Required Reading and Textbook(s)
This is a Writing Instructive (WI) course, so writing will be an integral part of my instruction and our interactions. Writing will also be a fundamental way that I measure student mastery of course content. WI means that you will have many opportunities to work on improving your writing skills.

For this course, you will first study and analyze in writing the work of the major author in this class. This will lead to an intensive sequence of writing tasks that will lead to a final research project and conference presentation to your peers.

Required Textbooks and Supplies
- Colored markers or pens
COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Non-Gradable Requirements

Regular Reading Assignments
The reading in this course serves as a catalyst for everything we do. There is a lot of reading in several short stories and a text, so keep up with the assignments to receive the full benefit from this class. Please be sure that you have carefully read the required assignments before class and be ready to engage in conversation and debate on the topics, themes, and issues addressed in the texts.

Class Lectures and Discussions
Class lectures and discussions will be the primary method of instruction and learning in this course. In addition to discussing and debating the issues and themes of our reading assignments, we will be constantly engaging with the texts through close reading and a variety of critical approaches to interpretation. In this way, I hope to allow the class to discover the multiple meanings and significance of text and the role of academic scholarship and writing across the disciplines. Participation in class discussions, writing exercises, workshops, peer review sessions, and attendance are required.

Graded Requirements

Electronic Journal Entries
Initially, you have two writing assignments that will be turned in electronically in Canvas as journal entries. They are based on the textbook, They Say I Say and will contain responses listed in your daily calendar. They are to each be at least one page long. I will read these for content; you will need them for class discussion.

Major Assignments
The major composition assignments and point values are listed below under Grading Criteria. The assignments will be available and discussed as the semester progresses. The student outcomes are included with each unit in the Complete Course Calendar. For this course, you will use MLA documentation style. The 9th Edition MLA Handbook as well as the Purdue Owl website will be useful for your documentation.

Grading Criteria:

- Writing Assignment 1: Journal Entries from They Say I Say 5 points
- Writing Assignment 2: Analysis of Author’s Writing Style 10 points

- 80-89 = B
- Below 60 = F
- 70-79 = C
Posting of Grades
I will post the grades on Canvas as soon as I finish grading an assignment, usually within two class periods. It is easy for you to be fully aware of your grades at all times.

I check e-mail several times a day, even on weekends. If you have questions, please e-mail me either on Canvas or the regular Texas A&M-Central Texas e-mail.

Grading Policies
Assignments are due at the assigned time. In the event that you will not be able to meet the due dates, please see me and discuss alternatives. Should we negotiate a new due date, I will deduct 10% from your grade for each day it is late, and you will not be able to revise that document.

Incompletes
Incompletes should be reserved for unexpected, life altering situations that develop after the drop deadline. Students should drop a course should something happen that prevents them from completing the course ahead of the drop deadline. Failure to do so will result in an F in the course.

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).
Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don’t agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don’t be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2]. Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [https://www.tamuct.edu/bit]. If a person’s behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M-Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5805.
