Anticipated Office Hours:

Tuesday: 10:00-5:00, but other times with an appointment are certainly available!
Wednesday: 10:00-3:00, but other times with an appointment are certainly available!
Thursday: By appointment
Friday: By appointment

Please try to schedule an appointment so I can make sure I don’t miss you, as sometimes meetings are scheduled during office hours or I need to run an errand. I can be available earlier in the day or later in the evening with advanced notice and am also available for Web Ex virtual meetings for “after hours” situations, such as nights and weekends. There may be an occasional shift in some hours and I will try to post an announcement on Canvas if that is the case.

Mode of Instruction and Course Access:
This is an “Online” course and uses the A&M-Central Texas Canvas Learning Management System extensively: [https://tamuct.instructure.com] for audio lectures, supplemental materials (like readings and lecture PowerPoints), quizzes, exams, grade reporting, and assignment submissions. The instructions that follow in this syllabus will assist you with gaining access and technical support. Once you are in Canvas, there is an icon on the left with a question mark surrounded by a circle (says Help when you hover over it) that will have additional Canvas resources if you are unfamiliar with the learning management system itself.

Though no specific legal knowledge is required as a prerequisite to this course, it will be essential that you have a familiarity with the general use of Power Point, Microsoft Word, the Internet, copying and pasting information and attaching documents for submission.
Student-Instructor Interaction:
It is easiest to reach me via email, as I check it very frequently to say the least. I will most likely respond to email in no more than 24 hours if not traveling, and usually within a couple of hours. I will try to make an announcement on Canvas if I will be out of contact for an extended period. Thus, pay attention to the “Announcements” area (should also send an email to your school account) for course matters and be sure you have your notifications turned on in Canvas.

Textbook and Course Materials:
1. There is no required text for this course. With that said, I will generally follow the organizational pattern found in Employment Law for Business by Dawn D. Bennett-Alexander and Laura Hartman. It was their 9th edition published by McGraw-Hill. ISBN: 9781259722332. You can probably pick up a copy of this edition or the 8th relatively cheap (probably $20) if you want feel better about having a text and want an additional resource. I chose not to continue requiring that text due to a lack of updates and the high cost. I have done this for four years now and students have been just as successful as when the text was required. Each week there will be videos and relevant readings on the subject to be covered posted in Canvas.

2. Access to a properly configured computer (details later in the syllabus) with: speakers or a headset (to listen to any audio/video files), a webcam for exams, Google Chrome Browser and the Proctorio Extension added, PDF reader software like Adobe for additional readings, MS Word & PowerPoint, and reliable internet access for accessing materials, quizzes, exams, and submitting assignments.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS (all assignments must be submitted in a .doc or .docx format):

1. Case Briefing Assignments – 140 Points (3 at 30 Points and one at 50) – Every two weeks you will have a major employment law case to brief from the last few years. There is a rubric available in Canvas to show approximate weighting. These will be submitted on Canvas with SimCheck/Turnitin enabled. DO NOT use any source to complete this assignment other than the information found in the case itself I link for you. These will be generally due on Saturdays by 11:59 PM Central (23:59). As always, you may submit your work at any time. These assignments align with Course Level Objective (CLO) #2.

2. Discussions – 120 Points (30 points each) – Since we do not have “class time” to interact in person, it is important that you and your classmates are able to share your views and perspectives on some of these issues. Although I do want you to feel free to express yourself, you must be considerate of your classmates’ views and ideologies, since opinions will certainly vary. You may not like their views on an issue, but be civil and respectful when you respond if you happen to disagree. You will find the requirements for each discussion assignment in the “Assignments” tab located on the left side of Canvas or in the Weekly Module. These will be due on Thursdays by 11:59 PM Central (23:59), but you may complete them earlier. Ordinarily, an introductions post is a part of discussion one, but it is available as a “bonus” for 10 points if done by June 9th.

3. Employment Law in the News/Courts (60 Points) – You will select a news article or employment law case that has been published since May 1, 2022. Any article that is similar to (same topic, but different author) an article posted in a content folder is not allowed. Also, the article or case has to be distinct from your research topic. You will contact me to arrange a time for you to present this article or case to me on WebEx. Given what we have experienced with Covid-19, you need to be prepared to do quality presentations and conduct meetings remotely. The substance of the content and quality of the presentation itself will factor into the grading. A rubric is posted in Canvas. You may schedule your presentation at any point in the term, but it must be completed by 10:00 PM on Thursday, July 21st. Please don’t wait and knock this out early in the term, as it may be difficult to find a time for everyone at the last minute.

