Instructor: Madelynn Shell, Ph.D.
Office: Warrior Hall 318Q
Email: mshell@tamuct.edu
Phone: 254-501-5879
Office Hours: I am happy to meet with you to discuss questions or concerns about this class or anything else. To enable more flexibility over the summer, my summer office hours will be by appointment, and meetings will be held over Microsoft Teams. I am generally available M-F 8-3. If you’d like to meet, send me an email at mshell@tamuct.edu with your availability and we’ll find a time that works for both of us.

Student-instructor interaction
Learning is best fostered when open lines of communication are maintained among students and between students and the instructor. You are always encouraged to ask questions on the question and answers forum, or may also contact me via email at mshell@tamuct.edu. I will check for messages daily M-F. I will do my best to respond to you within 48 hours. I will also create a discussion boards for you to pose general class questions to your colleagues. This is often a good place for students to help each other find the answers to course-relevant questions. Please remember to maintain appropriate decorum in these interactions. During my posted office hours I can meet with you via Microsoft Teams. If you need to meet with me outside of my regularly scheduled office hours, just let me know and we can find a time.

Participation and Attendance
In an asynchronous online class, you have flexibility as to when you choose to login to the class each week, but you will be expected to log on at least once per week, and generally will need to log on multiple times per week. This will keep you on track working your way through the course material, and ensures that you remain engaged in the course. In addition, there will be required meetings with me several times throughout the semester. You may select the meeting time that best works for you.

COVID-19 disruptions: We are currently living through a pandemic, which may cause unpredictable interruption in our daily lives. If you are sick or caring for someone who is sick, or if you are affected by the pandemic in some way throughout this course, please talk to me immediately so that accommodations can be made as soon as possible to avoid missed work.
How to succeed in this class

Remember that in three credit a face to face class in the long semester, you’d spend approximately 3 hours per week in class, plus at least one hour out of class for each hour in class on reading, assignments, or prep work. Because this class takes place over the course of 8 weeks, that in-class time would double to 6 hours per week. The same amount of time is expected in an online course, which means that you should plan to spend at least 12 hours per week on this course.

In order to succeed in this online format you need to be sure to do several things. (1) Stay on top of the material. Do the readings and watch the lectures early so you have plenty of time to make sure you understand. (2) Do the assignments! These are there to help you and are a significant part of your grade. They are your opportunity to engage with the material as we would during class time in a face to face class. (3) Ask questions (and read the answers)! In addition to emailing me, there is a question forum designed to help you feel comfortable asking questions and to help you learn from others’ questions. Check this often to help with challenges.

If you are experiencing trouble in the course: Contact me immediately! If you are struggling with the early assignments or tests, please take the initiative to talk to me about how to make things better. Do not be embarrassed – I am here to help you.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS
Assignments and Evaluations

(a) Syllabus quiz (10 points): In order to ensure that you have read the syllabus and really understand the course policies and what is expected of you, the first thing you will need to do in the course is a mandatory syllabus quiz. You are expected to read and use the syllabus to answer the questions on the quiz. You must score 100% on this in order to stay in the course (although you can take it as many times as you need to).

(b) Discussion forum assignments (15 forums x 12 points each = 180 points): For each chapter covered in the course, you will post on a discussion forum and respond to your classmates’ posts. These posts will provide evidence that you understand and have thought critically about the material. Forum posts should be at least 6-8 sentences. Many of the prompts have multiple questions. You must answer all of the questions completely in order to get full credit. In addition, you must substantively respond to at least two others’ posts in a timely manner and engage in in-depth, multi-post discussions. You can earn up to 10 points for each initial post, and another 1 point for each response (up to 2 points). Posts will be graded on the rubric below (and it is also posted with each assignment).

Your initial posts will be due on Thursday at 11:59 pm. This ensures that others will have time to read and respond to your posts. Unless otherwise noted, responses are due on Sunday at 11:59 pm. Late work will not be accepted.

(b) Tests (14 tests x 15 points each = 210 points): There will be 14 tests (one per chapter) which will assess content knowledge and comprehension of the material, your ability to apply the concepts that you have learned to novel problems, and analytic and critical thinking skills about the theories and research that we have discussed. Unless otherwise noted, tests will be due on Sunday at 11:59 pm. Tests will cover reading and any additional materials on Canvas and will consist primarily of multiple choice questions, along with one or two essay questions. Please note that the tests are available on Canvas from the beginning of the semester, therefore there are no excuses for missing a test.

(c) Final paper (100 points): For your final paper, you will write a 5-6 page paper describing a case study involving one disorder we have discussed throughout the course. The case may be a real or fictional, although any real names should be changed and the paper should be written in the third person (i.e., do not describe from a personal perspective). Your paper should include assessment information, including presenting problem (symptoms), development of the disorder, relevant history, and contributing or exacerbating environmental and/or biological factors. It should also incorporate a discussion of the assessment process for your case study, highlighting the diagnostic issues and complexities of the case. You will need to provide support for your case by citing at least one empirical research article that supports your assessment/diagnosis, etiology, or proposed treatment.

Throughout the course you will have several final paper assignments.

Posting of Grades

All students’ grades will be posted in the Canvas Grade Center after the assignment due date has passed. On the writing assignments, the professor will begin reading, grading, and recording grades after they are due and will have all grades posted within approximately one week. Students should regularly monitor their grades in the Canvas Grade Center, and students should not hesitate to ask the professor about any grade or concern.

Grading Scale

Grades are not ‘given’ in this course; they are earned. Students earn grades by actively utilizing course content to learn the material and by demonstrating their grasp of subject-matter content on written assignments. Grades are determined based on the percentage of points earned on each assignment and the assignment’s weight toward the overall course grade.

Grading Policies

Students are responsible for meeting the course requirements as scheduled for each module in the course calendar. Assignments will generally be due Sunday evenings at 11:59pm, unless noted otherwise. If you turn in an assignment after the due date, you will receive a grade reduction of 10% for each day it is late (with a maximum reduction of 30%). However, no late work will be accepted for assignments turned in more than 7 days past its due date.

All assignments must be written in a student’s own words. No credit will be awarded for quoted or plagiarized material on any assignment. Quoting or paraphrasing that closely mirrors the source (textbook or other reference material) will receive no credit even if properly cited. Students must write original sentences conveying the information they have learned to the reader (i.e., paraphrasing) and properly cite the source of the information to receive credit for writing. All assignments should be written in proper APA style. Students must follow the APA style guidelines provided in the Publication Manual and use online style resources provided by the American Psychological Association at www.apastyle.org.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don’t agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don’t be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].
