Student-instructor interaction:

This is a 100% asynchronous online course. On most days I'll check the course's Canvas page, and I'll check my email daily during the week and periodically on weekends; I'll usually reply to emails within two business days. We can meet via the MS Teams. Contact me by sending an email from your A&M Central Texas student email to my faculty email to let up me know some times that you can meet. I'll set up the Teams meeting based on those; please reply to accept your scheduled appointment time. I'd recommend setting the Canvas notifications to inform you about anything made available or changed for the course else or checking the course in Canvas frequently (at least 3 times during the week). On Sundays nights before 7:00 pm I'll update any relevant information for the upcoming week such as announcements, assignments, discussion forums, or other course information, so checking after that time is a good idea.

LO2. Demonstrate the development of intellectual and critical thinking skills to evaluate ideas, arguments, and points of view. Students will respond to others' writing (including that of peers and experts in the field) on topics related to physiological psychology and substantiate their points of view with theory and research. Students will demonstrate their ability to evaluate ideas critically in discussion forum threads, the group PPT presentation, and research article reviews.

LO3. Demonstrate skill in expressing oneself in writing or visually. Using correct APA style and appropriate use of sources, students will write posts to class discussions and replies to other students' posts, a group PPT presentation, and research article reviews.

Required manual: American Psychological Association. (2020). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.). (ISBN: 978-1-4338-3216-1)

Course format/ attendance and late work policies:

Because our course is set up as a seminar, I won't post lectures and you'll need to keep up with the reading for each week. The MindTap materials for the Kalat textbook are available for the course as additional student learning materials but it is not required that you use them. All course materials except the textbook will be available through Canvas, including links for you to upload your coursework, but most work or materials will be made available when appropriate rather than being available for the whole semester. Students are expected to be able to find all relevant work and materials on the course Canvas pages and to use Canvas to submit all work. Check out the Course Overview page in the General course information and materials module for general information about the coursework. Make sure to consult and to review the syllabus periodically and contact me if you have any questions about work or materials. There is no comprehensive final exam for this course. Due to the short duration of 8-week classes, late work will not be accepted except in extreme cases, so plan carefully to get all work in on time. If you miss a deadline, email me right away to let me know why the work wasn't turned in, but DO NOT include any coursework in your email. I'll respond as soon as possible to let you know what to do about the missing work. ALL work submitted to me through EMAIL will be deleted unless that has been specifically arranged with me beforehand. You will want to keep up; that is especially important in case something comes up that makes it difficult to get work done on a specific day. If you want to turn in any coursework early, that's fine, but be aware that it will probably not be graded until after the due date. ONLY WORK THAT IS SUBMITTED NO LATER than 11:59 pm on July 28 will be counted toward your course grade.

To contact me, use my tamuct.edu email address; emails sent through Canvas's message system will be deleted. To contact your classmates, use the email addresses given in the Introduction discussion forum (Discussion forum 1) or ask general questions to the class using the Classmate Questions discussion forum (Discussion forum 0).

Academic Accommodations: At Texas A&M University-Central Texas, we value an inclusive learning environment where every student has an equal chance to succeed and has the right to a barrier-free education. The Warrior Center for Student Success, Equity and Inclusion is responsible for ensuring that students with a disability receive equal access to the university's programs, services, and activities. If you believe you have a disability requiring reasonable accommodations, please contact the Office of Access and Inclusion, WH-212; or call (254) 501-5836. Any information you provide is private and confidential and will be treated as such. For more information please visit our Access & Inclusion Canvas Community page (log-in required) at <https://tamuct.instructure.com/courses/717> or, when logged into Canvas, click on Courses on the blue lefthand menu, then choose Access and Inclusion for Students.

Academic integrity and classroom conduct policy:

A&M Central Texas values the integrity of the academic enterprise and strives for the highest standards of academic conduct. A&M Central Texas expects its students, faculty, and staff to support the adherence to high standards of personal and scholarly conduct to preserve the honor and integrity of the creative community. Any deviation by students from this expectation may result in a failing grade for the assignment and potentially a failing grade for the course. All academic misconduct concerns will be referred to the university's Office of Student Conduct. Ignorance of the university's standards and expectations is never an excuse to act with a lack of integrity. More information about academic integrity can be found at <https://www.tamuct.edu/student-affairs/student-conduct.html>.

When in doubt on collaboration, citation, or any issue, contact your instructor before taking a course of action. If you know of potential honor violations by other students, you may submit a report at this address: [<https://cm.maxient.com/reporting.php?TAMUCentralTexas>].

Note: Only discussion forums and group PPT presentations are specifically designed to be done in collaboration with other students. All other work must be completed individually without help on the content from others except the course instructor. You can get help on format and editing (but not content) of coursework from the University Writing Center. For postings on the discussion forums, please be respectful of the ideas and opinions of all class members; inappropriate language and interactions may lead to being blocked for the rest of the semester from the discussion forums and the loss of related points. As graduate students, you'll be held to a higher standard for independence and integrity than undergraduates. To get the most out of this class and all your classes, treat them like a job; keep up with coursework and take responsibility for your own work. If you respect other class members and your instructor, you should do fine.

