical thinking skills, to increase in psychological course classroom discussion effectiveness, to learn and refine their information research skills, and to write higher quality papers for those courses. This of course also means better course grades.

Class Members taking this course will be provided with an engaging, personally relevant, and academically sound introduction to understanding and APA writing of term papers, literature reviews, research reports, grant proposals, etc.

Note: The learning model for this course is: (1) Coming to class prepared (preparatory readings, exercises, assignments, quizzes completed on time before class); (2) Active In-Class participation (writing, critiquing/peer-feedback, active discussion participation); (3) Perhaps teaching pre-assigned topics to small group and/or our whole class.

As your instructor and learning facilitator, I will provide information and feedback in ways that I have found to be effective for internalization and life application. I expect every class member to be respectful of all others in class. Always be kind and sensitive while presenting your peer-feedback and in all classroom discussions.

Students may arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by visiting the UWC during normal operating hours (both half-hour and hour sessions are available) or by making an appointment via WOnline at [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu for any assistance needed with scheduling.

Writing Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

University Writing Center's (UWC) synchronous online writing tutoring services.

The UWC's online services are really taking off as more and more students become aware of the great writing instruction available to them conveniently online. Using WOnline, students can work with trained UWC tutors via video and/or text chat from the comfort of their own homes! During the Spring 2020 semester, a tutor trained to conduct synchronous online writing tutoring sessions will be available every hour the UWC is open. Please feel free to encourage your students to take advantage of our online services.

University Library:

The University Library provides many services in support of research across campus and at a distance. We offer over 200 electronic databases containing approximately 250,000 eBooks and 82,000 journals, in addition to the 85,000 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. Research guides for each subject taught at A&M-Central Texas are available through our website to help students navigate these resources. On campus, the library offers technology including cameras, laptops, microphones, webcams, and digital sound recorders.

Research assistance from a librarian is also available 24 hours a day through our online chat service, and at the reference desk when the library is open. Research sessions can be scheduled for more comprehensive assistance, and may take place on Skype or in-person at the library. Assistance may cover many topics, including how to find articles in peer-reviewed journals, how to cite resources, and how to piece together research for written assignments.

Our 27,000-square-foot facility on the A&M-Central Texas main campus includes student lounges, private study rooms, group work spaces, computer labs, family areas suitable for all ages, and many other features. Services such as interlibrary loan, TexShare, binding, and laminating are available. The library frequently offers workshops, tours, readings, and other events. For more information, please visit our Library website [http://tamuct.libguides.com/index].

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].

The Course Operation and Being a Disciplined Learner

Effective course learning requires class members to be very self-disciplined; be sure you understand and are prepared to comply with all required class assignments and deadlines. For this course, the Weekly Assignments will be posted on the Course Schedule with corresponding due dates listed within the Course Schedule. All graded weekly assignments are due by Sunday, 11:59 p.m. of the associated week, except for Week 16 which ends for our course on Thursday of that week.

If a class member experiences a technical problem that prevents submitting an assignment by the due date, the student should contact the instructor (Dr. Nowell) immediately. All assignments in this course are due by the listed due dates (Tuesdays and Thursdays before class time) found on the Course Schedule and at our course

Canvas pages for each specific assignment. All weekly graded quizzes are due by Sunday, 11:59 p.m. of the associated week, except for Week 16 which ends for our course on Thursday of that week.

It is the class member’s responsibility to read any announcements posted by the instructor (Dr. Nowell) under the Announcements section of our Canvas homepage or in e-mail. Students are expected to follow all instructions provided by the instructor (Dr. Nowell) for each specific assignment, precisely.

Class Discussion Participation and Class Attendance

Regular classroom attendance, active small-group and class discussion participation (asking questions and providing answers), in-class-writing and reading assignment quizzes, and peer-writing-feedback are required. A class member may receive an F in the course when his/her lack of attendance/active discussion participation prohibits him/her from meeting the course objectives, or when a class member accumulates excessive absences that prevent his or her active discussion participation, as well as completing and submitting assignments by the listed due dates. For every 100 points that a student misses in this course, the student’s final grade will drop one letter. In addition to active classroom activity and discussion, class members should not go more than 2-3 days without logging on to our course at Canvas to check for new announcements, reminders, and/or assignments.

