

PSYC 4305-110 Social Psychology
Summer 2023
Texas A&M University-Central Texas

COURSE DATES, MODALITY, AND LOCATION

June 5 – July 28, 2023

This course is an online asynchronous course, which will be conducted through the A&M-Central Texas Canvas Learning Management System [<https://tamuct.instructure.com/>].

INSTRUCTOR AND CONTACT INFORMATION

Instructor: Madelynn Shell, Ph.D.

Office: Warrior Hall 318H

Email: mshell@tamuct.edu

Phone: 254-501-5879

Office Hours: I am generally available for student meetings Monday through Friday 9-3. Meetings will be held online via Microsoft Teams, unless arranged otherwise. You can sign up for a time that works for you via bookings or by following the QR code. Once you sign up, you will be emailed a link to the meeting. Please feel free to contact me via email if we need to arrange an alternate form of communication.

Student-instructor interaction

Learning is best fostered when open lines of communication are maintained among students and between students and the instructor. You are always encouraged to contact me via email at mshell@tamuct.edu. I will check for messages daily M-F. I will do my best to respond to you within 48 hours. I will also create a discussion boards for you to pose general class questions to your colleagues. This is often a good place for students to help each other find the answers to course-relevant questions. Please remember to maintain appropriate decorum in these interactions. During my posted office hours I can meet with you via Microsoft Teams. If you need to meet with me outside of my regularly scheduled office hours, just let me know and we can find a time.

Participation and Attendance

In an asynchronous online class, you have flexibility as to when you choose to login to the class each week, but you will be expected to log on at least once per week, and generally will need to log on multiple times per week. This will keep you on track working your way through the course material, and ensures that you remain engaged in the course.

How to succeed in this class

Remember that in three credit a face to face class in the long semester, you'd spend approximately 3 hours per week in class, plus another 3 hours per week on reading, assignments, or prep work (so a total of 6 hours per week in the long semester). The same amount of time is expected in an online course. Because this class takes place over 8 weeks instead of 16, that means that you should plan to spend at least 12 hours per week on this course.

In order to succeed in this online format you need to be sure to do several things. (1) Stay on top of the material. Do the readings and watch the lectures early so you have plenty of time to make sure you understand. (2) Do the assignments! These are there to help you and are a significant part of your grade. They are your opportunity to engage with the material as we would during class time in a face to face class. (3) Ask questions (and read the answers)! In addition to emailing me, there is a question forum designed to help you feel comfortable asking questions and to help you learn from others' questions. Check this often to help with challenges.

If you are experiencing trouble in the course: Contact me immediately! If you are struggling with the early assignments or tests, please take the initiative to talk to me about how to make things better. Do not be embarrassed – I am here to help you.

Technology Notes

Integrating technology into academic training is important to help prepare you for the increasing demands in the educated workforce for individuals with technological proficiency. Because this is an online course, you will need to ensure you have access to the apps and programs listed below.

1. CANVAS: This course is conducted through the College's Learning Management System (LMS), called Canvas. To access the site, go to <https://tamuct.instructure.com/>.
2. EMAIL: You are always encouraged to contact me via e-mail with any questions or concerns that you may have. In order to help me respond effectively and efficiently to your emails, I ask that you follow a few guidelines: (1) Please send email and reply to my e-mails from your TAMUCT account. Email from other accounts often go to my junk folder. (2) Check the syllabus and Canvas first to see if your question can be answered by resources already provided. (3) Please use appropriate etiquette when you email and I will do the same in return: (a) begin with a greeting; (b) state who you are and which class/section you are in; (c) end with an appropriate signature.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Assignments and Evaluations

(a) Course activities (4 activities x 5 points each = 20 points): In There will be a series of small assignments designed to facilitate the course, assess your perspectives, and evaluate your own performance. You can take the Syllabus Quiz multiple times to score full credit and ensure you understand course requirements. All other activities will be graded based on completion (i.e., there are no wrong answers when giving your own perspective).

(b) Discussion forum assignments (15 forums x 12 points each = 180 points): You will have a total of 15 discussion forums (roughly one per chapter) in which you will reply to a prompt and then respond to your classmates' posts. These posts will provide evidence that you understand and have thought critically about the material. Most forum posts are written posts and should be at least 6-8 sentences. However, a few forums (labeled VIDEO FORUM) will require that you record and post a video response instead. Video forum responses should be approximately 3-5 minutes. They MUST have a recorded audio response to the questions listed and some kind of visual component. This can just be your audio and video with no extra graphics, or your audio and video along with graphics/slides/animations, or your audio and graphics/slides/animations (no video of your face). This must be something that YOU create for this assignment (it cannot be a video from Youtube, TikTok, or other sources made by someone else). It doesn't need to be over-rehearsed or well-produced, but I will be looking for genuine and thorough responses to the question. You will receive a 30% deduction on any forum if your initial response is not the correct format.

Many of the prompts will have multiple questions to include in your responses. You must answer all of the questions completely in order to get full credit. In addition, you must substantively respond to at least two others' posts in a timely manner and engage in in-depth, multi-post discussions. For video forums, replies to peers can via video or typed post. You can earn up to 10 points for each initial post, and another 2 points for responses. Posts will be graded on the rubric below (and it is also posted with each assignment).

