COVID-19 SAFETY MEASURES

To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the coronavirus pandemic, Texas A&M University-Central Texas has adopted policies and practices to minimize virus transmission. All members of the university community are expected to adhere to these measures to ensure their own safety and the safety of others. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses, course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.) and co-curricular programs:

- Self-monitoring—Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction. Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities.
- Face Coverings—Face coverings must be worn inside of buildings and within 50 feet of building entrances on the A&M-Central Texas Campus. This includes lobbies, restrooms, hallways, elevators, classrooms, laboratories, conference rooms, break rooms, non-private office spaces, and other shared spaces. Face coverings are also required in outdoor spaces where physical distancing is not maintained. The university will evaluate exceptions to this requirement on a case by case basis. Students can request an exception through the Office of Access and Inclusion in Student Affairs.

  - If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office of Student Conduct. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day’s class remotely for all students.

- Physical Distancing—Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in the course and course-related activities.
- Classroom Ingress/Egress—Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded. Do not congregate in hallways and maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.

The university will notify students in the event that the COVID-19 situation necessitates changes to the course schedule or modality.

Course Purpose

This writing intensive course builds on the conceptual knowledge of SOWK Research Statistics. This course focuses on the application of these concepts to social work research. Students will develop a SOCIAL WORK research topic, develop a related literature review, research question, and develop these into a research proposal with appropriate methods and analytic tools (statistics). Student will also learn the purpose and methods of evaluation research. Students should learn and be prepared to apply ethical principles of social work research and evaluation of practice, broadly defined. This is a writing intensive course. Students will be expected to write drafts of their work, and sound writing is an important part of the grade. The product should be original work.

Prerequisites: SOWK 4300 & SOWK 4320

Nature of Course

Writing for Social Work Research serves as a follow-up to SOWK 4320 Research Methods & Statistics with a focus on the professional writing for social work research. Specifically, this is a writing intensive course that builds on the conceptual knowledge of SOWK 4320 and the rest of the social work curriculum by having students apply that knowledge to facilitate their understanding, interpretation, and application of research. The focus in this course is on the evaluation of practice, critical evaluation of published research, and the design and completion of a professional social work research proposal. Program evaluation in social work, a form of applied research, will also be covered. Drafting of sections for the research proposal is required. Failure to submit drafts in a timely way will negatively affect your grade.

The following course has infused curriculum that prepares students with the necessary casework skills required by 45CFR 1356.60 Title IV-E Training Program.

Teaching Method

The primary teaching approaches in this course will be interactive class discussion, lecture, and active (applied) learning. Some class sessions will focus much like a seminar with discussion and feedback. Material in the course will be presented through... lecture, interactive class discussions, and student generated discussions on research assignments. Additional supplemental information will be posted on the course Canvas site. You will need to read, prepare material, and discuss your work in class or you will be disappointed with your final grade for the course. This is a writing intensive class and requires that drafts of sections for the written assignments be submitted prior to the final version. Lack of attention to keeping up, discussing progress on the development of the research proposal, and/or delay in the submission of drafts is likely to negatively affect the grade. An important part of the learning process is writing drafts, discussion, feedback, and use of the feedback process. Failure to respond to comments on drafts may also affect your grade on subsequent assignments. You should expect to be an active part of the learning process.

Program Mission

The mission of the Bachelor of Social Work Program at Texas A&M University - Central Texas is to prepare high quality graduates for entry-level generalist social work practice and advanced education through education that is delivered in a rigorous and student-centered learning environment that promotes professional behavior, values and ethics, human and community well-being, respect for human diversity, and a global perspective, and is guided by a person-in-environment framework, knowledge based on scientific inquiry, and social work competencies in support of the college and university missions.

The social work program at TAMUCT uses a generalist framework for practice. The program definition of generalist practice as:

Work with individuals, families, groups, communities and organizations in a variety of social work and host settings. Generalist practitioners view clients and client systems from a strength's perspective in order to recognize, support, and build upon the innate capabilities of all human beings. They use a professional problem solving process to engage, assess, broker services, advocate, counsel, educate, and organize with and on behalf of clients and client systems. In addition, generalist practitioners engage in community and organizational development. Finally, generalist practitioners evaluate service outcomes in order to continually improve the provision and quality of services most appropriate to client needs.

