Course Description and Objectives:

This course will examine issues in the American West through the Hollywood films. A majority of the class will be an intense look at how films depict various themes including the Reconstruction Era, the Lost Cause, consumerism, and Manifest Destiny. Instruction will include watching movies, video clips/podcasts, readings, online posting, and discussions. Personal opinions and perspectives are both welcomed and desired in the class discussions; however, students are expected to know the issues and interpretations presented in the readings, videos, and the lectures. Ultimately, the course provides an introduction into American history while providing a different lens to understand the past. Film and History often rewrite the memory of these events for modern spectators today and as historians we must learn to separate fact from fiction.

The course objectives for are therefore:

- To draw connections between the past and the present.

The Attendance and Participation

Class attendance and participation are crucial elements of the learning experience. Attendance is your responsibility. Attendance for online classes are monitored by the activity on Canvas. Activity on Canvas does not just mean logging in, but doing the assignments and interacting with me and your classmates in the unit. Please come to class prepared and ready to discuss in each unit.

Assignments

Reaction Essays:

There will be six reaction essays in the class. Students will watch the movies and after watching the film, students will be responsible to write a reaction essay. The essay on that film is due during the week we watch that film. On Canvas, there will be seven opportunities to turn in essays but, only six will count toward the final grade. Students will omit one week's reaction essay of their choosing. These essays are more than just an opinion piece saying this movie was good or bad. But students must discuss the historical themes they observed in the film and how they are accurate or not. Over the course, students will be responsible for six (6) reaction essays about the movies we watch in the units. These essays will be 500 words and be submitted online.

FINAL Essay:

Students will write a reflection essay due in the last unit. Students will reflect on each of the films we watched in class and discuss the themes throughout that tie each of these movies into a single genre. This is much more than an opinion piece. Be sure to look at themes such as the Lost Cause, Reconstruction, consumerism, and Manifest Destiny. What are the historical themes that run through all these movies? The essay will be 5-6 pages with footnotes. No Title Page is needed.

Online Discussion Forums:

Each unit will have some form of discussion that will be tied the weeks readings and film. A well thought out post of 100 words must be posted to get full credit for these weekly discussions.

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].
