Office Hours: By Appointment

Course Description and Objectives:

This course will examine the history of the Atlantic World from European exploration and discovery through the revolutions of the early 19th century. In addition to factual content about Atlantic history, students will be also able to recognize and engage issues emanating from the research and historiography of that world, analyze and critically review works of scholarship in Atlantic/Transatlantic history, and further develop their reading and writing skills.

Mode of Instruction and Course Access:

This is a fully online course with no scheduled face-to-face meetings.

This course uses the A&M-Central Texas Canvas Learning Management System
<https://tamuct.instructure.com>.

Contacting the Professor

All communications in this course between students and the professor should take place using the Canvas message system. You can expect to receive a reply to any message within 24 hours, except on weekends when the turnaround time may be up to 48 hours or longer. In most cases, however, replies will be made much sooner than that. If for some reason you are unable to access Canvas, you may contact me via email. I can also be available on a very limited basis by appointment if you desire a face-to-face meeting. Telephone meetings are also a possibility. Please message me if you would like to schedule a meeting and we will work out the time and place on a case-by-case basis.

Learning Outcomes:

1. Demonstrate factual knowledge and an understanding of fundamental theories: Students will examine and evaluate the themes and concepts related to the history of the Atlantic World with an emphasis on the years c. 1500-1800.

2. Analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view: Students will analyze and critically evaluate the conclusions of different historians regarding the Atlantic World.

3. Apply course material to improve thinking, problem solving, and decision making: Students will apply course material to improve thinking and decision making by constructing and analyzing historical arguments, and drawing conclusions from studied work.

4. Demonstrate specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field most closely related to this course: As future professional historians, students will evaluate and write formal critical reviews of the work of other scholars.

5. Demonstrate skill in expressing themselves orally and in writing: Consistent with an upper-level History course, students will develop skills in written and/or oral communication including book reviews and essay examinations.

6. Use required resources and find additional scholarly resources for answering questions or solving problems: Students will utilize the learning management system Blackboard and assigned books in the completion of their course work.

Required Readings:

Thornton, John K. Africa and Africans in the Making of the Atlantic World

McNeill, J.R. Mosquito Empires

Smallwood, Stephanie. Saltwater Slavery

Latimer, Jon. Buccaneers of the Caribbean

Grading Policy

The final average will be calculated based on the number of points received out of a total of 1000. The following point ranges correspond to the final grade for the course: 900 and above = A; 800-899 = B; 700-799 = C; 600-699 = D; below 600 = F. (On the percentage scale: A = 90-100%; B = 80-89%; C = 70-79%; D = 60-69%; F = 0-59%). Students will be graded and earn points for:

UNIT EXAMS: Students will take four online exams on Canvas corresponding to each of the four units of study in the course. The exams will be written and will center on the course readings and their relationships to the lecture material. Each exam will be worth 100 points.

FILM REVIEWS: Students will write 8 short (1-2 pages) reviews summarizing and reacting to the content of assigned films on Atlantic World topics. Each film review is worth 50 points and will be graded on a pass/fail basis. Film reviews will be submitted on Canvas. Instructions and guidelines for preparing the film reviews are located in a Canvas page entitled "Assignment Instructions."

HISTORIOGRAPHICAL ESSAY: Students will complete an 8-10 page essay covering the views of historians and researchers on an Atlantic World topic, individual, group, or event. More information about the essay will be provided through podcasts and instructions. The historiographical essay is worth 200 points, divided into parts. Students will submit an essay proposal (25 points), and preliminary bibliography (25 points), and a final bibliography (50) points, in addition to the final paper (100 points). All parts preliminary to the final paper must be submitted before the final paper will be accepted.

LATE WORK: Late work will be accepted at a penalty of 10% of the assignment grade for each day past the due date. Please note, however, that late work will not be accepted past the semester end date of Friday, July 27. Make-ups for missed assignments will be given on a case-by-case basis and only for documented reasons such as hospitalization/illness, incarceration, military service etc. Students are responsible for securing all necessary documentation for consideration when asking for a makeup.

INCOMPLETES: Incomplete grades are reserved for extraordinary circumstances such as Hospitalization, Incarceration, Deployment etc. that arise after the university drop date and which prevent the student from completing any outstanding course work. Inability to complete assigned work for whatever reason before the drop date should be handled via dropping the course. Decisions to allow an incomplete are made at the sole discretion of the professor.

PLEASE NOTE: All written electronic assignments must be submitted in one of the following formats: Microsoft, Open Office, or Libre Office . All other formats, such as Apple .pages or .wps will not be accepted

Drop Policy

If you discover that you need to drop this class, you must complete the Drop Request Dynamic Form through Warrior Web.

