COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES

To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the coronavirus pandemic, Texas A&M University-Central Texas has adopted policies and practices to minimize virus transmission. All members of the university community are expected to adhere to these measures to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses, course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.) and co-curricular programs:

- Self-monitoring—Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction. Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities.
- Face Coverings—Face coverings must be worn inside of buildings and within 50 feet of building entrances on the A&M-Central Texas Campus. This includes lobbies, restrooms, hallways, elevators, classrooms, laboratories, conference rooms, break rooms, non-private office spaces, and other shared spaces. Face coverings are also required in outdoor spaces where physical distancing is not maintained. The university will evaluate exceptions to this requirement on a case by case basis. Students can request an exception through the Office of Access and Inclusion in Student Affairs.

o If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office of Student Conduct. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day's class remotely for all students.

- Physical Distancing—Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in the course and course-related activities.
- Classroom Ingress/Egress—Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded. Do not congregate in hallways and maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.
- The university will notify students in the event that the COVID-19 situation necessitates changes to the course schedule or modality.

Course Description This course focuses on the practice of social work in a child welfare context. This course is designed to introduce students to a variety of social work settings in child welfare. Past and present child welfare policies and programs will be examined. Additionally, a service-learning project is embedded in the course to engage students with child welfare needs.

More specific description: Using family systems and human behavior theories as organizing perspectives, this course provides an integrated look at the bio-psycho-social-cultural factors involved in various types of child maltreatment. Emphasis is placed on theories and knowledge about the range of ways in which children's welfare can be impacted positively and negatively and the long-term ways in which people's lives are impacted. Implications for social work practice are explored, as are values/beliefs and how they affect professional effectiveness in this field of practice. Legal and ethical issues are included.

Prerequisites: None

Nature of Course

This course will provide students an opportunity to explore a range of issues related to child welfare and child maltreatment. Types of child maltreatment will be explored, looking at family dynamics, treatment issues, cultural factors, and prevention approaches. Professional social work roles in the field will be discussed, along with legal and ethical issues. Students will be encouraged to explore ways in which their own parenting experiences have led to the development of their personal values and beliefs and how this may impact their ability to be effective when dealing with child maltreatment issues.

Teaching Method

The primary teaching approach in this course will be collaborative learning. Material in the course will be presented through class discussions on readings, videotapes, and in-class group exercises. Guest presenters and field trips will provide an in depth view of the current challenges and services.

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR CLASSROOMS

Social work practitioners respect others. Unfortunately, we have had extreme problems with disruptive and disrespectful behavior by students in classes, leading to the development of this code of conduct, which all students are required to follow. Please see the Rubric for Assessing Profession Behaviors.

1. Students are expected to be present for every scheduled class session (with camera's on for virtual classes) to enrich the learning experience.

2. Once class has begun, students are expected to remain for the duration of the class. It is expected that all students will take care of personal affairs (i.e., get beverages, take care of phone calls, meeting with students and other professors, use the restroom, etc.) before class begins. Students who have a medical/physical condition for which they need to request an exception to this policy need to discuss this with the professor to see if an exception can be granted. Students leaving the class outside of these parameters should not attempt to re-enter the class and will receive a 0 for class participation and/or attendance that day. Students are expected to display professional decorum at all times. This includes, but is not limited to, respecting classmates and the instructor. In this regard, it is expected that students will not speak to/hold conversations with/pass notes to other students once class has begun without recognition by the professor to do so. Talking during lecture, out of turn, or while other students are talking is disruptive to the learning environment, disrespectful to peers, and unprofessional in demeanor. Students are strongly encouraged to engage in discussion in respectful and appropriate manners; hence, it is expected that students apply classroom etiquette and raise a hand if there is something to share or to answer a question. It is also expected that students will display patience in raising a hand and recognize that the professor will eventually call on the student and/or may attempt to vary responses from peers and not call on the student in an effort to do so. Shouting out answers, making loud noises, and/or waving a hand vigorously to capture attention is unprofessional and inappropriate behavior. Consistent display of such behavior will result in consultation by the professor and can potentially impact the attendance/participation grade.
1. To support the academic learning environment, students are asked to refrain from sharing personal information in class that will not support/add significantly to the class discussion. Sharing of personal stories and/or issues that are not related to the topic can distract class learning and limit knowledge sharing by the professor and other students. In this regard, please note that the professor reserves the right to redirect/limit such conversations in class unless students are expressly asked to share such information by the instructor.
4. Use of personal technology or gadgets during class period is prohibited. This includes laptop computers, cell phones, i-pads, kindles, e-readers (unless the student has purchased the class textbook for use in this way, in which case this needs to be discussed with the professor), or any other kind of equipment. Exceptions to this are use of audio recording devices during lecture (with permission) and aid of assisted technology as permitted via a disability accommodation. Failure to adhere to this rule can result in being asked to leave the class and receiving a 0 for class participation/attendance for the day.
5. Late work will not be accepted or graded unless this has been discussed with and approved by the professor BEFORE class on the due date of the assignment. Being absent from class on a day when an assignment is due does NOT grant a student an extension to the due date; the student must still arrange to get that assignment turned in to the professor before class starts. Allowing students to turn in assignments late for a grade is not fair to other students who got their work done on time, disrupts the grading process for the professors, and sends a message that such behavior is professionally “okay,” which it is not. This, as well as all other policies, will be held to strict code, and failure to adhere to this policy will result in a 0 for the assignment. This is inclusive of all assignments.
6. TAMU-CT expects all students to maintain high standards of personal and scholarly conduct and avoid any form of academic dishonesty, for which disciplinary sanctions exist. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism (intentional or unintentional), copying another person's work, turning in someone else's work as your own, downloading material from the internet and inserting it into a paper as if it was your own work, taking ideas from classes or readings and putting them in a paper without citations/references, cheating on an examination or other academic work, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. Any idea, even paraphrased ideas, used or borrowed must be given credit by showing the source with an appropriate citation or reference. Any student who violates the university's policies regarding Academic Honesty will receive a failing grade in this course and will be reported to the Director of Student Affairs for additional university sanctions. More information can be found at www.ct.tamus.edu/studentconduct.

1. Class discussions, oral presentations, and written materials must adhere to professional standards of expression and conform to the style described by the American Psychological Association. This includes avoidance of the use of language that degrades women, people of color, gays, lesbians, bisexuals, transgendered, and other diverse and at-risk populations. All students are expected to display the utmost respect for all people, regardless of differences.

The aforementioned policies are designed to create and foster a positive and rewarding learning environment for all students. Failure to adhere to the aforementioned class policies, as well as university policies, demonstrates a potential inability to conduct oneself professionally in the field of study. These policies are applicable throughout the program and, as such, students who consistently fail to comply with this code of conduct will be considered inappropriate candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Social Work at TAMU-CT as their behavior is considered inappropriate for a social work practitioner.

Students need to understand that the way you behave in class and the degree of responsibility you demonstrate in approaching your school work are used by the professors as a measure of your readiness to be formally admitted to the social work major, accepted for a field agency placement, and allowed to graduate with a BSW degree. Students who consistently fail to comply with this code of conduct will be considered inappropriate candidates for any of these measures of success in social work education because their behavior is considered inappropriate for a social work practitioner.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html>].
