COURSE INFORMATION

Course Overview and description

The purpose of FA-Music History II is to lay a strong foundation of music sources in the European tradition. Explore the history of western music, from music of Antiquity through medieval, the Renaissance, Baroque and into the early stages of Classical music. Special emphasis on theoretical structure, social and historical context, interaction with other art forms, and instrumentation will be explored. Students learn forms, styles, composers and specific compositions vital to their understanding of current musicals styles both “popular” and “classical”. The student will read the background material in the textbook as assigned, complete any assignments in the companion materials, access ancillary materials such as Playlists and <https://digital.wwnorton.com/hwm9> and share the results of that work with the class in open discussion. At times during the semester, students will prepare thumbnail biographical, instrument, or genre sketches to orally present to the class, analyze musical examples individually, or with a group.

Course Objective

To heighten the student’s awareness of the philosophical and artistic sources of his/her performance repertoire (both solo and ensemble), to enlarge the student’s musical vocabulary, and to encourage the student to deepen his/her respect for a wide variety of musical styles. The ability to communicate these ideas and concepts will be significantly demonstrated in written assignments.

This is a Writing Intensive course. Writing will be an integral part of measuring your mastery of course content and throughout the course, you will have several opportunities to work on improving your writing skills. Out of the 100% of available percentage points, more than half of them will be connected to some form of written work (e.g. Concert Reviews, Research Paper, etc.). Since learning to revise your writing is fundamental to improving writing skills, I will give you detailed feedback which will include specific ideas and approaches to improve your writing.

Student Learning Outcomes

The student will:

Upon successful completion of this course you will be able to:

1. Identify/discuss principal forms of composition from. Antiquity to 1750 with informed reference to previous periods.
2. Identify principal styles and musical influences as well as principal or significant composers from before 1750.
3. Analyze musical form structure and interpret literature from each period of music. The extent to which one can describe music in detail depends, in part, upon previous musical training in music theory, ear-training, one's instrumental and/or vocal proficiency, etc.
4. Identify (through listening/aural and stylistic analysis) the possible composer, period, and type of composition from the mid-18th century to the present day. When applicable, you will be able to use musical parameters for formal analysis.

Drop Policy

Drop Policy If you discover that you need to drop this class, you must complete a Drop Request Form [https://www.tamuct.edu/registrar/docs/Drop_Request_Form.pdf]. Professors cannot drop students; drops are the responsibility of the student. The Registrar's Office will provide on the University Calendar a deadline for which the form must be completed, signed and returned. Once you return the signed form to the Registrar's Office, you must go into Warrior Web and confirm that you are no longer enrolled. If you still show as enrolled, FOLLOW-UP with the Registrar's Office immediately. Attend class until the procedure is complete to avoid penalty for absence. Should you miss the drop deadline or fail to follow the procedure, you will receive an F in the course, which may affect your financial aid and/or VA educational benefits. Students that find themselves facing an unexpected, life altering circumstance before the drop deadline published on the academic calendar should drop the course. Should a student encounter an unexpected, life altering circumstance after the drop deadline, that student may be eligible for an incomplete so long as all work due before the circumstance has been submitted and the student has a reasonable chance to pass the course should remaining work be completed as soon as the circumstance resolves itself. No student should expect to receive an incomplete, and certainly not if there was time to drop the class.

Located in Warrior Hall 416, the University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University–Central Texas (TAMUCT) is a free workspace open to all TAMUCT students from 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday thru Thursday with satellite hours in the University Library Monday thru Thursday from 6:00-9:00 p.m. This semester, the UWC is also offering online only hours from 12:00-3:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by visiting the UWC during normal operating hours (both half-hour and hour sessions are available) or by making an appointment via WCOOnline [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC and/or need any assistance with scheduling.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/departments/compliance/titleix.php].
