COURSE POLICIES

Respect

This course will be fully online and you are encouraged to participate. All students learn in a variety of ways and at varying paces. I expect everyone to treat one another with respect and help cultivate an environment in which everyone feels free to ask and answer questions respectfully.

Netiquette

All students must abide by the following core rules of netiquette (excerpted from Shea, 1994¹) for the duration of the course on discussion boards and email.

Rule 1: Remember the human - Do unto others as you'd have others do unto you. Imagine how you'd feel if you were in the other person's shoes. Stand up for yourself, but try not to hurt people's feelings.

Rule 2: Adhere to the same standards of behavior online - Standards of behavior may be different in some areas of cyberspace, but they are not lower than in real life.

Rule 3: Know where you are in cyberspace - When you enter a domain of cyberspace that's new to you, take a look around. Spend a while listening to the chat or reading the archives. Get a sense of how the people who are already there act. Then go ahead and participate.

Rule 4: Respect other people's time and bandwidth - ...don't expect instant responses to all your questions, and don't assume that all readers will agree with -- or care about -- your passionate arguments.

Rule 5: Make yourself look good online - As in the world at large, most people who communicate online just want to be liked. Networks -- particularly discussion groups -- let you reach out to people you'd otherwise never meet. And none of them can see you. You won't be judged by the color of your skin, eyes, or hair, your weight, your age, or your clothing.

Rule 6: Share expert knowledge - Don't be afraid to share what you know.

¹ Shea, V. (1994). Core Rules of Netiquette. In Netiquette, (pp. 32-46). Vancouver: Albion Books.

Rule 7: Help keep flame wars under control - ...Netiquette does forbid the perpetuation of flame wars -- series of angry letters, most of them from two or three people directed toward each other, that can dominate the tone and destroy the camaraderie of a discussion group. It's unfair to the other members of the group.

Rule 8: Respect other people's privacy

Rule 9: Don't abuse your power - Some people in cyberspace have more power than others...Knowing more than others, or having more power than they do, does not give you the right to take advantage of them.

Rule 10: Be forgiving of other people's mistakes - ... when someone makes a mistake -- whether it's a spelling error or a spelling flame, a stupid question or an unnecessarily long answer -- be kind about it. If it's a minor error, you may not need to say anything. Even if you feel strongly about it, think twice before reacting. Having good manners yourself doesn't give you license to correct everyone else. If you do decide to inform someone of a mistake, point it out politely, and preferably by private email rather than in public. Give people the benefit of the doubt; assume they just don't know any better. And never be arrogant or self-righteous about it. Just as it's a law of nature that spelling flames always contain spelling errors, notes pointing out Netiquette violations are often examples of poor Netiquette.

Academic Integrity

Texas A&M University-Central Texas values the integrity of the academic enterprise and strives for the highest standards of academic conduct. A&M-Central Texas expects its students, faculty, and staff to support the adherence to high standards of personal and scholarly conduct to preserve the honor and integrity of the creative community. Any deviation by students from this expectation may result in a failing grade for the assignment and potentially a failing grade for the course. All academic misconduct concerns will be referred to the Office of Student Conduct. When in doubt on collaboration, citation, or any issue, please contact your instructor before taking a course of action.

For more information regarding the student conduct process,
[<https://www.tamuct.edu/student-affairs/student-conduct.html>].

If you know of potential honor violations by other students, you may submit a referral, [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=0].

Violations in academic integrity will result in score of zero on the assignment for which it is suspected. Any suspected violations of academic integrity will also be reported to TAMUCT's Office of Student Conduct: <https://www.tamuct.edu/student-affairs/student-conduct.html>

Note: If you submit papers or sections from a paper from another class or previous semester, that counts as a violation of academic integrity.

COURSE COMMUNICATION

Course announcements will be posted to the Announcements page on Canvas.

I will send correspondence to your Canvas Inbox. Make sure you have access to and regularly check it. I recommend you adjust your Canvas Settings so you receive a notification when I post an announcement, you receive a course message, etc.

Do not send Canvas messages/emails about things stated in the syllabus/guidelines or where things are located on Canvas unless you are requesting clarification or additional information.

STUDENT-PROFESSOR INTERACTION

Students may speak with me via Canvas Inbox or by appointment. I will answer (most) messages within 24 hours, Monday through Friday. Students who would like to speak to me via WebEx must make an appointment. For appointments the student and I must confirm the date and time via Canvas Inbox.

PARTICIPATION POLICIES

Participation will not count towards your grade. However, it is in your best interest to regularly check Canvas and complete all the assignments. If you do not your grade is likely to suffer. Participation will aid in understanding in the material, which can ultimately improve your grade. If you have a question, I strongly suggest you send me a course message via Canvas or make an appointment.

ASSIGNMENTS

Reading Assignments

The reading assignments are selected chapters from the required textbook and other sources (which are on Canvas under Modules/Week #). It is important to have the textbook when class begins so you can keep up with the assigned readings. I recommend you purchase the book as soon as possible so you are adequately prepared for class. You should complete the reading assignments no later than the week listed on the Class Schedule. PowerPoints will be provided on each topic as well. These will be posted under the appropriate week on Canvas (for example: Modules/Week 2/Literature Review.pptx). I suggest that you reread the chapters/articles and PowerPoints throughout the semester.

