Students earn a point for attendance and an additional point for participating in class discussion. Thus, the student earns 0-2 points on each class day (total of 27 days), which correspond to the following grade:

Reaction Comments (300 points)

After participating in class discussions for a topic, students will submit a Reaction Comment (RC) through the message feature of Canvas by midnight following the class. In Canvas, the student will send an email to the instructor, reacting to material discussed or experienced in class. A paragraph or two is required. Students express their reactions to something discussed or experienced in class. A mere summary of material discussed in class, however, is insufficient for credit. Students should make some comments on assigned reading and discussion, coupled with their reactions. The content of the RC is confidential between the student and the instructor. Students shall identify their email with the headings of RC1, RC2, etc., as indicated in the course calendar. Using headings other than RC1, RC2, etc., may result in no credit. Obviously, students must have participated in class discussions before they can react to material presented or discussed in class. RCs correspond to the following grades:

of RCs	Grade

Exams (400 points)

The student will submit two exams, a mid-term and a final. The exams are “take-home” exams in that the student has a few days to answer the questions that are presented. Students type on a Microsoft Word document and submits the exam by attaching it to an email (message in Canvas), sent to the instructor. The student uses the Word document that the instructor provides. This document contains the two questions to answer. The student simply inserts each essay below the respective questions. Each exam is valued at 200 points. Students are encouraged to review their work before submission. The mid-term exam will receive comments from the instructor and will be returned to the student. The following rubric will guide the instructor:

Qualities & Criteria	Poor	Good	Excellent
Content <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Elements of topics to be addressed • Information is correct • Coherency (Weight: 70%)	Not objective and poorly addresses the issues. (Weight: 30%)
---------------	--	--	--

A few days before each exam (mid-term and final), the instructor will provide students with two exam questions. This practice provides the student with a few days' worth of preparation and composition.

NOTE: Upper-level undergraduate students are expected to have adequate knowledge of the essentials of grammar, writing style, and essay organization in accordance with writing manuals. If the student does not have adequate knowledge in these areas, then the purchase and use of additional books are highly recommended. The University Writing Center is also available to students. Failure to provide written work in accordance with the essentials of acceptable, English writing style will result in poor grades. Examples of non-standard English usage include, among other things, sentence fragments, run-ons, dangling modifiers, lack of agreement between pronouns and their antecedents or subjects and verbs, bulleted items, slashes, flagrant misuse of punctuation, slang or abbreviated expressions, "etc." or "et cetera," and excessive use of metaphorical language. In Canvas under Modules, there is a Power Point on "Typical Problems with Essay Exams." Students should review this Power Point.

How to Submit Exams: Students shall use Times New Roman 12 point, double-spaced. Neither citations nor quotations are expected. Students attach their Word documents to a message in Canvas and sends them to the instructor. Both essay questions are included on the one document.

Academic Integrity Requirement

During the first week of class, the student is to read the section in the syllabus on Academic Integrity and the link provided in that section regarding plagiarism. Students must acknowledge having read the document (in Canvas, under Modules) pertaining to Academic Integrity and send a message in Canvas to the instructor that they understand Academic Integrity and its provisions. NOTE: Students will not be allowed to continue in the course without notifying the instructor of their comprehension of this material. Examples of academic dishonesty in this course might be having someone do the student's work, plagiarizing from internet sites, or plagiarizing from Discussion posts.

Grading Criteria Rubric and Conversion

Grading Matrix

	Points
Exams (2 @ 200)	400
Class Participation	300
Reaction Comments	300
Academic Integrity Document	-----
Total:	1000

Conversion to Course Letter Grade

Points	%	Grade
900 – 1000	90 – 100	A
800 – 899	80 – 89	B
700 – 799	70 – 79	C
600 – 699	60 – 69	D
0 – 599	0 – 59	F

Posting of Grades

Points for discussion (class participation) and RCs are tallied at the end of the term. Students may ascertain their progress in these two areas by simply reviewing the dates of attendance and class participation and RC submissions. The student has only to review their RC submissions in Canvas to remember what they have submitted. At the end of term, the instructor will count the requisite discussion or RC points, convert them to a grade, and enter those grades in Canvas for the student to view.

Grading of exams is posted in Canvas in one week after the exam is taken. The instructor will provide comments on the exam, along with the numerical grade for each of the two essays. The comments from the mid-term exam should be read and evaluated by students so that they can improve their skills in taking exams (for example, for the final exam).

Grading Policies

As a rule, make-up work for exams is not offered. The mid-term exam may be made up with instructor approval; however, in no instance will that make-up be given later than one week from the original exam date. To be considered as a prospect for making up the mid-term exam, the student must contact the instructor within 24 hours of having missed the exam for purposes of making it up. The final course grade will be posted within a few days of the final exam; therefore, no incompletes will be awarded for this course. If students foresee that they will be unable to complete the course, then they should either drop the course or accept the posted grade.

If students foresee that their scores in class participation, reaction comments, or exams are unacceptable, they may wish to drop the course. Absences for any reasons, including medical, cannot be used to exempt one from the requirements of the course. For example, students may inform the instructor that they will not or did not attend class(es) for some reason. While the instructor appreciates the information about absences, students should not expect that they will be afforded leniency or a recalculation of grades based on this information. All students in a class must be treated fairly and equally. If students foresee that they will be unable to earn the grade they desire, then they should either drop the course or accept the posted grade.

University Writing Center

University Writing Center: Located in Warrior Hall 416, the University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University–Central Texas (A&M–Central Texas) is a free service open to all A&M–Central Texas students. The hours of operation are from 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday thru Thursday in Warrior Hall 416 (with online tutoring available every hour as well) with satellite hours available online only Monday thru Thursday from 6:00-9:00 p.m. and Saturday 12:00-3:00 p.m.

Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WCOOnline [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC, need any assistance with scheduling, or would like to schedule a recurring appointment with your favorite tutor.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online

[https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].

Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [https://www.tamuct.edu/bit]. If a person's behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M-Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5805.

Diversity in the Classroom

Respect for cultural and human biological diversity are core concepts within the social sciences. In this course, each voice in the classroom has value in contributing to class discussion. The student should respect the different experiences, beliefs, and values expressed by one's fellow students and instructor, and refrain from derogatory comments about other individuals, cultures, groups, or viewpoints. In this course we welcome individuals of all ages, backgrounds, citizenships, disabilities, education, ethnicities, family statuses, genders, gender identities, geographical locations, languages, military experiences, political views, races, religions, sexual orientations, socioeconomic statuses, and work experiences.

Classroom Etiquette

Students shall show respect to other students and to the instructor in all communications, whether verbal or in writing (e.g., online). For example, making rude or threatening remarks or gestures, arguing, complaining, and challenging that is not based on readings, rationality, and the course objectives are all violations of classroom etiquette.

Modification of the Syllabus

This syllabus may be revised in minor ways at the discretion of the instructor. The student is responsible for noting any changes in the syllabus. More than likely, a change in the syllabus will pertain to typos or events in the course calendar. If modified, a revised course calendar will be posted on Canvas and will replace the course calendar in the syllabus.

Contact with the Instructor

The student should contact the instructor via the message feature of Canvas about any topic or issue that pertains to the course. If students contact the instructor through the instructor's official TAMUCT email, they must use their own official TAMUCT email. Many personal emails find their way to the junk folder by default.

Announcements

The student is responsible for checking Canvas for ongoing announcements or messages pertaining to the course. For example, if a class is cancelled due to inclement weather, students would benefit from checking messages about the class cancellation and thus be able to alter their travel schedules.
