COURSE INFORMATION

Course Overview and description

PSYC 3430. Statistics for the Behavioral Science. 4 Credit Hours.

Study measures of central tendency, variability, and correlation. Analyze applications of statistical inference to research in Psychology, reliability and validity of psychological tests and measurement, analysis of variance, multiple analysis of variance, and regression. Lab sessions will focus on use of statistical software to organize and analyze data and to the translation of raw results of statistical analyses into written APA-style Results sections.

Prerequisite(s): PSYC 2301 and MATH 1314 or MATH 1342 or PSYC 2317 or permission of department chair.

Course Objective or Goal Student Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes (LO): Upon satisfactory completion of this course, students will:

Course Objectives:

1. Demonstrate factual knowledge of basic statistical vocabulary and computations. Students will define key terms in their own words. Students will calculate measures of central tendency and variability, z scores, correlation coefficients, regression equations, analyses of variance and chi-square. Students will demonstrate their ability to define terms and compute functions on Homework Problems, Chapter Quizzes (optional), and Exams.
1. Demonstrate factual knowledge of fundamental principles, generalizations, or theories regarding basic statistics. Students will gain understanding of basic concepts related to measures of central tendency, the normal curve, hypothesis testing, and correlational methods.
1. Demonstrate specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field. As future professionals with a Psychology or related degree, students will need to know how to use statistical computing software to perform statistical analyses and will need to know how to write the results of these analyses in the style adopted by this field. Therefore, students will demonstrate their ability to perform statistical analyses in SPSS by analyzing data and entering the results in the appropriate APA style locations on exams.
1. Apply course material to improve thinking, problem solving, and decision making. Students will apply course material to improve decision making by completing many learning quests and homework assignments that include different relevant scenarios.

Required Reading and Textbook(s)

1. Gravetter, F.J., & Wallnau, L.B. (2012). Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences. Boston, MA: Pearson/Allyn & Bacon. (ISBN: 987-0205-35867-0)

- American Psychological Association. (2009). Publication manual of the American psychological association (6th ed.). Washington, DC: Author. (ISBN: 978-1-4338-0561-5)

This is a Writing Instructive (WI) course so writing will be an integral part of my instruction and our interactions. Writing will also be a fundamental way that I measure student mastery of course content. WI means that you will have several opportunities to work on improving your writing skills.

In this course, we will be learning how to write about statistics in addition to learning about using them. Therefore, we will be doing a class survey and using the data from that survey to write reports of statistical analyses.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Learning Evaluation Methods:

Assignments (30%): During every week that does not have a quiz, an assignment will be given over the material that is covered during that week (17 assignments total). These assignments will be completed on Canvas in between class periods.

Content of Assignments: The assignments in this course will be a combination of content from the textbook as well as data analysis. Before an assignment, the students will be given an opportunity to practice the data analysis in the classroom.

Turning in Assignments: The assignments will be due on the indicated date (see the schedule below) before class begins and will not be accepted for credit afterwards. It is recommended that students begin the assignments a few days before the due date so that they may be able to get help if needed.

Assignment Safety Net: If a student makes a legitimate effort on an assignment and receives below a 70, the instructor may give the student the grade of a 70 for the effort.

Quizzes (45%): After completing 3-4 chapters of materials, students will take a quiz over what they have learned (5 quizzes total). These quizzes will have approximately 40-50 questions and will be comprised of both multiple choice and fill in the blank questions. Each quiz will require students to analyze data during the quiz. Students will use the computers in the classroom to analyze data and answer quiz questions.

Participation (10%): Although I would prefer not to give you a grade for participation, I have learned that requiring participation improves grades. Therefore, I am doing this for your benefit. This grade consists of two different types of grades. There will be 15 quest assignments and 3 discussion/reflection assignments.

Lab Assignments (15%): Your lab assignments will be where you bring the things that we will learn in the classroom into the real world. For this lab, you will be learning about how to use web-based software (Qualtrics) to create surveys. You will also learn about how to effectively communicate statistical results in APA style.

Final course grades will follow the system below:

A = 90.00+ total points, B = 80.00-89.99 points, C = 70.00-79.99 points, D = 62.00-69.99 points, F = 61.99 or fewer points

Research Participation

Research Experience Requirement: Students in selected psychology courses (PSYC 3307, PSYC 3409, PSYC 3312, PSYC 3430, PSYC 4320) are required to engage in research experience activities as part of the course. The research experience activity involves writing summaries of peer reviewed research articles that are related to the course content. Faculty will identify which articles can be reviewed for their course, and article reviews can be submitted directly to the faculty for evaluation.

If students choose not to write article summaries, they can complete an alternative research experience by participating in research studies directly related to psychology to gain this experience.

Sign Up for Alternative Research Experience: To receive credit for this alternate research experience activity, students must create an account in SONA. The university SONA account is where students will sign up to participate in research projects (<https://tamuct.sona-systems.com>). Students should view the introductory tutorial video before using SONA (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1OnT2ZU6QQ>) and be sure to use their university email when signing up. Students who have problems signing up for SONA or have questions should contact the professor of the course.

Credits: Students are required to complete 3 research experience credits in this course. Credit is allotted as follows:

- 1 credit for each summary of a peer-reviewed, research article OR
- 1 credit for each hour (60 minutes) of research participation (in-person or online)
- 1/2 credit for each 1/2 hour (30 minutes) of research participation (in-person or online)

Students can use a combination of article summaries and alternative research assignments to earn their credits. There is no guarantee that there will be sufficient research participation opportunities for students to earn 100% of their credits from this alternative research experience.

Students who drop a class after having earned research experience credit cannot apply any accumulated credit from that class towards future semesters without the documented approval of the department chair; however, credits in SONA can be transferred from one course to another in the same semester. Credits from previous semesters are not permitted to be transferred for current semester use.

Penalties: Any student who has not earned all required research credits prior to the end of the semester will be penalized 1 letter grade on the final course grade.

For 16-week courses the deadline is 12pm (noon) on 12-10-21.

Posting of Grades

Grades will always be posted on Canvas. The instructor will make every effort to grade assignments as soon as possible.

Grading Policies

Late Work Policy

The assignments in this course are intended to be completed in a sequential fashion. In the years I have taught this class, I have learned that the worst thing you can do is get behind. But I know it happens. So here is my policy. When work is turned in after the due date, 10% will be deducted per day the assignment is late.

However, there is one caveat. If your assignment is not turned in at the time and date it is due, you need to fill out this short form online within 24 hours of the time the assignment was due: <https://forms.gle/JRGL7QJigbrY1Xsx9>. This form requires you to first identify yourself and the assignment. You may fill out the form for multiple assignments, but only if they are all due on the same day. Next, you will explain to me what prevented you from turning it in on time. You do not have to be super specific, just give me something. Second, tell me when you are planning to turn it in. Third, the form requires you to tell me how you plan on avoiding this problem in the future. If you have answered these questions satisfactorily, I may reduce or remove the late penalty for your grade.

Assignment Safety Net

For the activities in the “Assignment” Category, I have a safety net policy. If a student makes a legitimate effort on an assignment and receives below a 70, the instructor may give the student a grade of 70 for the effort.

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

You can complete the referral online [https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].

Anonymous referrals are accepted. Please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website for more information [https://www.tamuct.edu/bit].