Homework Assignments

Homework assignments are designed to help you apply the concepts you learn in the course. Check Canvas to see when the homework assignments are due. The assignment(s) will be posted under Canvas/Assignments by Monday at 12a. I recommend you complete them by Sunday at 11:59p for the week they are posted. I also placed a link to each assignment under the appropriate week, e.g., Modules/Week 2/Homework 2. if you need more time, you may submit it later without a late penalty. It is in your best interest to submit it by the due date, as this will allow more time for me to grade it and provide you feedback you can use to study. The latest I will accept the homework assignments is December 9 at 11:59p.

Annotated Bibliography (40 points)

An annotated bibliography provides a summary of research articles on a topic. For this assignment, you will read two assigned peer-reviewed journal articles related to the Literature Review. Once you read the articles, you will summarize them succinctly in one page each (each page is called an annotation). Each annotation (which includes the reference in APA style, rationale, and summary) will be submitted separately. You will not need to include a cover page, reference page, or abstract. After receiving a grade you can revise and resubmit each annotation. The latest you can submit an annotation and receive detailed feedback for revision is November 20 at 11:59p. The overall points for each initial annotation will be distributed as follows:

Annotated Bibliography Elements	Point Distribution
Content	10 points
Writing Mechanics/Quality	5 points
Formatting (Including APA 7 th for professional papers)	5 points

These are not draft submissions. They should be polished and finalized. You should proofread and edit them repeatedly prior to submission – not just for typos and spelling errors. Only final versions will be graded. If you submit a draft or incomplete version of these assignments, I will not grade it and you will have to resubmit it no later than December 9 at 11:59p.

When you submit your revision, use the same submission link and include a detailed explanation of the changes you made in the submission comments. A resubmission does not guarantee a higher grade or perfect score. Resubmissions will not be graded if detailed revision comments are not included. You may resubmit as many times as you want to replace the previous grade.

Annotations will not be accepted in hardcopy, email, or course message. Any submission via any of the proscribed methods must be submitted via the Canvas submission link. The final submission date is December 9 at 11:59p, but I suggest you submit by the recommended submission dates.

Literature Review (100 points)

A narrative literature review is a summary of the research on a specific topic. It is synthesis of carefully selected research to present the overall picture of a topic. For this project, students will write a literature review on the topic: family involvement in juvenile diversion programs. The literature review is not intended to be an exhaustive review of the research available on the topic. But it should be thorough enough to provide a clear, fully formed overview of the topic. The literature review must include at least five peer-reviewed, original research journal articles (not student-run journals). You may include the articles provided in class.

The overall point distribution will be as follows:

Literature Review Elements	Point Distribution
Content	70 points
Writing Mechanics/Quality	20 points
Formatting (Including APA 7 th for professional papers)	10 points

The Final Literature Review is due Friday, December 9 via Canvas by 11:59p. The submission link is under Modules/ Literature Review. I will not accept papers via email, course message, or in hardcopy. Papers submitted via these proscribed methods will need to be resubmitted via the assignment submission link by the final deadline.

I will start grading literature review submissions no sooner than October 30 at 11:59p. Make sure you make a note in the comments that you want to revise and resubmit your submission. When you revise and resubmit your literature review for a regrade, use the same assignment submission link. You will need to explain in the submission comments what changes you made.

The latest you can submit the literature review and receive detailed feedback for revision is November 20 at 11:59p.

Final literature review submissions will not be accepted after December 9 at 11:59p. No exceptions.

GRADING

Grades will be posted to the Grade Center on Canvas within approximately one week. Students will be notified if it will take longer to post the grades.

Your grade will be calculated as a weighted average:

Assignments	Number of Points	Percentage of Grade
Homework Assignments	~300 points	35%
Final Literature Review	100 points	40%
Annotations	20 points/each (40 points)	25%
	Total: ~440 points

Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WOnline [<https://tamuct.mywconline.com/>]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC, need any assistance with scheduling, or would like to schedule a recurring appointment with your favorite tutor.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR PREGNANT AND PARENTING STUDENTS

Texas A&M University-Central Texas supports students who are pregnant, experiencing pregnancy-related conditions, and/or parenting. In accordance with requirements of Title IX and related guidance from US Department of Education's Office of Civil Rights, the Dean of Student Affairs' Office can assist students who are pregnant and/or parenting in seeking accommodations related to pregnancy and/or parenting. Students should seek out assistance as early in the pregnancy as possible. For more information, please visit Student Affairs

[<https://www.tamuct.edu/student-affairs/pregnant-and-parenting-students.html>]. Students may also contact the institution's Title IX Coordinator. If you would like to read more about these requirements and guidelines online, please visit the website [<http://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/docs/pregnancy.pdf>].

Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex and gender—including pregnancy, parenting, and all related conditions. A&M-Central Texas is able to provide flexible and individualized reasonable accommodation to pregnant and parenting students. All pregnant and parenting students should contact the Associate Dean in the Division of Student Affairs at (254) 501-5909 to seek out assistance. Students may also contact the University's Title IX Coordinator.

A NOTE ABOUT SEXUAL VIOLENCE AT A&M-CENTRAL TEXAS

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html>].

BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTION

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].

Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [<https://www.tamuct.edu/bit>]. If a person's behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M-Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5805.