The following schedule is subject to change at the instructor’s discretion, to facilitate class members’ learning needs/pace. You will be notified of any grade affecting changes prior to the changes.

How to find Peer Reviewed Articles

Psychological journal articles are the best source of Subject Matter Expert (SME) information to use to support what you write in some of your writing assignments. When you choose to include that sort of SME information in your writing assignments, be sure to use the most pertinent information from the peer reviewed article, if you choose to do this. If you choose to include peer-reviewed material, you can use the following guideline to retrieve peer-reviewed articles from the online library at TAMUCT.

1. University Library Online: Click or use this URL in your browser <http://tamuct.libguides.com/index>
2. Click: A-Z Databases (left side of page)

3. Choose your database. For example, scroll way down to "P" and choose Psychology and Behavioral Sciences Collection
4. The next step may ask you to login using normal log in credentials, if you are off campus.
5. Type in search topic in top box just under the name of the data base. For example, you may type in: Premarital Sex
6. It is VERY IMPORTANT that before you hit search that you check the box that says: Peer Reviewed AND the box that says: Full Text under the section called Limit Results
7. Click Search. This should bring up various peer-reviewed articles for your review.
8. If you don't find any relevant articles, try a different search word.
9. Please keep a copy of the article on your desktop or at least know how to retrieve it again should I ask you to provide the article to me through e-mail when I begin grading.
10. Cite the article in your reference list as you compose your discussion using APA formatting. If you don't already know APA formatting, view the information found to the left in this link about in-text citations (within the body of your discussion) and Reference List: Articles in Periodicals:

Rubric for your some of your Writing Assignments

The following criteria will be considered in evaluating some parts or all parts of your Writing Assignments.

1. Accuracy: Are your statements, facts, or ideas correct?
2. Clarity: Is your writing clear and easy to follow? It helps to read your written assignment out loud to yourself. Using this method, you can catch incomplete sentences, grammar errors, typos, and/or lapses in your thought.
3. Depth: Are each of the issues and implications thought out and explored?
4. Originality: What is your thesis (the main point or points of your writing)? When your own views are present, are they well articulated? Use your own words. Do not copy material directly from any readings or other sources without giving the author(s) proper credit by citation in the paragraph and full reference at the end of the paper. If you want to use any author's/persons exact words, put them in quotations and cite the page number or paragraph number from your source material. Remember that you need to express your own opinion(s).
Quoted material must not exceed 5%-10% of the body of the written assignment.
5. Supporting Evidence: Support your ideas/opinions/observations with empirical evidence if at all possible. This is a crucial part of any well written APA writing assignment. You may support your ideas with theories, previously conducted research, or other information that you encounter from books, and other sources (journal articles, online psychological SME articles, interviews with someone you know or meet, etc.). You may also use your personal experiences and observations as supporting evidence when appropriate.
6. References: Did you use appropriate references to support the main points of your writing? You may look in the course readings or a textbook and find references listed in the bibliography that might support your writing, then find and read those referenced journal or book articles. Be sure that you have these referenced articles if you use them. That means that you have the articles on hand and that you read them if you use them. Make sure that your references strongly relate to the point that you are making, or support your inferences.

7. Form, composition, spelling, etc: Try to make your writing neat and error free. It helps to run your spell checker and grammar checker before submitting your work and/or have a grammar/spelling competent peer or friend read over your work before submitting it.

8. When you paraphrase, use proper paraphrasing (see the handout on Proper Paraphrasing that I have provided). Please be sure that any paraphrased material that you include in your writing is also cited and referenced correctly.

9. APA Style: Follow the formatting rules of the American Psychological Association for your writing. Use your APA publication manual. You may also want to visit the APA or any other appropriate website for additional formatting information.

10. I have also posted two additional potentially useful handouts in our course Handouts folder. (Whole Person Diagram, Seven Whole-Person Attributes) These are optional to use for guidance for your research and writing.

Finding Quality SME Sources of Information for a Topic or Person

There are several good avenues to find high quality SME information.

Talk with a Reference Librarian at our TAMUCT library (in person if possible or virtually). Reference Librarians are specially trained and have good professional experience in finding all sorts of SME and other information

Use Wikipedia to learn more about your chosen topic or person and to see the many excellent SME primary sources of information at the end of the article about your topic or person. Try several well-thought search terms to find information about your chosen topic or person, because there are most likely various articles in Wikipedia about the topic or person.

