Article Reviews: (20 points, due by the end of Week 6)

Students will find 2 peer reviewed journal articles published in the last 10 years from a Psychology or Counseling journal with a developmental focus. The developmental focus may simply be focused on one age group (e.g. teens, elderly) but it is encouraged to look for papers that show changes over the lifespan.

The 2 article reviews should be a page or two long each and posted in Canvas in the class discussion thread. The reviews do not need to be in APA format, but simply explain the article's method, findings, and a short discussion about how the findings could impact practice or future research.

This review is to be original work by the student, meaning that the student based their work on their own library research and intellectual work expressly for this class. While you are encouraged to pursue topics that you have an interest and background in, it is not acceptable to recycle work completed for other courses.

This assesses SLO 2 and 3. Rubric: 6 points Informational content, 3 points peer reviewed source, 1 point for clarity.

Study Questions: (40 points, due most weeks 8 x 5 pts.)

Most weeks cover a developmental theory and are associated with a series of Study Questions. It is critical you are holding the current copy of our textbook as all answers are expected to come from this source, and no other. As this is the assigned source, there is no need to cite it within the study questions. These do not need to be APA style. Do not rely on other source material, there are millions of opinions on the topics we are going to discuss, we need to limit our conversation to the current text. This is not a cut and paste exercise. Direct quotes should be avoided, and clearly marked when used. Each answer should be approximately a paragraph long, or roughly a half a page. Some answers will take much more space. This is not a chapter review. Some questions will required you to pull information from separate parts of the chapter to fully address.

This section of the class will consume most of your time. After getting access to additional class materials and instructor feedback, improve the answers to be ready for the class tests. Once that is done, you can cut and paste your improved answers into the tests.

This assesses SLO 1 and 3. Rubric: 4 points Informational content, 1 point for clarity. Expected elements vary by topic.

Tests: (20 points, see calendar for dates)

Examinations, including the Final Exam will cover assigned readings, lecture material, and class discussions. Students are expected to take all examinations as scheduled. It is the student's responsibility to contact the professor to arrange alternative times to take tests. This should be completed in advance of scheduled test times.

This assesses SLO 1, 2, and 3. Rubric: Quality of responses to questions taken from Study Questions, points based on quantity of concepts from readings and quality of details from theories, with emphasis on the incorporation of feedback into responses. 4 points for Informational content, 1 point for clarity.

Reading Reflections: (20 points: 4 required for 5 points each, due by Monday most weeks)

Students will be expected to turn in four reading reflections covering the current weeks reading assignments. These will be two to three paragraphs in length. Reading reflections should be description of how a concept from that week's readings relates to a real world experience of the student. As this will involve the use of “I”, these reflections will not be in APA format. Autobiographical content is expected but should not be overly sensitive as confidentiality may not be maintained. Reflections are class work, and so the protecting the identity of 3rd parties is important. Do not identify other people involved in the situation used to illustrate the concept being discussed beyond generic “my brother” or “my aunt” descriptions. The reading reflections should NOT be a summary of the chapter, but rather a reflection of the information to real life experiences. Students may turn in more than four reading reflections, in which case the four highest grades will be counted. Students may choose the chapters to reflect on. Reading reflections are due by the end of every week that covers a chapter. Late reading reflections will not be accepted.

This assesses SLO1 and 2. Rubric: Points awarded for correctly illustrating concepts from the reading with personal experiences that do not identify 3rd parties.

Posting of Grades: All grades will be posted in Canvas. Students can expect to see grades returned within 10 days of submission under normal circumstances.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html>].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2]. Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [<https://www.tamuct.edu/bit>]. If a person's behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M-Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5805.

While this syllabus represents the direction and scope of this course, it is subject to change.
