Optional Textbook

COURSE REQUIREMENTS
All assignments must be the students own work (see the academic integrity section). Do not copy directly from the text or research articles when completing assignments. Written work must follow the American Psychological Association (APA), 7th ed. publication guidelines. All assignments should be written in student APA format. Assignment due dates are indicated on the Course Calendar.

Assignments:
1. Discussion Boards: (3x3pts=9pts) Discussion Boards help to generate cooperative exploration of the course content in hopes of enhancing the learning experience with a deeper synthesis of knowledge. Students will complete Discussion Boards in the weeks indicated on the Course Calendar. The initial post should be between 225 and 250 words and will be worth 2pt. Students may not exceed 250 words. It is vitally important to be clear and concise. Referencing and citing research articles or the textbooks from the course is required in this post. References and citations do not count in the word count parameters. Students must refrain from quoting materials. Students should always use their own words.
Students are also required to respond to at least two other initial posts and each response is worth .5 point. The responses must be between 75 and 100 words each and should expand the conversation. Students must not exceed 100 words.

If a student only states that they agree or disagree, they will not earn full credit. Students should be curious and may generate new questions or considerations in their responses as well as include a synthesis of other scholarly or personal information that informs the discussion. Replies to posts may not quote the initial post nor include quotes from other resources but should reference and cite articles or textbooks from the course, when applicable.

Discussion Board Etiquette

- Students are expected to be courteous and respectful with their language and tone.
- Curiosity about varying perspectives is encouraged. Avoid “why” questions.
- Broad generalizations about groups of individuals should be avoided.
- Be open to new ideas and alternative perspectives.
- Quotations of the initial post, from textbooks or research articles may not be used in posts. (SLO – 1 & 2)

2. Course Content Quizzes: (9x2pts =18pts) In effort to ensure each student has read/viewed and comprehended the materials within the course, 9 timed open book/notes quizzes over course content will be given throughout the semester. Each quiz will have true false and/or multiple-choice questions related to the course content for the weeks indicated in the course calendar. Quiz dates are indicated in the course calendar as well. (SLO - 2)

3. Implicit Bias Personal Journal (Tests are optional): (3pts) All individuals have biases. The road to cultural competence includes becoming aware of one’s own biases, recognizing the potential impact it could have on one’s professional work and actively working to reduce/mitigate the biases. For this assignment students will begin to examine implicit bias as it relates to their work as an MFT.

After reading the assigned materials for the week, the student will create a personal journal reflecting on those materials. Students should address the following area in their journal:

- How might insight about one’s own implicit biases be useful as a marriage and family therapist?

Optional: In addition, students can choose to inform their personal journal by completing one or more of Implicit Bias Tests related to diverse populations. The Implicit Bias Tests take about 10 minutes each and are part of a Harvard University research study. This activity is completely voluntary and no points will be added or deducted based on a student’s engagement or lack thereof in the study. Scores on the tests are confidential and are not required to be submitted. Again, these tests are strictly voluntary and for student’s own self-exploration. Tests can be completed using the following website: https://implicit.harvard.edu/implicit/takeatest.html.
The journal content must be between 375 and 450 words. Students must not exceed 450 words. The content of the journal will only be seen by the professor and the student. If any content might relate to a student’s Experiential Project paper, it can be used in their paper and will not be considered self-plagiarism. (SLO – 1)

4. Experiential Project Personal Journal: (3pts) As students work towards completion of their Experiential Project, it is important to begin reflecting on those experiences. During this week students will create a personal journal reflecting on the new insights they have gained from their Experiential Project thus far. Students should describe what they have done at that point in the course and how it has impacted their understanding of the group. The content of their journal will only be seen by the professor and the student. This personal journal may be used in student’s final paper and will not be considered self-plagiarism.

The journal content must be between 375 and 450 words. Students must not exceed 450 words. (SLO – 1)

5. Cultural Genogram (15pts): Students will complete a cultural genogram. This paper is intended to help students become cognizant of their cultural identities and the influence it has on them as a therapist and on their clients. Students are required to include racial and ethnic identity as a part of their culture; however, they are not limited to only exploring “family” culture related to biological family. This assignment fully recognizes that family can be chosen and encourages exploration of how the spectrum of different types of family has influenced their identity.

