Fall 2021 – Blended Classroom & Online
Texas A&M University-Central Texas
College of Business Administration

COURSE DATES, MODALITY, AND LOCATION
The course is taught in a “blended” format, meaning class will meet alternative Thursday nights 6:00 – 8:45 p.m., with online content and assignments provided in between class meeting times using the A&M-Central Texas Canvas Learning Management System [https://tamuct.instructure.com]. Attendance at Thursday night face to face sessions is MANDATORY, the dates for these sessions are: 8/26, 9/9, 9/23, 10/7, 10/21, 11/4, 11/18, and 12/2. We will meet in Founders Hall Room 209. Students who have to miss a session due to required work, travel or an illness should advise Dr. Altman in advance and she will work with you to make up the work. The advantage of a blended format is that synchronous meeting times are reserved for activities/exercises best suited to interaction and discourse, and concepts/learning resources best suited to individual study can be accomplished via online learning, thereby optimizing student time management.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES
Students must be self-disciplined and a self-starter to be successful in this class. The reading load is substantial, the topics complex and you will need to carefully think through and support your perspectives on the issues with well documented rationales. Good writing skills are essential as case analyses, journal writing, discussion forums and papers are all required assignments. Please review this Syllabus, the grading points/assignments, and course schedule in detail prior to agreeing to all course requirements via the Student Course Agreement.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

a. Student Profile and Course Agreement: Students must read this Syllabus carefully and document they understand all course requirements by the end of the first week of class. The course agreement certifies students understand this Syllabus, all required course assignments, and the expectations associated with this class. The agreement is worth 20 grading points.

b. Discussion Forums: Early in the semester two Discussion Forums will help students engage with core partnership readings and concepts. Students must read the assigned articles and compose an initial post responding to prompts; this post is worth 20 grading points. Two response posts will be required, challenging your student colleagues to think harder about their initial post and the readings and concepts. Each of the second posts are worth 5 points. Total for each Forum is 30 grading points. (LOs 1, 2 & 3)

c. Reflection Journals: Twice during the semester students will engage in a self-study about the partnership concepts. This written paper will probe your personal sentiments about cross sector work and sustainability, and the critical capabilities needed to accomplish them. These papers will be worth 50 grading points. (LO 6)

d. Meta-Analysis Paper: All of the assigned background readings will offer varying perspectives on the critical components and processes necessary to have successful cross-sector partnerships. In this paper students will analyze and track readings for these factors and compose a combined analysis of these features. Early in the semester students will submit a preliminary analyses to gain feedback that they are on track with their analyses, this assignment will be worth 10 grading points. After all the readings have been completed, the full meta-analysis paper will be due; it will be worth 90 grading points. (LO 3)

e. Student presentations on supplemental articles: The literature on partnerships is quite large and growing. Every attempt has been made to design the readings in this class to highlight the most informative. These “core” readings have been assigned to all students. For some topic areas in the class there are additional readings that lend some perspectives not covered in the identified core readings. Once during the semester, students will be assigned a “supplemental” reading to read and summarize its contribution to the class. This presentation is worth 20 grading points. (LOs 1, 2)

f. Case Analyses: Careful study of “real world” partnerships, both those that have succeeded and those with challenges, will be a critical part of this class. Following completion of the “meta-analysis” paper, there will be a series of published case studies assigned. These case studies take some time and in-depth reading multiple times to grasp the dynamics of the partnership. Each case study analysis will be worth 50 grading points. Instructions for the format and method for these case analyses will be shared via the course web site and in the face to face class sessions. (LOs 4, 5, 7)

g. Case Research and Write-Up: There are exciting NGO/business sustainability partnerships happening in our region. We will review some of these projects early in the semester and students will choose one of particular interest to do supplemental research on for a final project in the class. Students will write an initial memo identifying the case they will research, with preliminary supporting information, this will be worth 10 points. The case study written final paper will be worth 80 grading points. The last night of class students will be required to present their case study to the class, including a PowerPoint presentation. Grades for Discussion Forums and Class presentations will be posted within five days of the due date.

Grading Policies
It is best not to get behind in this course so normally late assignments are not accepted. We are living in a pandemic, however, so uncertainty can create situations where deadlines may need to shift. If you find you need an extension on an assignment, message Dr. Altman PRIOR to the due date/time of the assignment and request an extension; state the reason and when you think you will be able to complete it. Reasonable requests will be accommodated. If students need an extension on a Case Assignment, please note that student will be asked to excuse themselves from that part of the class discussion that follows directly after the due date of the case (this is necessary to prevent an unfair advantage in writing up the case study).

ADDITIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas
Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don’t agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don’t be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2]. Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [https://www.tamuct.edu/bit]. If a person’s behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M-Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5800.