Generalist social work practice is guided by the NASW Code of Ethics and is committed to improving the well-being of individuals, families, groups, communities and organizations and furthering the goals of social justice. (Source: BPD web page)

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

The following activities will be completed during the semester:
1. Research Proposal: Students are expected to complete a professional research proposal as a process for evaluating the relevant course competencies demonstrated by the student. The proposal should be professionally written (this is a writing intensive course) and follow APA format. The final research proposal in its entirety is generally between 16-25 pages in length – which, when complete, includes the following:

- Cover page
- Abstract
- List of appendices (if included)
- Introduction/statement of problem and purpose of research
- Literature review
- Clear Statement of the Research Question
- Methods (measures, design, & statistics)
- Discussion
- References, and
- Appendix (or appendices)

Note: References must include a minimum of 12 professional references (total – entire paper) – 10 of which must be peer-reviewed articles. A minimum of 8 sources must be from social work (excluding course texts). US sources are generally preferred unless there is a specific reason to add International sources. Electronic versions of professional journal articles are acceptable are part of the 10 journal articles. The remainder may be online resources (except Wikipedia), books, etc. Generally accepted practice is to use primarily articles 10 or less years old and use quotations sparingly. Your textbooks do not count as sources, but they may be used.

Part I: Introduction/Statement of the Problem: Every good piece of research or research proposal begins with a clear statement of the problem and why this is an important topic to study. To a considerable degree making this case clearly depends on a prior review of the literature in the area. This is where you must lay out the what, why, and how of what you are proposing. This piece will help to frame your proposal. You will also need to include the significance of what you are proposing, especially as it relates to social work. In other words, why is this important for anyone to know and what is its relevance to social work? You need to consider your audience in this section. Who will be the primary readers of this (other than the instructor). This section needs to be clear, target your audience, and precede your literature review. This section needs to indicate the purpose of your research. Ultimately you must answer the – So What? – question here. This should clearly identify a connection to social work and what you propose to do.

Part II: Literature Review: This portion of the research proposal introduces the audience to the proposed topic in depth and explains what is known and not known about the topic at hand. Key terms should be clearly defined. Questions like what purpose will it serve the field of social work and/or Society may be addressed. What gap in the knowledge and/or practice will this study serve to fill? To answer these questions, the literature review should include a comprehensive and balanced review of the available literature on the student’s research topic. It should begin with a description of the prevalence of the problem and include literature that positively and negatively relates to the student’s topic of research. It may, depending on the type of research include at least one theory or perspective that is related to the student’s topic. This is important since your methods will need to connect to the literature and prevailing theories or perspectives. The review should conclude with statement summarizing the purpose, research or guiding questions, and hypothesis (es) or research questions. If you are doing program evaluation, at least part of this review must be to describe the program and its objectives. The literature review should serve as the foundation to the structure of the entire proposal, and variables that are to be operationalized should be connected to the review. In this you should demonstrate that you are familiar with your topic. Extensive quotations are to be avoided as they affect the flow. Use paraphrasing – not quotes. The literature review also needs to include a summary of the review tells us – not just a description of articles.

Literature Review Submission Requirements: A draft of the Literature review is required before the final version is submitted. The completed literature review must be typed with 12-point, Times New Roman font, double-spaced and 1-inch margins. Citations should be used appropriately. Excessive quotations may not be used in the literature review (no more than 2). Any quotations should be short, essential to make a point, and succinct. A completed reference list following APA 6th edition guidelines must also be submitted with the completed Literature Review. An abstract must also be included along with an APA 6th edition cover page. The introduction should be included before the literature review and a clear transition should be provided between the two. The body of the Literature Review should be roughly 8-10 pages in length (this is only a guide).