Faculty cannot drop students; this is always the responsibility of the student. The Registrar's Office will provide a deadline on the Academic Calendar for which the form must be completed. Once you submit the completed form to the Registrar's Office, you must go into Warrior Web and confirm that you are no longer enrolled. If you still show as enrolled, FOLLOW-UP with the Registrar's Office immediately. You are to attend class until the procedure is complete to avoid penalty for absence. Should you miss the drop deadline or fail to follow the procedure, you will receive an F in the course, which may affect your financial aid and/or VA educational benefits.

The last day to drop this course with a “Q” or withdraw with a “W” is Friday, Nov. 4.

Technology

responsible for ensuring that you have reliable and regular internet access as well as a reliable computer or comparable device. It is not my responsibility to accommodate online students who lack access to computers or the internet. No exceptions to course policies will be made for students who lose their ability to access the internet or complete the required coursework on a computer during the semester. Also, while it is possible to access the course materials using a dial-up internet connection, you should be aware that Canvas (as with most other programs and platforms) functions best with high speed internet access. Course policies apply equally to all students regardless of the quality of their internet access.

Technology Requirements

This course will use the A&M-Central Texas Instructure Canvas learning management system. We strongly recommend the latest versions of Chrome or Firefox browsers. Canvas no longer supports any version of Internet Explorer.

The University Writing Center

The University Writing Center at Texas A&M University-Central Texas is a free workspace open to all TAMUCT students. The University Writing Center is located in 416 Warrior Hall. The center is open 10 am-4pm Monday through Thursday and also at the Library from 6 pm-9 pm Monday through Thursday. Online appointments are available on Saturdays from noon till three pm . Students may work independently in the University Writing Center by checking out a laptop that runs Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Students may also arrange a one-on-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor. Tutorials can be arranged by visiting the University Writing Center. Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. Sessions typically last between 20-30 minutes. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will help students develop more effective invention and revision strategies. The Writing Center also offers synchronous online tutoring for distance education students!

Academic Integrity:

Texas A&M University-Central Texas values the integrity of the academic enterprise and strives for the highest standards of academic conduct. A&M-Central Texas expects its students, faculty, and staff to support the adherence to high standards of personal and scholarly conduct to preserve the honor and integrity of the creative community. Any deviation by students from this expectation may result in a failing grade for the assignment and potentially a failing grade for the course. All academic misconduct concerns will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct. When in doubt on collaboration, citation, or any issue, please contact your instructor before taking a course of action.

Important information for Pregnant and/or Parenting Students

Texas A&M University-Central Texas supports students who are pregnant and/or parenting. In accordance with requirements of Title IX and related guidance from US Department of Education's Office of Civil Rights, the Dean of Student Affairs' Office can assist students who are pregnant and/or parenting in seeking accommodations related to pregnancy and/or parenting. Students should seek out assistance as early in the pregnancy as possible. For more information, please visit Student Affairs. Students may also contact the institution's Title IX Coordinator. If you would like to read more about these requirements and guidelines online, please visit the website.

Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex and gender—including pregnancy, parenting, and all related conditions. A&M-Central Texas is able to provide flexible and individualized reasonable accommodation to pregnant and parenting students. All pregnant and parenting students should contact the Associate Dean in the Division of Student Affairs at (254) 501-5909 to seek out assistance. Students may also contact the University's Title IX Coordinator.

Library Services

INFORMATION LITERACY focuses on research skills which prepare individuals to live and work in an information-centered society. Librarians will work with students in the development of critical reasoning, ethical use of information, and the appropriate use of secondary research techniques. Help may include, yet is not limited to: exploration of information resources such as library collections and services, identification of subject databases and scholarly journals, and execution of effective search strategies. Library Resources are outlined and accessed at: <http://www.tamuct.edu/departments/library/deservices.php>

Classroom Decorum and Other Policies

Students in an online course are expected to behave professionally and courteously with the professor and their peers. Although personal interactions in this course are limited, in the event that online discussion or meeting formats are utilized, please be respectful in your posting and comments.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS POLICY: Official communication is via your official Texas A&M University–Central Texas e-mail address, online via Canvas, and in-person in-class. Please check these places frequently for updates and information. It is the policy of the instructor to communicate sensitive information with students via e-mail only through an official TAMUCT e-mail address.

TECHNOLOGY POLICY: This course will use the TAMUCT Canvas Learn learning management system for class communications, content distribution, and assignments. If you have not yet activated the Canvas system, please do so, as this is critical for completing this course. The Canvas homepage for TAMUCT is: <https://tamuct.instructure.com/login/ldap>. Technology issues are not an excuse for missing a course requirement, so please make sure your computer is configured correctly and address issues well in advance of deadlines.
