Course Description and Objectives:

This class delves into the history of the sectional crisis in America. The Civil War in American History is a complex era that has been extremely popular, but often misunderstood. Through lecture, discussions, readings, and multimedia, this course will explore themes such as sectionalism, slavery, politics, war, economics, and gender in this period. This course will strengthen your critical thinking, reading, and writing skills, and provide a foundation for understanding the modern world. You will demonstrate the ability to develop and focus on one topic in writing assignments and present ideas in an organized, logical, and coherent form. You will also demonstrate the ability to use Standard English grammar, punctuation, spelling, and usage. Lastly, you will hopefully leave this class with a better understanding of America's past and how it has shaped the present.

Writing Assignments

Each paper should be modeled after critical reviews in Academic Journals such as the American Historical Review or The William and Mary Quarterly. A book review concentrates on identifying and critiquing on the author's thesis. What is the author trying to argue, what evidence do they use, and do you agree and disagree? It is not just a simple summary of the book.

Important Reminder

FORMATTING

Essays must comply with the following formatting guidelines. Writing assignments are due at the beginning of class on the date indicated. Essays must be submitted as hard copies (electronic copies of papers will not be accepted).