A primary source of information is the original source, not information from someone who has read the original source. As best as possible, find and use primary sources of SME information to support your thinking and writing about your chosen topic or person.

Textbooks, Magazines, Newspapers, Wikipedia, Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, Most Internet Articles, etc. are not primary sources, but can have quality references that are primary sources. They can also have useful information to help you understand and write better about your topic or person. So, do read these secondary sources to learn about your topic or person and to find the referenced quality primary sources of SME information.

If your chosen topic or person is mentioned in a course textbook, there will also most likely be associated SME primary references.

Research Experience Requirement

Research Experience Requirement: Students in selected psychology courses (PSYC 3307, PSYC 3309, PSYC 3330, PSYC 4312, PSYC 4320) are required to engage in research experience activities as part of the course. The research experience activity includes either participating in research studies directly related to psychology, writing summaries of peer reviewed empirical research articles, or a combination of both.

Sign Up: To receive credit for a research experience activity, students must sign up to participate in a research study or write a research summary through the Counseling and Psychology Research Sign-Up System hosted by SONA (<https://tamuct.sona-systems.com>).

Students should access the TAMUCT SONA website and request an account using their TAMUCT email account. Students must verify their account requests before being granted access to the system. Once the account is verified, students will be able to sign-up for research experience activities. A tutorial video is provided for using SONA (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_1OnT2ZU6QQ). Students who have problems signing up for SONA or have questions should contact the SONA System Administrator.

Credits: Students are required to complete 3 research credits in this course. The first research credit must be earned before the middle of the course (midterm is 8 March, 2020). Credit is allotted as follows and is determined by the researcher (not the course instructor) based on estimated participation time:

- 1 credit for each hour (60 minutes) of research participation (in-person or online)
- 1/2 credit for each 1/2 hour (30 minutes) of research participation (in-person or online)
- 1 credit for each summary of a peer-reviewed, empirical research article.

Students who drop a class after having earned research experience credit cannot apply any accumulated credit from that class towards the next time they take the course.

Penalties: Any student who has not earned 1 research credit before the halfway point of the course (midterm) will be penalized 1 letter grade on the final course grade. Any student who has not earned all required research credits prior to the opening of the final exam period for the course will lose 1 letter grade on the final course grade for every research credit short of the required 3 research credits (e.g., missing 2 credits will result in a 2 letter grade reduction in the final course grade).

Psychological Journal Article Summary Guidance

To receive Research Experience credit for a research article summary, students should select a research article from the course reading list provided by their instructor. Articles not on the course reading list will not be accepted for credit. (Your Psychological Journal Article reading list for this course is from your Literature Review Assignment).

After students select an article, they should read the article and write a brief summary of each of the sections from the article listed below. Participation in this activity should take approximately 1 hour. Each section that includes a summary from the research article as described below will earn 1 point; each section that is not explained as described below will receive 0 points.

Each article summary must earn a score of 60% or more on the rubric to receive credit. No credit will be awarded for summaries that earn less than 60% on the rubric. No credit will be awarded for information that has been plagiarized from another source. All information must be written in the student's own words.

- 1. The reference for the article includes author, publication year, article title, journal name, volume number, and page numbers written in APA style. Place this reference at the top of your summary. Each of the following parts of the summary is to include a properly APA formatted in-text citation.
- 2. Thesis statement(s) for research article summary explains the purpose of the research.
- 3. The major variables in the research are explained.
- 4. The research questions/hypotheses tested in the study are explained.
- 5. A brief summary of research summarized in the Introduction section of the article is stated.
- 6. The participants in the research are described.
- 7. The study's procedure and the materials used to measure the variables (i.e., assessments) are described.
- 8. An explanation of how the results relate to the research questions/hypotheses is stated.
- 9. The study author's conclusions regarding the findings of the research are stated.
- 10. The author's limitations of the study are described.

Note, the information summarized for each section of the article can be written offline using a word processing program and copied and pasted into the online submission form.

This document is subject to change at the instructor's discretion. Students will be notified of any grade affecting changes prior to implementation of changes.
