Catalog course description:

Learning outcomes (LO): Upon satisfactory completion of this course, students will:

Course Objectives:

1. Demonstrate fundamental knowledge and comprehension of basic statistical analyses (descriptives, t-tests, ANOVAs, Chi-squared, correlations, and linear regression) as they commonly appear in psychological research.
2. Use quantitative reasoning to interpret basic analyses in research findings concerning psychological phenomena.
3. Demonstrate basic understanding of at least one web-based tool for designing and conducting psychological research (e.g., Qualtrics). (2) Practice connecting research design with basic statistical analyses.
4. Demonstrate understanding of the strengths and weaknesses of using particular statistical methods in a research context, distinctions between hypothesis test result and effect size, interpretation of test outcomes, conclusions are supported by data.
5. Demonstrate competence in writing basic survey questions and psychological research results, especially writing about statistical analyses in APA style.
6. Demonstrate the specific skill of performing basic statistical analyses (descriptives, t-tests, ANOVAs, Chi-squared, correlations, and linear regression) using statistical software and making appropriate empirical inferences from the analyses.

Learning Evaluation Methods:

Assignments (30%): During every week that does not have a quiz, an assignment will be given over the material that is covered during that week (17 assignments total). These assignments will be completed on Canvas in between class periods.

Content of Assignments: The assignments in this course will be a combination of content from the textbook as well as data analysis. Before an assignment, the students will be given an opportunity to practice the data analysis in the classroom.

Turning in Assignments: The assignments will be due on the indicated date (see the schedule below) It is recommended that students begin the assignments a few days before the due date so that they may be able to get help if needed.

Assignment Safety Net: If a student makes a legitimate effort on an assignment and receives below a 70, the instructor may give the student the grade of a 70 for the effort. However,

Quizzes (45%): After completing 3-4 chapters of materials, students will take a quiz over what they have learned (5 quizzes total). These quizzes will have approximately 40-50 questions and will be comprised of both multiple choice and fill in the blank questions. Each quiz will require students to analyze data during the quiz.

Participation (10%):

Quest Assignments (20): To practice data analyses, these specialized assignments are require students to download and analyze data to answer questions correctly without any penalty for incorrect answers. However, students must answer every question correctly to complete the assignment and get credit. These assignments may be completed during or outside of class time (especially for those enrolled in the online section of the course, but time will be allocated in class so that students can get help from the instructor as well as their classmates.

Discussion Post: Especially for the students who are in the online course section, this one post is just for introducing yourself to the class.

Quiz Reflections (2): To help students critically about their performance on the first two quizzes, this assignment asks questions concerning processes with the goal of improving on the subsequent quizzes.

Lab Assignments (15%): Your lab assignments will be where you bring the things that we will learn in the classroom into the real world. For this lab, you will be learning about how to use web-based software (Qualtrics) to create surveys. You will also learn about how to effectively communicate statistical results in APA style.

Final course grades will follow the system below:

A = 90.00+ total points, B = 80.00-89.99 points, C = 70.00-79.99 points, D = 62.00-69.99 points, F = 61.99 or fewer points

INSTRUCTOR POLICIES

Late Work Policy. The assignments in this course are intended to be completed in a sequential fashion. In the years I have taught this class, I have learned that the worst thing you can do is get behind. But I know it happens. So here is my policy. When work is turned in after the due date, 10% will be deducted per day the assignment is late. However, there is one caveat. If your assignment is not turned in at the time and date it is due, you need to fill out this form \(link is also available in Canvas\) within 24 hours of the due date that includes four questions. First, it will ask about the specific assignment(s). You may fill out the form for more than one assignment, as long as the assignments are due on the same day.

Second, it asks about what prevented you from turning it in on time. You do not have to be super specific, just give me something to help me understand the situation. Third, the form asks for how you plan on avoiding the problem from question one in the future. Finally, the form asks for your specific plan for getting it turned in, including the date I should expect it to be completed. If you have answered these questions satisfactorily, I may reduce or remove the late penalty for your grade.

Research Participation

Research Experience Requirement: Students in selected psychology courses (PSYC 3307, PSYC 3409, PSYC 3312, PSYC 3430, PSYC 4320) are required to engage in research experience activities as part of the course. The research experience activity involves writing summaries of peer reviewed research articles that are related to the course content. Faculty will identify which articles can be reviewed for their course, and article reviews can be submitted directly to the faculty for evaluation.

If students choose not to write article summaries, they can complete an alternative research experience by participating in research studies directly related to psychology to gain this experience.

Sign Up for Alternative Research Experience: To receive credit for this alternate research experience activity, students must create an account in SONA. The university SONA account is where students will sign up to participate in research projects (<https://tamuct.sona-systems.com>). Students should view the introductory tutorial video before using SONA (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=\_1OnT2ZU6QQ) and be sure to use their university email when signing up. Students who have problems signing up for SONA or have questions should contact the professor of the course.

Credits: Students are required to complete 3 research experience credits in this course. Credit is allotted as follows:

- 1 credit for each summary of a peer-reviewed, research article OR
- 1 credit for each hour (60 minutes) of research participation (in-person or online)
- 1/2 credit for each 1/2 hour (30 minutes) of research participation (in-person or online)

Students can use a combination of article summaries and alternative research assignments to earn their credits. There is no guarantee that there will be sufficient research participation opportunities for students to earn 100% of their credits from this alternative research experience.

Students who drop a class after having earned research experience credit cannot apply any accumulated credit from that class towards future semesters without the documented approval of the department chair; however, credits in SONA can be transferred from one course to another in the same semester. Credits from previous semesters are not permitted to be transferred for current semester use.

Penalties: Any student who has not earned all required research credits prior to the end of the semester will be penalized 1 letter grade on the final course grade

OPTIONAL POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html].

If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online

[https://cm.maxient.com/reportingform.php?TAMUCentralTexas&layout_id=2].