Part III: Methods Section Review: A draft of the methods section is required before submitting the final methods section. Where the literature review serves to express to the audience why you are proposing to conduct the planned research, the methods section serves to provide the how. It is the frame to your proposal structure. Here you have some flexibility in designing your study. You may choose to follow the traditional empirical model, a qualitative approach, mixed methods, evaluation of practice or program, or even historical research. Whatever methods you choose, they must conform to professional models for that type of research. In this regard, the methods section should include a description of the intended methods, relevant participants in the study, inclusion and exclusion criteria for the participants, and the intended sampling or data collection method. It should include a description of any measures that are going to be used and the established reliability and validity of these measures. It should include the study design and the procedures for the study. The proposal must also include proposed method(s) for analyzing your data (yes statistics is included!). While the methods section generally does not include a description of the present study and hypothesis or research question, for the purposes of this paper, this information should be restated at the beginning of the section. You will need to address how you get your sample population for the research. You will have to address IRB approval and if you are using an established measure, you may have to purchase the measures from a company or request permission to use them. So how will you get your measures? You should also identify any limitations that affect the generalizability of your research. Note: if you are doing research that directly affects human subjects you must reference the IRB process (although you don’t need to make an application).

Methodology Submission Requirements: Completed Methods Section must be typed with 12 point, Times New Roman font, 1-inch margins and double spaced. Citations should be used appropriately and follow APA 6th edition guidelines. Excessive quotations may not be used (no more than 2). A completed reference list following APA guidelines must also be submitted with the Methods Section. An APA 6th edition cover page must be included. The Methods Section should be about 5 pages in length.

Parts IV & V: Discussion Section Review and Expected Findings: A draft of the methods section is required as a part of submitting the final paper. The discussion section of the research proposal follows the methodology section and serves to summarize for your audience what was done. It includes suggestions for future studies as well as limitations of the proposed study. The discussion section puts the finishing touches to the proposal structure. Included in this section should be a brief restatement of some of the relevant literature on the research topic to demonstrate again the need for the research. It should include any ethical issues or implications of your research. It should include the strengths and limitations of your study. It should include implications for social work practice, policy, research, and education that can be anticipated as a result of your study’s completion. Also, while in reality the discussion section generally does not explicitly state a description of the present study, for the purposes of this paper, the student will briefly summarize this information. This section should also be thoroughly referenced according to APA 6th edition style. Generally there should not be much new literature here.

Discussion Section Submission Requirements: Completed Discussion Section must be typed with 12 point, Times New Roman font, 1-inch margins and double-spaced. Citations should be used appropriately and follow APA 6th edition guidelines. Excessive quotations may not be used (no more than 1). A completed reference list following APA guidelines must also be submitted with the Methods Section. An APA 6th edition cover page must be included. The Discussion Section should be approximately 2-3 pages in length.

Part VI: Full Research Proposal: Part four of the research proposal includes a revision to the Literature Review, Methodology and Discussion sections, based on draft comments. The purpose of this submission is to allow students the opportunity to make corrections to the submitted components, fine tune writing skills, and create a clean, revised copy of the proposal that can be used in writing sample requests in future academic and professional pursuits.

Please note: If your schedule is such that you find it consistently difficult to arrive to class on time, remain for the full class, or arrive to class at all, it is advised that you find a course that would best meet your scheduling needs.

CLASS POLICIES

The following policies apply to all students enrolled in this course:

1. Students are not permitted to enter class more than ten (10) minutes late. It is disruptive. Exceptions will be made with prior discussion and approval by the professor only. As per University policy children may not be brought to class without prior permission of the instructor.
2. Once class has begun, students are expected to remain for the duration of the class. It is expected that all students will take care of personal affairs (i.e., get beverages, take care of phone calls, meeting with students and other professors, use the restroom, etc.) before class begins. Students who have a medical/physical condition for which they need to request an exception to this policy are advised to speak with the Disability Services Coordinator and/or discuss this with the professor to see if an exception can be granted. Students leaving the class outside of these parameters should not attempt to re-enter the class.

