Course Information

Course Information

- Explore the role of film, television, and other moving images in the development of perceptions and stereotypes of criminals, victims, and criminal justice professionals, and institutions.

Course Objectives

At the conclusion of the course the student will be able to:

- Demonstrate understanding concerning the impact that film, television, and other moving images have on society's perceptions of the criminal justice system and how these perceptions can impact criminal justice policy and law
- Analyze films, television, and other moving images depicting aspects of the criminal justice system and be able to separate entertainment value from realistic portrayals of the principal aspects and agents of the criminal justice system

What books do I need for the class?

- There is one book required for this class:
 - Surette, R. (2015). Media, Crime, and Criminal Justice: Images, Realities, and Policies (5th ed.). Stamford, CT: Cengage Learning.
- Students may also receive additional reading and viewing materials throughout the semester to enhance, expand on, and aid in assignments and class discussions.

What should I expect from the instructor?

- This is a face-to-face course. I will be available before and after class to visit with students about the course. Students are also welcomed and encouraged to make an appointment for an online video meeting.
- I will be checking and replying to student emails daily - students should expect a response within 24 hours. Emails sent on a weekend will be responded to the following Monday, unless it is a holiday. Any deviations from this will be announced in Canvas. During daytime working hours, emails will be responded to more quickly, and other methods of communication can also be utilized if pre-arranged (e.g., Canvas chat or Webex video chat).
- Most assignments will be graded within one week of submission. Depending on length, writing assignments will be graded within two weeks of submission. Deviations from this will be announced in Canvas. All grades will be posted in Canvas. Feedback on writing assignments will be provided in Canvas*. Students are encouraged to track their progress in the course through the Canvas gradebook.
 - *You cannot see feedback on the Canvas mobile app; you must use a computer to be able to see feedback on written assignments.
- Grading of written assignments: I will provide detailed feedback on the first few paragraphs/first page of any written assignment; I will not mark all writing issues. I will provide general feedback for the entire assignment.

Course Requirements

Reading Response/Question Assignment* 150 points (0-10 points each)

- Students will be responsible for completing a weekly assignment due on Tuesday of each week.
- The assignment will consist of two parts:
 - A response to the week's reading.
 - Students will be provided with a general prompt that can be used to craft a response. These prompts are suggestions. Students are free to use these assignments to respond to whatever part of class they want in whatever way they want, so long as the responses are (1) sincere, (2) compelling, (3) useful, and (4) related to the week's topic(s).

- A reading response is not a summary of the reading. A reading response involves how you think about the reading or your reaction to the reading.
- These responses do not have to be overly refined; they do, however, need to show a sincere interaction with the course material. Grammar and spelling will not be graded, as long as they are understandable. The content is what is important.
- A question about the week's content.
 - Students will develop a discussion question based on the topic for each week. Questions should be thoughtful and be meaningful to the writer and of possible interest to the rest of the class.
- Every assignment is worth up to 10 points.
 - Submissions that present a sincere and compelling response to the class material will earn between 7-10 points.
 - Submissions that present a sincere response will earn between 4-6 points.
 - Submissions that present a perfunctory response will earn between 1-3 points.
- Your responses will be visible to other students, but there is no requirement to comment on other student's posts. I am leaving them open in case anyone wants to comment on a post or discussion something in more detail.
- The discussion questions you provide will help guide the class discussions each week.

Quizzes

100 points (0-50 points each)

- There will be two quizzes, each covering roughly half of the semester's content. Content includes the readings and class discussions.
- Quizzes will not be timed; only one attempt will be allowed.
- Due dates are posted in the course calendar.

Reaction/Critique Essays

400 points (0-100 points each)

- Students will be responsible for completing four (4) essays. The assignments will be submitted in Canvas – due dates are listed in the course calendar. These writing assignments are intended to require you to engage in critical thinking and logical reasoning as well as to further assist you in developing your written communication skills.
- You will be required to view four films of your choosing, related to four broad topics: crime fighters, criminals, courts, and corrections.
- You will be required to submit essays reacting to and critiquing these films. If you are unsure about a film or need suggestions, please ask for help. The university library has some films available on disc and online. In addition, the student may use whatever means they have available to them to access films.

- Films should be chosen to show how particular aspects of the criminal justice system are portrayed in film. You are required to submit essays reacting to and critiquing these films.
- More details about essays will be provided in Canvas.

Additional Assignment Information

How do I submit assignments?

- All assignments must be submitted through Canvas.
- All annotated bibliographies and reaction essays must be in Microsoft Word format - make sure when you save a final draft of any assignment that it is either a .doc or .docx document. If you do not know how to do this, I suggest visiting the computer lab.
- Discussion/journal responses should be typed in the discussion board text box. Do not attach a document to discussion boards. Best practice would be to write everything in a Word document first, then copy and paste into the discussion box; save this work.

What about extra credit?

There is no extra credit built into the course. Do not expect extra credit and do not ask for it.

Do you accept late assignments?

Late assignments will be accepted past the recommended due date with no penalty. Assignments submitted after the recommended due date will not receive as much feedback as those submitted on time. Feedback is important to improve upon subsequent coursework.

How do I figure out my grade?

Final course grades will be assessed on the following scale:

| Assignment | Points | My Grade |
|------------------------|---------------|-----------------|
| Reading Responses | 150 (15x10) | |
| Film Reaction/Critique | 400 (100x4) | |
| Quizzes | 100 (50x2) | |

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html>].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].
