COURSE INFORMATION

Course Overview and Description

Independent research course in which a student proposes and completes an original, quantitative research project in conjunction with three graduate faculty members who serve on the thesis committee. Scheduled when the student is ready to begin thesis. No credit awarded until proposal and thesis are approved, respectively. Six hours of thesis credit is required. Prerequisites: PSYC 5300 and PSYC 5301 and successful completion of 12 additional credit hours in the degree plan, and permission of the Chair of the thesis committee or Department Chair.

Course Objective

This course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to use systematic research methods and appropriate tools of inquiry to thoroughly investigate a psychological problem or issue. Students must follow the Thesis Manual provided by the Graduate School.

Student Learning Outcomes

Course objectives and content will be addressed through the creation of an original research project that will be completed in two phases (i.e., proposal and thesis). The student, under the guidance of a faculty advisor, will utilize sound research methods for the social sciences. In this course, students will:

1. Demonstrate comprehension and application of fundamental principles, generalizations, or theories. Students will identify and summarize relevant psychological theories and research in a content area of specialization to contextualize the thesis proposal and final thesis project.
2. Demonstrate application of factual knowledge (terminology, classifications, methods, trends). Students will compute and present appropriate statistical techniques given the data collected in the project such as measures of central tendency and variability, correlation coefficients, regression, analysis of variance, and/or chi-square. Students will demonstrate their ability to compute and present appropriate descriptive and inferential statistical analysis of data on the final thesis project.

3. Analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view. Students will read and summarize in writing the development of research on the variables of interest, read multiple research studies on the variables targeted in the thesis and integrate the information in writing to support the position, acknowledge in writing relevant research information that contradicts or is otherwise inconsistent with the arguments in the thesis, write a justification for the proposed thesis research that is based on limitations, shortcomings, and/or gaps in existing research, and write research hypotheses that are directly supported by existing empirical research.
4. Synthesize academic content from the program to improve thinking, problem solving, and decision making. Students will develop and design a novel project supported by existing empirical research to address problems, issues, or gaps in knowledge. Students will integrate research results with existing research and theory in the content area of specialization to draw conclusions support by data gathered during the thesis project.
5. Demonstrate skill in expressing oneself orally or in writing. Students will utilize appropriate APA style to write summaries of existing research articles and base the justification for the thesis proposal on existing research, write a proposal for the thesis research and revise it based on committee feedback, and write a final report of the thesis research and revise it based on committee feedback.
6. Demonstrate specific skills, competencies, and points of view needed by professionals in the field. The student will:
 - a. craft, in conjunction with a faculty mentor, an original research idea.
 - b. research information related to the thesis project using online tools including the TAMUCT library's databases.
 - c. summarize existing peer-reviewed research on the topic and note where more information is needed.
 - d. write an original research proposal in APA style and defend it during an oral presentation to the thesis committee.
 - e. submit defended research plans through the Institutional Review Board process (for human subjects).
 - f. engage in data collection according to the approved plan and in a manner consistent with training on federal requirements.
 - g. use statistical computing software (e.g., SPSS) to analyze quantitative data collected through research and interpret it.
 - h. propose directions for future research.
 - i. write the final thesis to conform to the guidelines stated in the TAMUCT Thesis Manual and defend it during an oral presentation to the thesis committee and interested others.

A student of this institution is not under any obligation to purchase a textbook from a university-affiliated bookstore. The same textbook may also be available from an independent retailer, including an online retailer.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Students will complete this course through independent research with days and times for meetings with the professor scheduled on a regular basis throughout the semester. All components of the research project will be submitted according to the course calendar. The following assignments are required for successful completion of the course.

Semester 1

Article Summaries –Rubric in Thesis course.
*Final Written Proposal –Rubric in Thesis course.
Oral Proposal Defense –Rubric in Thesis course.
IRB Submission – Pass/Fail

Semester 2

Data Collection – Pass/Fail
Submission of Raw Data and Statistical Analysis Output to Thesis Chair – Pass/Fail

All assignments must be written in a student’s own words. No credit will be awarded for quoted, plagiarized, or AI generated material on any assignment. Quoting or paraphrasing that closely mirrors the source (textbook or other reference material) will receive no credit even if properly cited. Students must write original sentences conveying the information they have learned to the reader (i.e., paraphrasing) and properly cite the source of the information to receive credit for writing. Creating one’s own written explanations for concepts facilitates encoding in the brain. As such, a human will be reading and responding to all student communications, so it is expected that a human will be writing all assignments. The use of chatbots to write assignments for students will be considered a violation of academic honesty. Students are encouraged to use chatbots and other online tools to learn information to extend their understanding of content beyond the textbook, but students should not use chatbots to write information for course assignments for them. Online tools should be used to learn, not circumvent learning.

All assignments should be written in proper APA style. Students must follow the APA style guidelines provided in the Publication Manual and use online style resources provided by the American Psychological Association (www.apastyle.org). For final thesis formatting, the TAMUCT Thesis Manual takes precedence over APA style.

Grading Criteria Rubric and Conversion

All requirements for the Semester 1 or Semester 2 Thesis courses must be completed successfully before the student can be awarded credit for the Thesis courses. Until all assignments for each semester are completed successfully, students will be assigned an IP grade for the course(s) if they are making satisfactory progress toward project completion or a U grade if they are not making satisfactory progress toward project completion. Students are required to remain enrolled in a Thesis course until all assignments are completed, and no guarantee is implied that the thesis can be completed in two semesters though students should work diligently to meet this expectation. A final grade of S will be awarded for 3 credit hours of PSYC 5198 when the proposal is completed and successfully defended, and a final grade of S will be awarded for the remaining thesis hours when the final thesis is completed and successfully defended. Six hours of S grades in thesis coursework reflecting completion of the entire thesis project are required.

Rubrics for all assignments are located in the thesis course in the learning management system. Awarding final credit for the thesis courses will be based on a pass/fail grading system in accordance with the policies and set forth by the Graduate School.

Posting of Grades

All feedback will be sent via the class Inbox after the assignment is received. The professor will read, provide comments, and record grades within 5 business days of receiving the assignment. The student should not hesitate to ask the professor about any grade or concern.

University Writing Center

Located in Warrior Hall 416 and online, the University Writing Center (UWC) at Texas A&M University–Central Texas (A&M–Central Texas) is a free service open to all A&M–Central Texas students. The face-to-face hours of operation are from 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. Monday and Thursday in Warrior Hall 416. Online tutoring is available Monday thru Thursday from 10:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. and from 6:00-9:00 p.m. and on Saturdays from 12:00-3:00 p.m.

Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WCOonline [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC, need any assistance with scheduling, or would like to schedule a recurring appointment with your favorite tutor.

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].