3. Students are expected to display professional decorum at all times. This includes, but is not limited to, respecting classmates and the instructor. In this regard, it is expected that students will not speak to/hold conversations with/pass notes to other students, use cell phones, or engage in other types of unprofessional behaviors once class has begun. Talking during lecture, out of turn, or while other students are talking is disruptive to the learning environment, disrespectful to peers, and unprofessional in demeanor. Derogatory language should not be used in class.

Students are strongly encouraged to engage in discussion in a respectful and appropriate manner. Shouting out answers, making loud noises, and/or waving a hand vigorously to capture attention is unprofessional, disruptive, and inappropriate behavior. Consistent display of such behavior will result in consultation by the professor.

4. To support the academic learning environment, students are asked to refrain from sharing personal information in class that will not support/add significantly to the class discussion. Sharing of personal stories and/or issues that are not related to the topic can distract class learning and limit knowledge sharing by the professor and other students. In this regard, please note that the professor reserves the right to redirect/limit such conversations in class unless students are expressly asked to share such information by the instructor.

5. NO TECHNOLOGY IS PERMITTED DURING THE IN CLASS EXAMS, QUIZZES, OR OTHER TYPES OF ASSIGNMENTS AS DEFINED BY THE PROFESSOR, UNLESS GIVEN SPECIFIC PERMISSION BY THE PROFESSOR. During such assignments, students may be asked to turn in cell phones to the professor, place bags beneath desk or to the side of class, or other request to minimize use of such technology. Students discovered to be using cell phones, smart watches, tablets, laptops, e-readers, recording devices, etc. during assignments without expressed, written approval by the professor to do so will receive a zero (0) for the assignment and referred to Student Affairs for academic integrity concerns.

6. Students are NOT permitted to work collaboratively (together) on any assignment unless given EXPRESSED permission by the instructor to do so. This includes homework; take home quizzes, papers, etc. Failure to adhere to this policy can result in a zero (0) on the assignment and referral to Student Affairs for academic integrity concerns. Giving too much information/help to another student may be as big an academic integrity issue as receiving that information!

7. All assignments must be turned in (submitted) at the beginning of class on the date and time indicated. Late work will not be accepted or graded unless this has been discussed with and approved by the professor BEFORE the due date (not the due time) of the assignment. Being absent from class on a day when an assignment is due does NOT grant a student an extension to the due date. As a demonstration of professional practice, the student must still arrange to get that assignment turned in to the professor before class starts. Allowing students to turn in assignments late for a grade is not fair to other students who get their work done on time, disrupts the grading process for the professors, and sends a message that such behavior is professionally “okay,” which it is not. This, as well as all other policies, will be held to strict code, and failure to adhere to this policy will result in a zero (0) for the assignment. This is inclusive of all assignments. Students are not to miss examinations or deadlines for assignments except for university excused absences. Documentation must be provided.

8. Unless otherwise noted, hard copies of papers must be submitted. Students should be prepared to submit electronic copies of any paper for class at the discretion of the instructor. No assignments should be submitted email without the prior permission of the instructor.

9. All papers submitted for grading MUST adhere to APA 7th edition standards unless otherwise stated by the professor. This means that all papers must, minimally, be: 1) typed, 2) double spaced, and appropriately cited. Any exceptions must be approved by the professor.

Use Times New Roman12 point font, include an APA style cover page, include in-text citations AND a reference page for ANY SOURCED INFORMATION (this includes information learned in current or previous classes, read online, learned during a personal communication, reviewed over email, read in a text-book, etc.). Further, all typed papers submitted in class MUST be stapled or clipped together (if too large for staple). It is not acceptable, nor professional, to hand in a paper that is not professionally bound (in academia, professionally bound means stapled or securely clipped together). Unless instructed to do so, submitting papers in folders, binders, etc. are not required and should be limited in use.