Students will utilize Hardy & Laszloffy (1995) seminal article on cultural genograms to guide the process of completing the genogram assessment. The article will be available in Canvas. More specifically, the content of the paper should consist of student’s description of the culture(s) of origin or group that their ancestors descended from before arriving in America (with the exception of north American Indigenous people), a description of the framework or principles that shape the culture, and a detailed explanation of aspects of the culture that are viewed as positive and negative. Students will generate components of the paper by answering questions listed in Table 1 of the Hardy & Laszloffy (1995) article and formulate those answers into a cohesive cultural genogram paper. Students should not list and answer these questions in the paper, but should thoughtfully consider answers to the questions and then synthesize those answers into a paper. After exploring their cultural identity as stated above, students must provide a reflection on how their cultural identity may impact them as a person and their role as a therapist including what they have learned from the cultural genogram process.

Students must also include a visual 3 generation genogram in their paper, with a key following the detailed instructions provided in the Hardy & Laszloffy (1995) article. The genogram should include colors representing each cultural identity of every person in the family, a symbol for intercultural romantic and/or couple relationships must be included and symbols for pride and shame related cultural issues should be defined in the key and indicated for each family member. The paper should be between 4-6 pages long not including the genogram or cover sheet. The paper should be written in 7th edition APA student paper format. No abstract is needed. The title page will not be counted in the page requirement.

6. Experiential Project Presentation: (10pts) Students will facilitate a presentation about their experiential activity in class on their assigned day. This assignment is to be a professional presentation with an intended audience of fellow clinicians and researchers. The presentation should include a PowerPoint or Google Slide show. The presentation materials should include a description of the activity, what information the student learned from the experience including insights related to social location, power and privilege, intersectionality, historical oppression, etc. In addition, students should include key information they learned from current research about family therapy with their chosen group. Lastly, students must describe how this experience will inform their clinical work. Students will be graded on the quality of their presentation including communication of the above listed items and ability to thoroughly answer questions regarding their experience. In addition, students will be evaluated on the effectiveness and professionalism of the visual presentation materials. The presentation should be uploaded to the presentation discussion board before the class meeting in which the student is presenting. In addition, the final presentation must be saved as a PDF and submitted in the assignment link on Canvas the day of the student’s presentation by 11:59 pm. The length of the presentation should be about 20 minutes. (SLO – 1 & 2)

7. Experiential Project Paper (This is a semester long project): (20pts) It is vitally important that MFTs gain insights into the diverse experiences and perspectives of the clients they may encounter in their work. One of the key ways to understand other perspectives and grow in cultural competence is to engage with diverse groups (different from which they identify). This semester students will select a diverse culture or a social location that they have limited understanding about or experience with. Then they are to choose a community activity or event to attend that centers that group. In addition, throughout the semester they must engage in an ongoing media experience with said group (approximately 5 hours).

The intention of this assignment is to allow ongoing exposure with diverse groups so students are able to gain a broader and richer understanding of the group and how they can better serve them. Students should reflect on their own privilege, possible biases, historical oppression, intersectionality as well as their own reactions to the experiences. Students are to view their experience through a respectful strength-based lens and be curious versus judgmental when engaging with their chosen group. Students should also refrain from broad generalizations about the entire group based on their experience and acknowledge that within group differences exist in every group.
Potential community activities or events can range from visiting a church whose congregation is predominately a part of the student’s chosen group to attending a book reading or cultural festival.

For the media component of this assignment, students might read a book related to their chosen group and written by a member of the group, watch a TV series or listen to episodes of a podcast centering the group and created by people with in that group (i.e., Therapy for Black Girls, etc.) or following several social media pages curated by people of the student’s chosen group that provides different cultural messages concerning the group (i.e., Therapy for Black Girls, The Griot, Essence, etc.). A limited list of media options will be provided in Canvas.

Project Example
For example, you may have limited understanding of the culture and history of African Americans, so you may choose to attend a predominantly Black church service one day and watch the 1619 series on HULU over the course of the semester.

Proposal for this project must be submitted and approved by the professor before the project is conducted. The due date for the project proposal is listed in the Course Calander.

After completing the experiences, students will write a 5-7-page paper describing the experiences and sharing what they learned (observations, etc.) and their reflections. The paper should make connections to at least two peer reviewed journal articles from the last 10 years concerning family therapy and the group they chose. Lastly, students should be sure to discuss in-depth how the experience will impact their work as a marriage and family therapist. See expected proportionality of the paper below.