4. Research Paper on Current Topics in HR Law - 200 Points - I am going to give you some flexibility here with regards to what you want to research. It could be an unresolved employment law issue facing a particular company or an employment law/regulatory issue affecting many businesses, such as privacy issues, paid leave, potential changes in EEOC, OSHA, DOL, etc. policies. Your research proposal draft must submitted via Canvas for review by 11:59PM (23:59) on Thursday, July 7th (try to submit earlier for me to review and give you more time on the paper itself). More details on the proposal requirements are available in Canvas. Ultimately, we will quickly work together on finalizing a research plan that will lead to an approximately seven page paper by the end of the semester. 30 points will be awarded once we are both in agreement on the research plan. The remaining 170 points will go towards the completed paper, including writing quality. The final paper must submitted via Canvas by 11:59PM (23:59) on Monday, July 25th. This assignment is aligned with CLO’s 1, 2, and 3.

5. Exams – 480 Points - 4 at 120 points each – Each exam is composed of twelve short answer or essay questions, worth ten points each. The questions will require you apply the material you have learned to a hypothetical situation as stated in CLO # 1 and 3. There will generally be three questions per content folder on average. The exams are available for up to two and a half hours (150 minutes) over at least two days. Midnight on the day they are due is a hard cut off. If you start the exam at 11:00PM, you will only have one hour to complete the exam. If you have an unavoidable conflict with the scheduled date, an exam might be opened early or later, but only in extreme cases. Unfortunately, since I have been lied to in the past, I will likely require documentation of extreme illness, funerals, sudden necessary trips (like a last-minute purchase receipt), or field exercises. The online exams will also utilize our Proctorio remote proctoring technology, so you will need a webcam. The proctoring software will also require you to use Google Chrome and have the Proctorio extension on the browser. If you do not have this set-up done, you will get a message asking for a non-existent password. A couple example questions and a quick test for the technology configuration are posted in the Week 2 Module.

Note the C, D, and F Ranges Especially

- 895-1010 = A - Good
- 795-894 = B - Acceptable
- 695-794 = C – Needs Improvement – Remember you need a 3.0 to graduate, so a C hurts!
- 595-694 = D – Unacceptable – Counts as an F in Graduate School for GPA purposes
- 594 or less = F – Unacceptable

Grades may also be adjusted at the end of the semester based on class results. This means that a point total may qualify for a higher letter grade than the scale normally provides for to facilitate an appropriate grade distribution.

Posting of Grades and Late Work

I will do my best to try to have most work graded within 72 hours of its due date/time. I will probably not grade any work until the due date/time for that assignment has arrived.

Late work penalties:

1. The News/Court assignment will lose 15 points if scheduled after the due date and I will not schedule a presentation past July 27th at 10:00PM. It is a great idea to knock it out early in the term!
2. Late Discussion postings will not be graded.
3. Case Brief submissions will lose ten points if late and will not be accepted for any credit more than one week late (July 28th for is the cut off for any credit on #4).
4. The Current Topics paper will lose 20 points per day late and must be submitted by Thursday, July 28th for any credit.

My Integrity Statement: All work in this course is to be done individually. You may get the rare/occasional assistance from other students about where you found certain information/answers, but I don’t want to see close/identical answers. I have a pretty good eye for this, as my memory is pretty good! If you need help, ask me! Any instance of academic dishonesty likely will result in an F in my course. I have taught this course long enough that I can tell if you are collaborating or not, even though your answers may differ slightly.

University Library
The University Library provides many services in support of research across campus and at a distance. We offer over 200 electronic databases containing approximately 400,000 eBooks and 82,000 journals, in addition to the 96,000 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. Research guides for each subject taught at A&M-Central Texas are available through our website to help students navigate these resources. On campus, the library offers technology including cameras, laptops, microphones, webcams, and digital sound recorders.

Research assistance from a librarian is also available 24 hours a day through our online chat service, and at the reference desk when the library is open. Research sessions can be scheduled for more comprehensive assistance, and may take place virtually through WebEx, Microsoft Teams or in-person at the library. Schedule an appointment here [https://tamuct.libcal.com/appointments/?g=6956]. Assistance may cover many topics, including how to find articles in peer-reviewed journals, how to cite resources, and how to piece together research for written assignments.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas
Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).
Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don’t agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don’t be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

Behavioral Intervention

Texas A&M University-Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. Studying the Law Considerations

For some, legal terminology is a foreign language that may not be understood as quickly as it will be for others, which I understand. There were a few topics in law school that I “got by” on, but didn’t really master until a year or two later when I was studying for the bar exam.

Being an online student takes discipline! The biggest issue with online student performance is not tracking due dates and then either missing assignments or turning them in late. If you struggle with the material, you cannot afford to give points away through late or missing work. This is especially true with a compressed course like this. You need to plan to put in twice as much time each week as you would with a 16 week course.