Criteria	Poor	Good	Excellent
Thoroughly addresses all parts of the questions/assignments	1 points	3 point	4 points
Post clearly demonstrates reflection, critical thinking, and analysis of the topic.	1 points	3 point	4 points
Professional communication and etiquette. No spelling or grammatical errors.	0 points	1 point	2 points
Substantively responds to at least two others' posts in a timely manner and engages in in-depth, multi-post discussions	0 points	1 point	2 points

Your initial posts will be due on Thursday at 11:59 pm. This ensures that others will have time to read and respond to your posts. Unless otherwise noted, responses are due on Sunday at 11:59 pm. Late work will not be accepted.

(b) Tests (4 tests x 50 points each = 200 points): There will be four exams which will assess content knowledge and comprehension of the material, your ability to apply the concepts that you have learned to novel problems, and analytic and critical thinking skills about the theories and research that we have discussed. Unless otherwise noted, tests will be due on Sunday at 11:59 pm. Tests will cover reading and any additional materials on Canvas and will consist primarily of multiple choice questions, along with several essay questions. Please note that the tests are available on Canvas from the beginning of the semester, therefore there are no excuses for missing a test.

(c) Final Project - Presentation (100 points): Students will select a topic on which to do more in-depth research, then will develop and record a presentation (including slides and narration) on their topic. The presentation will include a definition of the topic and overview of research on the topic. The presentation should also include a discussion of real-world application or cultural impact of the phenomenon being studied (i.e., it should be more than just a list of definitions of concepts). Example topics include things like confirmation bias and jury decisions, the influence of learned helplessness on test taking, or how attitude polarization can influence political extremism. Students will start with the concept (confirmation bias, learned helplessness, attitude polarization), review the social psychology literature on the topic, and then apply what they learned to the real-world scenario.

The final presentation should be 8-10 slides and the recording should be approximately 10 minutes (no more than 12), and must include a minimum of 5 peer-reviewed journal articles. APA style should be used within the slides to cite your sources, and a final References slide with full citations should be included.

Throughout the course you will have several assignments leading up to this:

1. Topic proposal – 5 points
2. PDF copies of articles – 5 points
3. Annotated bibliography – 10 points
4. Final presentation – 80 points

Posting of Grades

All students' grades will be posted in the Canvas Grade Center after the assignment due date has passed. On the writing assignments, the professor will begin reading, grading, and recording grades after they are due and will have all grades posted within approximately one week. Students should regularly monitor their grades in the Canvas Grade Center, and students should not hesitate to ask the professor about any grade or concern.

Grading Scale

Grades are not 'given' in this course; they are earned. Students earn grades by actively utilizing course content to learn the material and by demonstrating their grasp of subject-matter content on written assignments. Grades are determined based on the percentage of points earned on each assignment and the assignment's weight toward the overall course grade.

Grade	University Definition	Percentage
A	Excellent	90-100
B	Good	80-89
C	Fair	70-79
D	Passing	60-69
F	Failing	59 or below

Grading Policies

Students are responsible for meeting the course requirements as scheduled for each module in the course calendar. Assignments will generally be due Sunday evenings at 11:59pm, unless noted otherwise. If you turn in an assignment after the due date, you will receive a grade reduction of 10% for each day it is late (with a maximum reduction of 30%). However, no late work will be accepted for assignments turned in more than 7 days past its due date. This policy may be waived with my permission if you have a personal emergency and contact me within 24 hours of the due date. In order to request an extension, please email me at mshell@tamuct.edu with the following information: 1. Course name and number, 2. Assignment name and due date, 3. What prevented you from completing the assignment on time, 4. When the assignment will be completed (date and time), and 5. How you will avoid the problem in the future.

Since writing, analytical, and critical thinking skills are part of the learning outcomes of this course, and writing assignments are designed help you learn the material, all writing assignments should be prepared by you. Developing strong competencies in this area will prepare you for a competitive workplace. Therefore, AI-generated submissions are not permitted and will be treated as plagiarism. Likewise, no credit will be awarded for quoted or plagiarized material on any assignment. Quoting or paraphrasing that closely mirrors the source (textbook or other reference material) will receive no credit even if properly cited. Students must write original sentences conveying the information they have learned to the reader (i.e., paraphrasing) and properly cite the source of the information to receive credit for writing.

All assignments should be written in proper APA style. Students must follow the APA style guidelines provided in the Publication Manual and use online style resources provided by the American Psychological Association at www.apastyle.org.

This is a rough outline and it may vary for a number of reasons. I recommend that you read the chapter BEFORE completing the assignments. Initial forum posts are due Thursdays at 11:59, and all other assignments are due on Sundays at 11:59pm unless otherwise noted.

University Writing Center

University Writing Center: For the summer semesters, all University Writing Center (UWC) tutoring services are entirely online. The hours of operation are from 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday with additional hours Monday through Thursday nights from 6:00-9:00 p.m. The UWC is also offering hours from 12:00-3:00 p.m. on Saturdays.

Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WCOOnline [https://tamuct.mywconline.com/]. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC, need any assistance with scheduling, or would like to schedule a recurring appointment with your favorite tutor.

OTHER POLICY STATEMENTS

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M-Central Texas

Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling (254-501-5955) located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L).

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage [<https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html>].