Paper Sections and Proportionality

Description of Activities
Approximately 1/4 of the paper should be a description of the experiential activities (one in person event and one, approximately 5-hour, media engagement)

Insights and Reflections
Approximately 1/2 of the paper should include what they learned, reflections and their reactions to the experience which should emphasize the following:
- Key information they learned
- New understandings about the group informed by their experiences and the course content
  - including information, the student learned from the experience related to social location, power and privilege, intersectionality, historical oppression, and or other course related topics
- General reactions to the experience
Therapeutic Implications

Approximately 1/4 of the paper should describe how the experience will impact their work as a marriage and family therapist.

*The paper should also integrate 2 peer reviewed journal articles (published in the last 10 years) related to family therapy with their group.

The paper should be between 5-7 pages. The paper should be written in 7th edition APA student paper format. No abstract is needed. The above-mentioned headings are required for this paper. The title and reference page will not be counted in the page requirement. (SLO – 1 & 2)

8. Final Exam: (22pts) A multiple choice and true false question cumulative final exam will be given at the end of the semester. This exam will be timed but use of both notes, articles and books will be allowed. I strongly encourage students to thoroughly review materials and notes before taking the exam since it is timed. (SLO – 1 & 2)

Posting of Grades
Grades will be posted in Canvas approximately 2 weeks after the assignment due date or submission date, whichever is later. Grades will be posted on the Canvas grade book where students can monitor the status of their grade easily. Students’ final grades are based on their total points earned. Students can calculate an estimate of their grades, at any time, by adding their total points earned and comparing it to the chart above. There will be no negotiation of grades or course policies. Students should be diligent in working toward the grade they desire in this course.

Grading Policies
Assignments are expected to be turned in on time. Students should make plans to ensure that all assignments and exams are submitted by the due dates and times. Late work will only be accepted up to 48 hours after the due date. No late discussion boards, quizzes or exams will be accepted. Each day the assignment is turned in late the earned grade will be reduced by 1pt for assignments worth 10 points or less and 2pts for assignments worth 11 points or more. For example, if a student turns in an assignment worth 5 points, 5 minutes after the due date and time and they earn 4 points for the assignment based on the quality of their work, their final grade will be 3 pts (4pts earned grade - 1pt penalty for being a day late = 3pts final grade). No assignments will be accepted more than 48 hours after the due date. If an assignment is submitted more than 48 hours after the due date a “0” will be entered in the gradebook on Canvas and no feedback will be provided. Work must only be submitted in Canvas. Any work submitted via email will not be graded.

In addition, the lowest grade earned on a Quiz or DB will be replaced by the highest grade on that assignment for every student, at the end of the semester. This means if a student misses quiz 2 and receives a “0”, that grade will be replaced by the student’s highest grade earned on their other quizzes for that semester.

Class Attendance
Students will be expected to be present for class. Class participation is vital to the learning experience. Because of the importance of class attendance, students will lose 2 points off their final grade for every unexcused absence. Exceptions to this deduction would be professor approved and documented excused absences such as illness, death in the immediate family, legal proceedings, for example. Per the University catalog, students may request make-up consideration for valid and verifiable reasons, such as illness, death in the immediate family, legal proceedings, or participation in university-sponsored activities. Students participating in university-sponsored activities are responsible for obtaining a written explanation for their absence from the faculty/staff member responsible for the activity. In all cases, students are encouraged to notify the faculty member of the course in advance of any absence.

Students should be present, on-time, prepared, remain for the entire class period and be actively engaged in the class activities. Examples of engagement in class includes but is not limited to answering questions, provided thoughtful input based on the course content and one’s own experience, respectfully inquiring about the material or a fellow student’s
Students will be responsible for reading the assigned materials in the textbook and any other resources provided by the instructor in Canvas before each face-to-face class.

Cooperative group learning experiences will be promoted throughout the course. The goals will focus on shared decision-making, individual and group responsibilities, and effective written and or communication skills. Students are expected to be professional and respectful during their participation in the course.

COURSE OUTLINE AND CALENDAR

Each week course content will be available in the module associated with that week on Canvas. Be sure to check Canvas weekly for online content to review as part of the course. Online content may include videos, articles, etc. in addition to the textbook assigned readings. Weekly reading assignments should be done before class meetings unless otherwise indicated.

OTHER POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).
Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don’t agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don’t be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].