10. TAMUCT expects all students to maintain high standards of personal and scholarly conduct and avoid any form of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism (intentional or unintentional), copying another person's work, turning in someone else's work as your own, downloading material from the internet and inserting it into a paper as if it was your own work, taking ideas from classes or readings and putting them in a paper without citations/references, cheating on an examination or other academic work, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. Any idea, even paraphrased ideas, used or borrowed must be given credit by showing the source with an appropriate citation and reference. Any student who violates class and/or university policies regarding Academic Honesty will be sanctioned according to the University and program guidelines. Academic dishonesty will result in a grade of 0 on the assignment. More information on university policies can be found at ct.tamus.edu/studentconduct. Failure to maintain integrity of one’s work is also a violation of the NASW Code of Ethics.
11. Additional & Important Note on Writing Assignments: All written assignments are expected to be the original work of the student. While paraphrasing and some direct quotations are permitted, it is expected this will be done within the context of your own analysis and synthesis of the information read. Paraphrasing is a skill of reading information and, using your own thoughts, summarizing the information in a way that supports the topic discussed.

While the paraphrase involves your own thoughts, it originates from a source and that source is cited. Quoting is a matter of taking words, verbatim, from another source and restating them without, or with minimal, manipulation. Quotations are placed in quotation marks (“ ”) or placed in a block format within the text. Quoting does not involve analysis and synthesizing and, therefore, does not require critical thinking except when used appropriately to support (not substitute) an idea. Because of this, students are discouraged from using significant quotations as this limits your learning experience and makes the document difficult to read.

Students found to excessively quote will be penalized. Students using words, as their own without appropriately citing will be penalized – including failing the assignment and up to failing the course. Students found to have plagiarized (using words as your own without giving proper credit, whether paraphrasing or directly quoting) will also be referred to the Student Affairs. Therefore, it is VERY important that students take academic integrity in writing very seriously. If you are in doubt, it is always best to cite your source and/or speak with your professor for more guidance. The Writing Center, Library, and Owl Purdue are also resources that can help you.

A copy of this statement is located at the end of this syllabus. You are required to acknowledge receipt and understanding regarding the policy for academic integrity in this course by signing and submitting the acknowledgement statement no later than the second (2nd) week of class. Failure to do so will result in consultation with the professor, program faculty and/or Student Affairs and could limit your successful continuation in this course.

12. Class discussions, oral presentations, and written materials must adhere to professional standards of expression and conform to the style described by the American Psychological Association (APA, 2009). This includes avoidance of the use of language that degrades women, people of color, gays, lesbians, bisexuals, transgendered, and other diverse and at-risk populations. All students are expected to display the utmost respect for all people, regardless of differences.

13. While assignments may be discussed in class, no individual discussion of the determination of a grade made occur in this context. Discussion of grades is confidential and will not be done in the presence of other students. The proper context for such discussions is in the professor’s office.

Final Note Regarding Class Policies

The aforementioned policies are designed to create and foster a positive and rewarding learning environment for all students. Failure to adhere to the aforementioned class policies, as well as university policies, demonstrates a potential inability to conduct oneself professionally in the field of study. These policies are applicable throughout the program and, as such, students who consistently fail to comply with these policies will be considered inappropriate candidates for field placement and/or the degree of Bachelor of Social Work at TAMU-CT, as their behavior is considered inappropriate for a social work practitioner.

An assessment of student behavior as it relates to class policies, and overall decorum required throughout the TAMU-CT social work program and the University, is provided via the “Rubric for Assessing Professional Behaviors” (see SOWK Student Handbook). Any student in this course found to perform below the standard requirements would be provided with a rubric outlining areas for concern. Failure to obtain scores of 3 or 4 in any of the 15 professional behavior areas listed in the rubric will limit a student’s ability to be assigned a field placement and/or can result in removal from a field placement. These behaviors, which align with the National Association of Social Workers (NASWs) core values and ethics, TAMU-CTS Code of Conduct, and the Social Work Program class policies, are considered the expected professional behaviors of social work interns and future generalist social workers and, therefore, are held to the strictest code.

