COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES

To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the coronavirus pandemic, Texas A&M University-Central Texas has adopted policies and practices to minimize virus transmission. All members of the university community are expected to adhere to these measures to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses, course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.) and co-curricular programs:

- Self-monitoring—Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction. Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities.

- Face Coverings— Face coverings must be worn inside of buildings and within 50 feet of building entrances on the A&M-Central Texas Campus. This includes lobbies, restrooms, hallways, elevators, classrooms, laboratories, conference rooms, break rooms, non-private office spaces, and other shared spaces. Face coverings are also required in outdoor spaces where physical distancing is not maintained. The university will evaluate exceptions to this requirement on a case by case basis. Students can request an exception through the Office of Access and Inclusion in Student Affairs.
 - o If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office of Student Conduct. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day’s class remotely for all students.
- Physical Distancing—Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in the course and course-related activities.
- Classroom Ingress/Egress—Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded. Do not congregate in hallways and maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.
- The university will notify students in the event that the COVID-19 situation necessitates changes to the course schedule or modality.

- Demonstrate proper language and grammar usage in written assignments
- Explore various genres of typical high school English curriculum
- Research the theory and literature necessary to create a unit of study
- Create metacognitive journal entries on classroom readings

Required Textbook

Atwell, Nancie. In the Middle: A Lifetime of Learning About Writing, Reading, and Adolescents. Heinemann, 2015.
ISBN: 978-0-325-02813-2

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Non-Gradable Requirements

Regular Attendance

Regular attendance is essential for students to be able to complete assignments with the rigor or insight expected. Students should, therefore, attend (in every sense of the word) every class. An absence does not excuse one from any aspect of the course.

Regular Reading

The assigned reading directly impacts one's ability to master the material of this course or complete the assignments. Students should read (in every sense of the word) every page of every chapter assigned. Failure to read an assigned portion of the text does not excuse one from knowing the concepts introduced in that section.

Regular Participation

Faithful participation in class discussions and work directly affects one's ability to master the material or complete assignments satisfactorily. Students should enter discussions and in-class work sessions fully committed to the critical thinking and careful scrutiny this class demands.

Gradable Requirements

Units of Study

There are five (5) units of study for this course. For each unit, you will complete a project that, hopefully, you will be able to use in your classroom. These units require research, reading, and planning and should be completed with the appropriate principles and purpose clearly in mind. Each unit will have informational handouts and classroom activities to guide you through them.

Electric Journal Entries

The textbook for this course requires extensive reading. To keep up with that reading, you will complete an online dialectical journal entry to be posted online. A dialectical journal is a page divided in two, lengthwise. On the left side, record the quotes (at least five for each chapter) that you have strong feelings about. Use quotation marks for the quotes, and record the page number(s) for each one. On the right side, record your reaction(s) to the quote on the left. Do you agree, disagree, have comments on, how will it affect your teaching/classroom, etc. The form with an example is on Canvas. These entries are due by midnight the day before the deadline. I will check these entries on the day of class they are due.

Grading Criteria

Assignment	Point Value	The distribution of final grades is as follows:
Written composition	12 points	90-100 = A
Shakespeare Unit	16 points	80-89 = B
Short Story Unit	16 points	70-79 = C
Poetry Unit	16 points	60-69 = D
Three-week lesson plan	20 points	Below 60=F
Journal Entries	15 points
Final Exam and Reflection	5 points
TOTAL	100 points

A point system of this sort does not yield “borderline” grades. By taking every reading and assignment seriously, students assure themselves of getting the highest grade possible and avoiding the frustration of “just missing” a desired grade.

Posting of Grades

I will post the grades on Canvas as soon as I finish grading an assignment, usually within two class periods. It is easy for you to be fully aware of your grades at all times.

I check e-mail several times a day, even on weekends. If you have questions, please e-mail me either on Canvas or the regular Texas A&M-Central Texas e-mail.

Late Work/Make-up Work

Assignments are due at the assigned time. In the event that you will not be able to meet the due dates, please see me and discuss alternatives. Should we negotiate a new due date, I will deduct 10% from your grade for each day it is late, and you will not be able to revise that document.

Incompletes

Incompletes should be reserved for unexpected, life altering situations that develop after the drop deadline. Students should drop a course should something happen that prevents them from completing the course ahead of the drop deadline. Failure to do so will result in an F in the course.

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].

Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [https://www.tamuct.edu/student-affairs/bat.html].