The timing of grade posting depends on the complexity of the assignment and on the feedback necessary to improve future work. Most grades will be posted within 4-5 business days of the due date for the work. Students should regularly monitor their assignment grades in the Gradebook and should not hesitate to ask the professor about any grade or coursework concern. Students should also review all grade comments in the Gradebook when grades are posted to see what worked well and what more is needed for subsequent coursework. Note that, due to its general inaccuracy, I've disabled student access to view the total course grade info in Canvas; contact me by email any time you want to set up a MS-Teams (or in-person) meeting if you have questions about your current course grade.

APA format: Although some students may not be familiar with APA format, it is critical for reading and writing in psychology and counseling, so I want to help you practice using it. This course requires ALL WORK to meet standards of the 7th edition, published in October 2019; all relevant grading rubrics include an APA format component.

TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS AND SUPPORT

Technology Requirements: For this course, you need reliable and frequent access to a computer and to the Internet; it is recommended that you use a wired (not wireless) connection to access and submit coursework. Technology issues are not an excuse for missing a course requirement or late submission of work; make sure your computer is configured correctly and address issues well in advance of deadlines. If you use non-Microsoft Office programs or a non-PC computer for coursework, you'll need to save your coursework in the comparable Microsoft and PC format for submission through Canvas (e.g., Word or PowerPoint) so I can open it.

University Writing Center: During the Summer 2023 semester, the UWC will be operating entirely online, with tutors available Monday-Thursday from 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. (starting Monday, June 5th), Monday-Thursday from 6:00-9:00 p.m. (starting Thursday, June 8th), and Saturday from 12:00-3:00 p.m. (starting Saturday, June 17th).

Tutors are prepared to help writers of all levels and abilities at any stage of the writing process. While tutors will not write, edit, or grade papers, they will assist students in developing more effective composing practices. By providing a practice audience for students' ideas and writing, our tutors highlight the ways in which they read and interpret students' texts, offering guidance and support throughout the various stages of the writing process. In addition, students may work independently in the UWC by checking out a laptop that runs the Microsoft Office suite and connects to WIFI, or by consulting our resources on writing, including all of the relevant style guides. Whether you need help brainstorming ideas, organizing an essay, proofreading, understanding proper citation practices, or just want a quiet place to work, the UWC is here to help!

Students may arrange a one-to-one session with a trained and experienced writing tutor by making an appointment via WOnline at <https://tamuct.mywconline.com>. In addition, you can email Dr. Bruce Bowles Jr. at bruce.bowles@tamuct.edu if you have any questions about the UWC, need any assistance with scheduling, or would like to schedule a recurring appointment with your favorite tutor.

University Library: The University Library & Archives provides many services in support of research across campus and at a distance. We offer over 350 electronic databases containing approximately 631,525 eBooks and 75,149 journals, in addition to the 97,443 items in our print collection, which can be mailed to students who live more than 50 miles from campus. Research guides for each subject taught at A&M-Central Texas are available through our website to help students navigate these resources. On campus, the library offers technology including cameras, laptops, microphones, webcams, and digital sound recorders.

Research assistance from a librarian is also available 24 hours a day through our online chat service, and at the reference desk when the library is open. Research sessions can be scheduled for more comprehensive assistance and may take place virtually through WebEx, Microsoft Teams, or in-person at the library. Schedule an appointment at <https://tamuct.libcal.com/appointments> . Assistance may cover many topics, including how to find articles in peer-reviewed journals, how to cite resources, and how to piece together research for written assignments.

Our 27,000-square-foot facility on the A&M-Central Texas main campus includes student lounges, private study rooms, group workspaces, computer labs, family areas suitable for all ages, and many other features. Services such as interlibrary loan, TexShare, binding, and laminating are available. The library frequently offers workshops, tours, readings, and other events. For more information, please visit our Library website at <http://tamuct.libguides.com/index> .

A Note about Sexual Violence at A&M Central Texas: Sexual violence is a serious safety, social justice, and public health issue. The university offers support for anyone struggling with these issues. University faculty are mandated reporters, so if someone discloses that they were sexually assaulted (or a victim of Domestic/Dating Violence or Stalking) while a student at TAMUCT, faculty members are required to inform the Title IX Office. If you want to discuss any of these issues confidentially, you can do so through Student Wellness and Counseling, located on the second floor of Warrior Hall (207L), or call 254-501-5955.

Sexual violence can occur on our campus because predators often feel emboldened, and victims often feel silenced or shamed. It is incumbent on ALL of us to find ways to actively create environments that tell predators we don't agree with their behaviors and tell survivors we will support them. Your actions matter. Don't be a bystander; be an agent of change. For additional information on campus policy and resources visit the Title IX webpage at <https://www.tamuct.edu/compliance/titleix.html> .

Behavioral Intervention: Texas A&M University Central Texas cares about the safety, health, and well-being of its students, faculty, staff, and community. If you are aware of individuals for whom you have a concern, please make a referral to the Behavioral Intervention Team. Referring your concern shows you care. You can complete the referral online at <https://cm.maxient.com/reporting.php?TAMUCentralTexas>.

Anonymous referrals are accepted. For more information, please see the Behavioral Intervention Team website at <https://www.tamuct.edu/bit>. If a person's behavior poses an imminent threat to you or another, contact 911 or A&M Central Texas University Police at 254-501-5805.