1. University Policies

1. Academic Integrity

Texas A&M University-Central Texas values the integrity of the academic enterprise and strives for the highest standards of academic conduct. A&M-Central Texas expects its students, faculty, and staff to support the adherence to high standards of personal and scholarly conduct to preserve the honor and integrity of the creative community. Academic integrity is defined as a commitment to honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility. Any deviation by students from this expectation may result in a failing grade for the assignment and potentially a failing grade for the course. Academic misconduct is any act that improperly affects a true and honest evaluation of a student’s academic performance and includes, but is not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work, plagiarism and improper citation of sources, using another student’s work, collusion, and the abuse of resource materials. All academic misconduct concerns will be reported to the university’s Office of Student Conduct. Ignorance of the university’s standards and expectations is never an excuse to act with a lack of integrity. When in doubt on collaboration, citation, or any issue, please contact your instructor before taking a course of action. I will take off 1 point for each percent of copied content in the Turnitin plagiarism system with the exception of citations in the Reference Section. THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS ACCIDENTAL PLAGIARISM! The first time there is significant plagiarism (above 15%), I will give you a warning and a re-do. The second time you FAIL the course and reported to the Department of Social Work for Professional Misconduct! I recommend you get anti-plagiarism software such as “Safe Assign.” Work with the university writing center writing tutors about paraphrasing if you have questions.

We offer over 200 electronic databases containing approximately 250,000 eBooks and 82,000 journals, in addition to the 72,000 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. Research guides for each subject taught at TAMUCT are available through our website to help students navigate these resources. On-campus, the library offers technology including cameras, laptops, microphones, webcams, and digital sound recorders. Research assistance from a librarian is also available twenty-four hours a day through our online chat service, and at the reference desk when the library is open. Research sessions can be scheduled for more comprehensive assistance, and may take place on Skype or in-person at the library. Assistance may cover many topics, including how to find articles in peer-reviewed journals, how to cite resources, and how to piece together research for written assignments.

Our 27,000-square-foot facility on the TAMUCT main campus includes student lounges, private study rooms, group work spaces, computer labs, family areas suitable for all ages, and many other features. 6. The University Writing Center

Located in 416 Warrior Hall, the University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University – Central Texas is a free workspace open to all TAMUCT students from 10am-4pm Monday-Thursday during the Summer semester. Students may arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by visiting the UWC during normal operating hours (both half-hour and hour sessions are available). Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process.

While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students’ ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students’ texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the University Writing Center is here to help!

If you have any questions about the University Writing Center, please do not hesitate to contact Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND AGREEMENT FOR ACADEMIC INTEGRITY & ASSIGNMENT SUBMISSION

SOWK 4321 Research II

All written assignments are expected to be the original work of the student. While paraphrasing and some direct quotations are permitted, it is expected this will be done within the context of your own analysis and synthesis of the information read. Paraphrasing involves your own thoughts and that originate from a source that is cited. Quoting is a matter of taking words, verbatim, from another source and restating them without, or with minimal, manipulation. Quotations are placed in quotation marks (“”) or placed in a block format within the text. Quoting does not involve analysis and synthesizing and, therefore, does not require critical thinking except when used appropriately to support (not substitute) an idea. Students should not use significant quotations. Students found to excessively quote will be penalized. Students using words as their own without appropriately citing will be penalized – including failing the assigned project and/or the course. Students found to have plagiarized (using words as your own without giving proper credit, whether paraphrasing or directly quoting) will also be referred to the Student Affairs. Therefore, it is VERY important to take academic integrity in writing very seriously. If you are in doubt, it is always best to cite your source and ask for more guidance. The Writing Center and Purdue OWL are also resources that can help you.

With regard to submitting assignments, all assignments must be turned in (received by the instructor) by the due date and time indicated to receive credit. Late work will not be accepted or graded unless this has been discussed with and approved by the professor BEFORE the due date (not the due time). Allowing students to turn in assignments late for a grade is not fair to other students who get their work done on time, disrupts the grading process for the professor, and sends a message that such behavior is professionally “okay,” which it is not. This, as well as all other policies related to assignment submission outlined in this syllabus will be held to strict code, and failure to adhere to this policy will result in a zero (0) for the assignment.

You are being asked to acknowledge receipt and understanding regarding the policy for academic integrity and assignment submission in this course no later than the 2nd week of class. Failure to do so will result in consultation with the professor and could inhibit your successful continuation in this course.
